500 Expected At Banquet For Hearnes

Bill Paylor, Scott county March of Dimes chairman, said today that more than 500 are expected to attend a March of Dimes appreciation dinner tonight for Gov. Warren E. Hearnes at the American Legion Hall at 7 p.m.

The dinner also will honor Mrs. Warren Hearnes, 1966 honorary Mothers March chairman, and Lt. Gov. Thomas F. Eagleton, 1966 honorary state chairman of the campaign.

Eagleton and Jack Buck, St. Louis, sports broadcaster, who will be master of ceremonies, were expected to arrive at 3:45 p.m. today at the airport.

Governor and Mrs. Hearnes also were expected to arrive by plane this afternoon.

The proceeds from the $10 per plate dinner will go to the Southeast Missouri chapter of the March of Dimes.

Johnson Gay At Big Party

WASHINGTON AP — President Johnson entertained Congress at a big White House party Thursday night, bestowing handshakes, kisses, pats on the backs and glowing commendations.

He said he "never felt better in his life" and twirled on the dance floor with his red-gowned wife to the tune of "Red Roses for a Blue Lady."

It was bipartisanship at its best and Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois led the Marine Band in a rendition of "Danny Boy."

Wheels Snag On Tokyo Port Lights

TOKYO (AP) — Landing in fog, a giant DC8 jet of the Canadian Pacific Airline caught its wheels in the approach lights at Tokyo International Airport tonight and smashed into a retaining wall.

Police said at least 56 of the 71 persons aboard were killed.

A police tabulation showed six others were missing and presumed dead, leaving nine survivors. Jesse Zousmer, a vice president of the American Broadcasting Co., was among those apparently dead, along with his wife.

The $6-million plane, bound from Hong Kong to Vancouver and South America, carried 62 passengers and a crew of nine, the Canadian Pacific said after a series of conflicting reports about the number aboard.

The four-engine plane ripped a 20-yard section from the breakwater wall at the edge of the runway and scattered flaming wreckage more than 1,000 yards down the runway.

Seven survivors were pulled from the plane but one died after being rushed to a hospital, police said.

Eight Arrests In City Thursday

Eight persons were arrested Thursday by police:

Ralph M Rudisill, route two, charged with careless and imprudent driving, and being involved in an accident.

William D. Gardner, 640 Branum, charged with careless and imprudent driving, and speeding.

Napoleon Pollack, 322 Luther, charged with drunkenness.

Robert Farris, Jr., Tanner street, charged with drunkenness.

Bobby Wright, 410 Dorothy, curfew violation.

Mrs. Bobby J. Welch, Dexter, failure to pay parking tickets.

Leroy Maston, Sikeston, charged with drunkenness.

William Biggs, Wyatt, charged with drunkenness.

Last Rites for Two Astronauts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. astronaut team buried one of its members in Arlington National Cemetery today and moved on to the same last rites for another. Both were killed Monday in a jet plane crash in St. Louis.

Several hundred persons gathered in a gentle rain outside the Ft. Myer, Va., chapel for Navy services for Elliot M. See Jr., 38, a civilian and former Navy pilot.

Air Force services for Maj. Charles A. Bassett II, 34, were arranged for the same place four hours later.

The two men in training for the Gemini 9 three-day orbital rendezvous mission they planned to make next May, were killed in an attempted landing at St. Louis. Their plane struck a building at the plant where Gemini spacecraft are manufactured.

Australians to Preach in Area

Six Australian ministers will preach in Sikeston, Charleston, Morehouse, and Illmo Baptist churches, as part of a statewide evangelistic campaign.

The Missouri - Australia crusade involves 75 Australian ministers and follows a crusade one year ago when Missouri ministers went on preaching tours in Australia.

Planning and direction for the crusade is by a committee of which Rev. James W. Hackney, pastor of the First Baptist church is chairman.

The six Australian ministers coming to the Bootheel will arrive in Kansas City Thursday and will hold one week meetings in Southwest Missouri before coming to Sikeston area March 20-27.

Churches in the Sikeston area and their Australian evangelists are: First Baptist, Rev. Bill Thitchener, Epping, New South Wales; First Baptist, Charleston, Rev. R. J. Taylor, Brunswick, Victoria; Murray Lane Baptist, Rev. J. W. Fletcher, Tamworth, New South Wales; First Baptist, Morehouse, Rev. R. K. Redman, Port Moresby, New South Wales; First Baptist, Illmo, Rev. D. A. C. Taplin, Merrylands, New South Wales; and Fellowship Baptist, Sikeston, Rev. David J. The books will remain open for the county election until 28 days prior to the primary election on Aug. 2.

Lindsay Wants Big Tax Increase

NEW YORK AP -- Mayor John V. Lindsay says he wants authority to raise another $520 million a year in taxes to save New York from paralysis and decay, but he faces tough opposition in the City Council and in the state Legislature.

Lindsay said in a radio and television talk Thursday night that he will ask the Legislature on Monday for permission to impose a personal and business income tax to provide the bulk of new revenue needed to meet a record $4.5-billion budget.

At Albany, even within Lindsay's own Republican party, legislators were reported to be cool to the proposals unless the city raises its 15-cent bus and subway fare to pay part of the transit deficit.

Twitty Joins Research Unit

Lynn Twitty, superintendent of the Sikeston R-6 schools, was advised yesterday that he had been elected to a membership on the board of the Central Midwestern Regional Laboratory, Inc.

The organization is federally sponsored and established for research and development in education for an area including eastern Missouri, Southern Illinois, middle and western Tennessee and middle and western Kentucky.

The board is made up of persons from colleges and universities, and public school officials of the four state region, with the central office located in St. Louis.

A grant of $1 million for planning, has been received, with a five-year budget, estimates to run to $40 million.

The purpose is to use scholars, researchers and school administrators, to improve classroom work in secondary and elementary work.

General Asks Tactics Change

CHARLESTON -- Retired Army Major Gen. Thomas A. Lane, gave his views on the United States policy in Viet Nam Thursday night at the high school.

He said that as long as the United States government observes the rule of sanctuary not letting troops cross over into North Viet Nam territory, it will never win the war and will exhaust the nation's manpower.

"The United States government has let the Viet Cong persuade it that if we do cross the border we will expand the war," he said. In General Lane's opinion this will not happen because Communist China has limited communications and once these communications are cut off they would either surrender or we would have picked the place to fight.

"The Soviet Union will not enter the war because it doesn't want to risk a nuclear war," he said.

According to Major Lane Communist leaders are trained against adventurism. They will not take the risk of losing all of communism in the hope of gaining one small country.

General Lane says that "we should break the rule of sanctuary" and predicted that "the war would be over in six months."

"The false belief that restraint on our part will enable us to win the war only leads us deeper and deeper into war," he said. "Until we change our policy we shall continue to lose. With a million Americans we cannot defend South Viet Nam on South Viet Nam soil. We must have victory now so we can bring our boys home."

Search for More Jackson Victims

JACKSON, Miss. AP -- Rescue workers combed sparsely populated rural regions east of Jackson today, looking for more victims of the savage tornadoes which spewed death and destruction in Mississippi.

The Mississippi death toll steadily mounted during the night and stood at 57, the Mississippi Highway Patrol said. One person was reported killed in neighboring Alabama.

Larry Parks of broadcast station WQFT-FM at Forest, in Scott County, said many homes "are just gone... and the people in them are missing, too."

In Jackson, the state's largest city and capital, a tornado dealt death and devastation in a suburban shopping center. At least 12 persons were killed.

Nearby, the modern brick Woodville Heights Baptist church looked like it had exploded. Homes across the street were untouched.

A patrol spokesman said 411 were injured in Jackson and rural counties to the east of the capital city.

One of the tornado victims was Joe Bullock, a Democratic candidate for Congress in Mississippi's 4th District. Bullock, recently ousted as director of the state's Agriculture and Industrial Board, was killed instantly, the Highway Patrol said, when the twister blew his car off the road near the Forkville community in Scott County.

Damage was expected to run into the millions from the state's worst natural disaster since a 1942 tornado left 75 dead in central and northwest Mississippi.

"I think we'll find more dead," said Deputy Sheriff Bob Fasano.

Officers also feared more bodies would turn up in Scott County, to the east of Jackson.

The line of tornadoes moved eastward into west-central Alabama during the night. In Alabama 11 were injured.

An Air Force Reserve C119 transport flew into Jackson shortly after midnight, bringing two mobile Red Cross disaster trucks and 20 pints of rare blood from Mobile, Ala.

Much of the destruction in Jackson, the state's largest city with a quarter of a million people, was centered around the Candlestick Park shopping center at the southwest edge of the city. The Highway Patrol said 12 persons were killed in the shopping center.

One wall of a supermarket and a service station wall were all that remained standing in the center.

Other funnels stabbed out of boiling, black clouds near Greenwood, Miss., leaving a few smashed homes and uprooted trees, but no injuries.

In Ranklin County's industrial area, the Knox glass works, Continental Can Co. plant and Jackson Tile Co. plant were wrecked.

A 12-year-old boy was killed in the county when the whirling winds plucked him from a bicycle and slammed him against a fence.

Guatemala in Bitter Campaign

GUATEMALA CITY AP — A bitter election campaign is drawing to a close in Guatemala with two of the three presidential candidates warning that "another Santo Domingo" could develop.

In the election on Sunday Guatemalans also will elect a vice president, 54 members of the National Assembly and more than 300 mayors and municipal councils.

General Dies

MEMPHIS, Tenn. AP -- Brig. Gen. W. A. Danielson, 81, who directed construction of more than $200 million in Army facilities during his 35-year military career, died Thursday.

Planes Attack Railway Line

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. pilots resumed attacks on the railway line linking Hanoi with Red China Thursday in one phase of the war's greatest display of air power against Communist targets in North and South Viet Nam.

"It was our maximum effort," a spokesman said today.

In the ground war, two battalions of U.S. Marines reported hard fighting with a Viet Cong force of about the same size eight miles northwest of Quang Ngai, 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

A Marine jet attack bomber and two helicopters supporting the ground forces were shot down.

Heart Fails, Man Dies After Crash

Russell Burns, 52, Kennett, died from a heart attack after being taken to the Presnell Hospital in Kennett, following a two-car crash in Kennett.

His death last night was aggravated by the accident, according to the state highway patrol. He was found slumped over the steering wheel of his car.

He was driving a 1960 Ford on highway 84, at the city limits, last night at 7:15 p.m., when he ran into the rear of a 1966 Pontiac, driven by Maurice Ward, 51, also of Kennett, who had halted at a stop sign.

Ward was not injured.

Paper Mill Plans Told

PORTAGEVILLE -- Delta New Madrid Paper Corporation, officials discussed obtaining a large paper mill for New Madrid at a meeting here last night.

Attendance was held down by rain but stock pledges were taken.

Sam L. Hunter Jr., director of the corporation, presided, with the Rev. Jessie Layton, pastor of the Methodist church, giving the invocation. Mayor Joe Christian, welcomed the visitors.

W. R. Phillips Jr., president, told about the proposed plant and Hal E. Hunter Jr., secretary, explained the role of the EBS Management Corporation, with offices in Chicago, Ill.

Glen Speidel, regional manager and director of the EBS corporation, outlined the plans, followed by a question and answer period.

Delta New Madrid Corporation directors met today to decide on dates when they would appear in Malden and Sikeston, to discuss the plant. More than $150,000 of the $300,000 stock goal has been purchased before an April 1, deadline.

Scientist Dies

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. AP -- Murray Raney, 80, of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., noted scientist whose development of catalysts earned him worldwide recognition, died Thursday of injuries suffered in a traffic accident Tuesday.

5,177 Road Signs

There are 5,177 signs of all sizes, located on the 949 miles primary highway system in division 10 of the state highway department.

A survey made in the 12-county division by highway personnel showed that there were 179 salvage and junkyards along the highways.

A statewide survey is being completed to show the number of signs and junkyards to comply with the new federal highway beautification law. Reports are being made of all signs that are within 660 feet of the right-of-way and junkyards within 1,000 feet, according to W. D. Carney, district 10 engineer.

The regulations are for federal highways while the Missouri law is for within 200 feet on the right-of-way.

Compliance is necessary to qualify for maximum federal highway aid effective in January of 1968.

Aid will be reduced 10 per cent if the state does not comply.

Missouri now receives $100,000,000 annually in federal highway funds.

The report on the 12 counties, miles, signs and junkyards respectively are:

Bollinger--96.01, 361, 10.
Butler--82.56, 875, 41.
Cape Girardeau--96.88, 595, 7.
Dunklin--90.02, 553, 22.
Madison--50.16, 283, 8.
Mississippi--65.65, 299, 6.
New Madrid--87.42, 434, 10.
Pemiscot--61.68, 323, 12.
Ripley--58.08, 266, 33.
Scott--89.75, 474, 7.
Stoddard--90.24, 387, 15.
Wayne--81.85, 327, 8.

New Move To Check War

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new move to put Congress on record against a broadening of the Viet Nam war was launched today as the debate moved into the dollars and cents stage.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., announced he will try to tack a policy rider on the emergency $415-million foreign aid authorization now before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

FIRE DESTROYED the home of the J. R. Myers family, a half-mile east of Matthews junction on highway 80. All possessions were lost. The family is now making their home in quarters provided on the Castor Alsup farm, north of the destroyed home. Friends and neighbors have come to the rescue and provided them with the necessary furniture and clothing for the family of six, after an appeal by the Sikeston welfare office.

Head Start Details Announced

Details of the federal Head Start program for pre-school children beginning March 15 were announced today.

Each child to be enrolled must be accompanied by his parent or guardian Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Lincoln school or Tanner Street Church of God educational building.

Requirements for enrollment are:

The child must be six years old on or before Sept. 15, 1966.

Children from families whose annual income is less than $3,000 will receive first consideration.

Parents must bring their child's birth certificate and immunization record.

Children, who are now enrolled in private kindergarten, will not be considered unless their total family income is less than $3,000.

If enrollment vacancies occur, a small percentage of children may be enrolled who do not meet the age or family income requirements.

Classes will begin at 9:15 a.m. and will be dismissed at 1:15 p.m.

Children will be served milk and cookies at their morning milk break and will receive class A hot lunches at noon. Buses will be routed throughout the school district to centers where groups of children live. Each child also will receive medical, immunizations, dental examinations and laboratory analyses. The children will receive the instruction, food, and medical services at no cost.

Mrs. Phoebe Rowe will direct the program but the rest of the faculty was not announced.

Charleston Annexation Suit Under Study

CHARLESTON -- A two-hour hearing was held last night before Roy McGhee, Piedmont, judge of the 42nd circuit, on a suit in which the city seeks a declaratory judgement to annex 450 acres surrounding the city.

Judge McGhee in circuit court took the case under advisement for a month. He was appointed to hear the case May 25 by the Missouri Supreme Court, after O. A. Reeves and his attorney, C. Frank Reeves had challenged Judge Marshall Craig, on the grounds of prejudice.

Defendants are E. A. Story and Mary Story, James J. and Ozie Reeves, Strawdia H. Lee, Joella Moore, A Vernon Goodin, J. Lanier Byrd, A. L. Story, O. A. Reeves, Mabel M. Marshall, and the S and S Grain and Storage Co.

Other persons who own land in the proposed annexation area have asked to be included in the case as defendants. These include Ellis Howlett and Sam Cox Goodin.

The city claims its growth is strangled by the lack of suitable building lots within the city limits, and the apparent unwillingness of landowners to make adjoining land available for development.

The city claimed annexation was "reasonable and necessary to proper growth and development of the city" and claimed the city has the ability to "furnish normal municipal services to the area within a reasonable time after annexation is effective."

The suit was filed May 11, 1964.

City officials gave the following information concerning growth of the city and the areas to be annexed:

Population of Charleston has grown as follows:

CENSUS	POPULATION
1900	1,893
1910	3,144
1920	3,410
1930	3,357
1940	5,182
1950	5,501
1960	5,911
1965	(est.) 6,500

The assessed valuation of the city in January, 1964, was $6,001,808. The valuation of the area to be annexed would add $240,750 to that figure.

The present area of the city is 1,040 acres of 1.62 square miles. The annexation would add 450 acres of seven-tenths of a square mile.

The population of the area to be annexed is 64 persons.

The city can supply water, sewers, street lights, fire, and police protection to the annexation area. Most of these items could be provided immediately while others could be provided as soon as easements and rights of way could be secured.

The present water and sewer plants can provide services to the new areas with no increase in bonded indebtedness. The officials said the sewer plant is operating at 60 per cent of capacity, while the water system is built for a capacity of 2 million gallons per day. Present peak load is 130,000 gallons.

The present number of city water users is 1,750 compared with a 1960 figure of 1,618.

Mail is now being delivered to 1,879 addresses in the city compared to 1,747 in 1960, 1,514 in 1956, and 1,242 in 1952.

City officials admitted there are some 400 vacant lots within the present city limits, but contend the location of most of these is not such as to encourage construction of new homes.

THE GUATEMALAN ELECTIONS

The presidential election in Guatemala on Sunday, March 6, shapes up as a phantom exercise in democracy in a nation controlled by right-wing militarists. Prospects are that the voting will be rigged to ensure victory for Col. Juan de Dios Aguilar, who has the unofficial support of the regime, or, alternatively, if the moderate candidate does win, that the army will prevent him from taking office. The moderate candidate is Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro, formerly dean of San Carlos University Law School.

The Guatemalan regime has rejected United States pleas that an Organization of American States team be invited to observe the elections. It is all that American officials can do to dissuade Guatemalan officers from staging a pre-election coup d'etat aimed at forcing cancellation of the elections.

Little has gone right in Guatemala since the Central Intelligence Agency in 1954 helped overthrow the government of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman who, American officials contended, was leading Guatemala into communism. A succession of military backed regimes have followed one another, none of them interested in tackling basic social and economic problems. Once again a strong Communist-oriented guerrilla and underground movement is stirring.

If civil war breaks out in the wake of abortive or rigged elections, the United States may well find itself called upon to save the situation. There would be a wry kind of justice in that, because it was the United States which engineered the revolt that contributed to the present explosive political condition.

TEXAN TAKEOFF

(EDITOR'S NOTE--The Valley Morning Star, published in Harlingen, Tex., takes a dim view of the "Great Society" as planned and executed by the state's most illustrious citizen, Lyndon B. Johnson. This is reflected in the Star's editorial, which follows under the heading: "Great Society Gimmicks Used To Sell Socialism." We quote:

It's getting so you don't know what to expect next from headquarters of the Great Society in Washington. Seems like the socialistic planners LBJ has on the government payroll come up with something daffy every day. Designed, of course, to provide womb-to-tomb care. Probably the best thing to do is be prepared for anything, sit back and roll with the punches. Maybe a tranquilizer would help.

Listen to this one:

The $25,638 grant the Office of Economic Opportunity has authorized for Cameron County Community Projects, Inc. (CCCP). In case you are wondering what the CCCP is, it was formed last November to get and spend federal anti-poverty funds.

What for?

Apparently, the people in the CCCP weren't exactly sure about what the money was needed for and that's where the $25,000 grant gets in the picture. The grant was announced by Sen. Ralph Yarborough who said it was made to "survey and analyze the most pressing needs in the region and to design programs to fit these needs."

So the CCCP will set up shop, look around and see what we need and go from there with money taken from taxpayers of the country by the Great Society.

It seems obvious that whatever it is that we need and are gonna get will be Something Really Big, since it will cost us $25,000 to figure out what it is.

Another thing:

If we've said it once, we've said it a hundred times: The difference between the Great Society and all its kith and kin -- New Deals, Fair Deals, New Frontiers, ad nauseum -- is that the Great Society has got money.

The New Deal started off with a lot of pith and push, but it bogged down in the hands of a dewy-eyed bunch of college professors who didn't know how to box-in a senator, blackmail a bureaucrat or hoss trade with a cabinet member.

And so it was, down the line. The Fair Deal and the New Frontier promised fantastic new programs to redesign the political landscape, but they never got humping properly because they lacked the touch of a true master.

The Sage of the Pedernales is another brand of Cat. A cool cat, you might say. He, in contrast to his predecessors, knows how to get things done.

We can only admire him.

Take the little things. Such as "Medicare Alert" in Hidalgo county.

Now, what good's a vast new social program if nobody bothers taking a piece of the action? It sort of crawls off in the corner and dies of apathy. That is not going to happen with Medicare.

The taxpayer is putting up $14,000 to hire people to recruit participants for Medicare in Hidalgo County.

This is an interesting departure in welfare-ism.

Conceivably, this practice could be extended into an infinite variety of programs. For example, we could hire people to comb the city looking for applicants for surplus food or child welfare support. We may have to sell some folks on the dole, but think of how we could swell the rolls.

This is not equating Medicare with the dole--exactly. Medicare masquerades as insurance, although we've never heard of insurance run the way Social Security and Medicare are operated.

The point, however, is not Medicare itself but the interesting new practice of recruiting clients for the benefits of the Great Society. It took a master hand to recognize that you have to use the old pizzaz to sell anything--even free benefits.

BILLBOARD BLIGHT

On March 1 the Bureau of Public Roads began a series of hearings in all 50 states on what should be in the new Federal standards for states to qualify for highway funds that depend on billboard control.

Most of the public interest is in keeping the billboard blight from the new length of interstate highway through open country. It is assumed that there will be some billboards along the part of interstate routes that run through commercial and industrial areas.

But in preparation for the state hearings the Public Roads staff has set up for discussion a set of regulations for these business areas. The talk will start on softening or hardening of such items as:

Limitation of six signs per mile on one side of the road.

At least 500 feet apart--

Sign to 30 feet or less from the ground.

Size of 300 square feet, unless the sign is more than 150 feet from the road.

Even in the industrial neighborhoods this seems to us to be more and bigger signs that have any connection whatever with the roadside beauty we have been hearing about so frequently. But these parts of the route would have little beauty to uncover if every sign was removed, and there already were signs before the superhighways came through, so such regulations may be a reasonable compromise.

But the word from Washington is that senators on the public roads subcommittee are most unhappy. They were doubtful about this part of the law when it was adopted. They seem to have thought they had pulled its teeth. They think it is out of place for the Federal men to have a proposal before state hearings have been held.

Most specifically the billboard lobbyists in Washington objected to publishing the discussion points and the Bureau of Public Roads men went ahead. The senators are more impressed with what the billboard people want than the professional road designers are. They have even discussed a committee hearing to air the situation.

On second thought, it seemed the hearings would call additional attention to the senatorial reluctance to hold back the billboards. But we think much more attention to the Senate's attitude is in order.

"BIG JOHN" WINS!

The famous, king-size aluminum hopper car developed by the Southern Railway to cut the cost of hauling grain from the central plains to the Southeastern states by some $40 million a year has been declared the winner over the Interstate Commerce Commission by a three-judge District Court in Cincinnati.

In its decision of May 20, the Court set aside and permanently enjoined the ICC order of last July 15 requiring a 16 percent increase in the 60 percent grain-rate reduction previously approved by Division 2 of the ICC on Big John multiple-car shipments.

"The people of America won a great victory," declared Southern President D. W. Brosnan, "when a Federal Court in Cincinnati recognized that Southern Railway System had a right to save people money by lowering its grain freight rates.

"This decision helps everyone, but especially the housewives in their shopping for food, the small businessman, and the farmers, all of whom suffer most when freight rates are artificially and unnecessarily high. The development of a tremendous new billion-dollar-a-year fat cattle industry in the South is now assured. This will help agri-business in the South and will mean a greatly enlarged market for grain-growers in other parts of the country. . ."

Mr. Brosnan also points out that: "It is ridiculous that any carrier would have to fight in the courts of this country in order to save money for the people and to help our economy grow." What is needed is legislation, which has been before Congress for several years, to allow railroads and other common carriers to lower the prices they charge for moving agricultural and bulk commodities when they can afford to do so -- without interference by Government agencies. As Brosnan says:

". . .if this bill ends up on the legislative scrap heap, American consumers will go on being cheated out of several billion dollars annually from freight rates kept artificially high by regulation which kills off real competition."

But perhaps the cheering that resounds from Big John's victory will reach the Capitol and impress our lawmakers with what minimum rates legislation could do for their consumer constituents, for manufacturers competing against imports from low-wage countries, and for the entire economy of the nation.

It might even impress our solons that they can and should pass this legislation NOW--before they go home to tell the voters how much they have accomplished!

NEW YORK AP -- Tired of coping with the present?

Well, forget it for a few moments. Let's take a short mental buggy ride into the past. The trip will do you good, and you'll come back refreshed.

It's always a tonic to the spirit to look back and remember when-

Only a rich kid in kindergarten could afford a box with more than eight colored crayons.

The Boston bull was one of America's most popular dogs.

You could start an argument over whether Mary Pickford or Mary Miles Minter had the prettier curls.

Some of the best restaurants were on wheels. Everybody looked forward to a railroad trip so they could eat at least one meal in the dining car.

In most high schools you couldn't graduate unless you had taken at least two years of Latin. Can you ever forget dear old "amo," "amas," "amat"?

If you didn't have a nickel to buy a store kite, you could always make one on the kitchen table with a few pieces of wood, some tissue paper, and homemade flour paste.

The sports world was startled in 1923 when Helen Wills, 17, known as "Little Miss Poker Face," won the national singles tennis title and Bobby Jones, 21, took the National Open golf championship. The U. S. motto became: "Youth must be served."

There were more people playing checkers than gin rummy. But to be really in the social swim you had to own a set of mah-jongg.

Only after harvest season did a rural minister usually find anything larger than a quarter in the Sunday collection basket.

Everybody in the neighborhood knew father had received a promotion when mother bought a new set of wicker furniture.

You could get two packs of cigarettes, or six cigars, for a quarter.

The doctor, busy as he was, always had time for a cup of coffee in the kitchen when making a home call.

A dude was a fellow who owned more than two pairs of spats-- and had at least one pair of bright yellow shoes.

Nobody thought the American flag would ever have more than 48 stars in it.

On a cold winter morning the only way to get warm was to dress over a furnace grating in the floor.

No parent was thought of as a child slaver if he let his husky 14-year-old son sack potatoes at a grocery store on Saturdays.

In a working class area a saloon sold more beer by the pail than by the glass.

It was commonplace for most people to go through life without ever tasting champagne or eating a raw oyster.

Many of the nation's best football players went to Harvard or Yale.

There were only two wonder drugs -- aspirin and castor oil.

Those were the good old days! Remember?

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- When senators and congressmen were called down to the White House for an off-the-record briefing by Vice President Humphrey, LBJ turned out to the the best Viet Nam salesman. Acting as master of ceremonies, Johnson frequently interrupted Humphrey.

"Let's hear Secretary McNamara expand on that phase," he would cut in. Or he would suddenly call on Secretary of State Dean Rusk for comments. Rusk, incidentally, received a standing ovation when introduced by the President.

LBJ also took a swing at his senate critics, Wayne Morse of Oregon and William Fulbright of Arkansas. Mentioning them by name, he declared:

"Their criticism of the administration largely boils down to lint picking. If I do something today, they're apt to say it should have been done yesterday. Then I get letters from people who listen to them and who say they are worried.

"They're worried! Do you think I am not worried? I want to see it end the same as everyone else. Some critics even say I am acting in an unconstitutional manner!

Dramatically pulling a paper from his pocket, he quoted the SEATO Agreement.

"This is the grounds for our action and policies in Viet Nam," he continued. "I carry this paper around with me most of the time. It is my constitutional authority for the fight against aggression over there. I'll tell you something else. Both senators Morse and Fulbright voted for it. In fact, I think only about two senators were absent from the chamber that day."

Johnson also bluntly reported that Secretaries Rusk and McNamara would [illegible] cabinet as long as they wish.

"I have not the slightest intention of getting rid of either of these gentlemen, who were on a great team which preceded me in this office. They're too valuable to me and to their country."

GI TAPES

American GIs in Viet Nam can now mail letters free. Rep. Chester Mize, the Kansas Republican, wants to go one step further and extend free mailing to voice recordings for troops in Viet Nam.

The congressman points to the fact that voice recordings are one thing the boys a long way from home really want most. Tape centers at USO headquarters are the most popular spots for off-duty servicemen. They listen to live letters they receive from home on tape and record other letters to send back, also on tape.

The congressman from Kansas is pushing a plan to let GIs send these records through the mail free.

LATE-WORKING LBJ

Former Senator Claude Pepper, now a congressman from Florida, got a phone call at 8 p.m., the other Saturday night. It was a time when most high government officials are relaxing.

"Claude," came a well-known voice over the telephone, "I have your bill on my desk for Interama. All my government agencies are against it. They say the Latin American nations would not participate."

The President of the United States was checking with his old friend regarding a bill for the location of a Pan-American permanent exhibit hall in North Miami, where Latin American nations and the United States could display their cultural, industrial and agricultural [illegible]

Pepper assured the President that the Latin Americans would participate if they had a building in which to house their exhibits. The Interama Bill, he explained, provides such a building.

"Furthermore," said Pepper, "this is a project which will cost the government almost nothing."

"Does this mean much to you?" asked the President.

"Yes, it does. I have been working on it for 26 years."

"All right," said the President, "you can announce to the press that I signed it at 8:05 p.m. Wait a little bit before you give it out, but the bill will be signed at 8:05 p.m."

MISSISSIPPI BAIL MONEY

Just before Christmas, 1964, I received a telephone call from Laurel, Miss., regarding ten civil rights workers who had been jailed for protesting the refusal of the Pinehurst Coffee Shop to serve Negroes.

The date was December 23. The request was for bail money so the arrested young people would not have to spend Christmas in jail. America's Conscience fund was able to supply the bail money. Last week, a year and two months later, I received a letter from Miss Patricia McGauley in Laurel, Miss., enclosing checks for $1,708, a refund of the bail money.

America's Conscience fund has been able to contribute to similar causes thanks to benefit performances by Sammy Davis, Jr., and thanks to thousands of contributions from all sorts of people to combat bombs and bigotry and heal the wounds of racial intolerance. The fund's members range from former President Harry Truman to "Big Jim" Farley, the [illegible]

I was told that my grandson, now entering his fourth year, often sat alone watching early morning television programs. I wondered about this, and then I decided the recreation was a good way for a child to enlarge his vocabulary.

VIETNAM AND ADA RELATIONS

Controversy over our Vietnam policy serves some purpose in drawing the battle lines regarding communism. Some U. S. Senators, willing to support the over-bright intelligentsia and unwashed street demonstrators as they carry forward in farleft meetings opposing resistance to communists, take one side.

Sixteen Senators went on record by writing President Johnson asking him to delay resumption of bombing. Their average rating is ADA 82. Another contingent headed by Vice-President Humphrey, who is said to have started Americans for Democratic Action and when last in the Senate rated ADA 97, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, top assistant to General Marshall in forcing Chiang Kai-Shek to accept communists in his government resulting in Chiang's expulsion from the mainland and betraying China into communist domination, are now representing President Johnson, carrying the ball for what must be considered the patriotic side.

U. S. Senator Robert Kennedy (D-N. Y.), ADA 94, presses a plan for placating the Viet Cong before peace negotiations start.

ADA ratings are an index to the diversity of their previous and present philosophies. Democratic Senators from the South, including Fulbright, average ADA 27. Republican Senators average ADA 21, but eliminating Javits (N. Y. -94), Case (N. J. -94), and Scott (Penna. -65), the average drops to 14.

Early in the 1960 campaign for the Democratic Presidential nomination, Senators John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Baines Johnson both rejected or discouraged support from ADA. The presentation of ADA ratings may reflect that the philosophy of ADA and the attitude of public figures regarding whether to win, compromise or lose the war is changing. HLH

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Union Chiefs Return to Assure LBJ They'll Not Launch New National Labor Party.

Washington, D. C.: -- There are substantial reports that the country's revitalized labor leaders have left their Florida seaside enclaves, angrily eager to come north and launch an independent national Labor Party to take vengeance on the Democrats.

Untrue. There is no feud. There is no rift. There is no anger with President Johnson. And there won't be a nationwide Labor Party in foreseeable times.

The American labor movement is the only such coalition which is not directly affiliated with a political party. American labor likes to ride a winner wherever possible.

That's why they were lukewarm over Adlai Stevenson. That's why they wanted Gen. Dwight Eisenhower to run on the Democratic ticket in '48--even Walter Reuther was for him. Only Ike objected.

So they won't break with the Democrats and launch on isolated class party. President Lyndon Johnson, furthermore, is their friend and instead of feuding with him, they're rallying to him behind-the-scenes.

He conferred privately with them -- George Meany and Walter Reuther amongst others -- all through January in person up to the 27th and over the phone since they went south.

They believe the President has been unduly harassed by Senators Fulbright, Morse and Bob Kennedy over Viet Nam. They do no want to make his travail more burdensome.

The man they really dislike now is Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield (Mont.) During all those private White House conferences over 14-B repeal, the President told the labor men he could do nothing with the man from Montana. They believe the President. They tried publicly and privately to pressure Senator Mansfield. They failed,too.

The pipe-smoking, 63-year-old, Majority Leader just was not going to crack down on his colleagues to give labor what it wanted -- and may not do so to get labor what it wants now in minimum wages, and of the ban on secondary boycott picketing and federal centralizing of the U. S. Employment Service.

During the 14-B repealer debate Mr. Mansfield merely went through the motions -- say the labor leaders, especially the influential I. W. (Abe) Abel, new leader of the United Steelworkers. One unreported episode especially angered Mr. Abel and aroused the rest of his colleagues on the AFL-CIO Executive Council, when he recounted it to them in Florida.

In Washington on the night of Jan. 27, in the Sheraton-Park Hotel, Senators Mansfield and Dirksen were the honored dais guests at a businessmen's banquet. The only labor man in the audience was Mr. Abel, truly a man of steel when he wants to be.

When the time came, Mr. Mansfield arose, spoke of the "esteem" he had for Mr. Dirksen and continued in language Mr. Abel believed should have been reserved only for Abraham Lincoln.

Not only did Mr. Mansfield--at the height of the 14-B filibuster -- speak highly of Mr. Dirksen, but the Democratic leader said stoutly that the current Congress "owes an immense debt to the contribution of the distinguished Minority Leader."

Abel was as grim as a smokestack in his native Canton - Pittsburgh area.

The next day, noticing the lack of real pressure from the Majority Leader on the Democratic Senators, Mr. Abel gathered around him the experienced Dave Sullivan, president of the building service workers and the veteran strategist, Joe Keenan, an AFL-CIO vice president and the trio went button - holing.

They got to what Senators they could to talk them into breaking the filibuster. Distinctly they got the impression there was even less pressure than they thought coming from Mr. Mansfield.

This was confirmed when they asked Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) how he, who had run as vice-presidential candidate with the late Mr. Stevenson, could support the filibuster against the labor movement's wishes. The impression the union chiefs got was that the Senate leadership had really not attempted to push him in their direction.

So the battle was -- and is--with Mr. Mansfield. He's a hard man for them to fight. He's not up for re-election until 1970. He's a charter member of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO). And he's more learned than most of them -- what with a masters degree and long stint as a college professor in Latin American and Far Eastern history.

Furthermore, the President needs him right now on international matters. Mr. Johnson can do without another feud in the Senate.

So the labor leaders, roaring with independence and self-determination, have withdrawn from their southern enclaves. But they'll not pull a De Gaulle.

Jane Mydlowski Pledges Vows With Jerry Pearson Feb. 4

Jane Mydlowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Westpheling of Dallas, Texas, and Jerry Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pearson, route three, were married at 7 p.m. Feb. 4 at the Murray Lane Baptist church.

The Rev. C. D. Butler officiated using the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white satin brocade street-length dress fashioned with a sleeveless bodice and matching jacket with wrist-length sleeves. Her veil was a crown of satin encircled with white tulle. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Nancy Mydlowski of Dallas, Texas, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a white bonded lace over orchid background dress with orchid shoes and a white carnation corsage.

Mike Pearson, route three, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a two piece dress of tan and brown cotton bonded knit with tan accessories and a yellow carnation corsage.

Mrs. Pearson wore a two piece gray wool dress with black accessories with a white carnation corsage.

The reception was at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Martha Clayton of Matthews. The bride's table was covered in blue satin and overlaid with white lace. Blue candles, a three tiered wedding cake and a crystal punch bowl appointed the table.

Mrs. W. C. Leigh, aunt of the bride and Barbara Leigh, cousin of the bride, both of Charleston, were at the reception.

For travel, the bride wore a pink two piece suit with black accessories.

The couple is now at home at 2554 Independence St. in Cape Girardeau. Both are college students.

Gospel Four Quartet to Sing

EAST PRAIRIE -- The Gospel Four Quartet of Sikeston will sing at the First General Baptist church Sunday morning. The public is invited.

The Modern Christian

"Why is the James Bond image so current among young Christians? The qualities he displays seem anything but Christian."

Everyone admires a bit of nerve, and James Bond has a lot of nerve. His milieu, like many movie films and T. V. programs, is constant crisis. He is like the reckless and daring swordsman (or cowboy) of past decades.

The image of the Christian is far more subtle. There are exceptions of course, but the man of God, the biblical image, demands an inner constitution of nerve that I suspect, James Bond lacks.

His way of relating to others often reduces them to things or an extension of himself. All of us have a basic drive that others should serve us rather than we serve them. This would bring about the image of humility which James Bond does not wish to put across to his audience.

When viewing a film or reading a book we identify ourselves with the symbolic characters of the story. It is not often that we identify (though we may have sympathy) with the losers, the downtrodden and meek.

The young adult is searching for identity with a personality that will help him realize his own. While communication media has a tremendous impact on young people, it's chaff in the wind compared to a good father and a good mother. They are not images, but real people.

Real people help us emerge. Our self-awareness grows more sharply with those who sometimes say "no" and on other occasions "yes." What you really are is what you communicate to people, and youth are no exception. And in our day they seem quite able to sift the chaff from the grain.

The question is: "What is the current image of the Christian parent in the home?"

Mrs. Baker to Be Delegate To Convention

The Missouri Daughters of the American Revolution conference will be held in Columbia March 15, 16, and 17. A board meeting and supper will be held on March 14. King's Highway Chapter of Sikeston will have Mrs. Joseph L. Baker as a delegate. Miss Jane Anne Baker will serve as a page for the 67th Missouri conference.

At the 67th Missouri Conference the sparkling blue and white of the "75th Anniversary" badges, to be worn by the board, will indicate a very special year and from word coming out of Columbia March 15-17 will mark days long to be remembered by Missouri Daughters.

Mrs. Alva F. Preston, Regent of Columbian Chapter, and Mrs. David F. Eads, one of Missouri's most capable Honorary State Regents, are the conference chairmen, and have the help of Moberly, Mexico, Marshall, Fulton, Fayette, Bowling Green, Boonville, and Armstrong Chapters. This leadership and this cooperation alone would insure a successful conference, but stars sparkle within the settings planned.

The State Officers Club, Mrs. Raymond T. Finks, president, is planning a dinner meeting this year and the Regents dinner, also Tuesday evening, will have as its discussion topic, "How We Did It."

The Memorial Service Tuesday afternoon will be at near-by Methodist Chapel, following the Chairman's Forum luncheon March 15, with a staccato comment from each chairman and Mrs. Herbert White, presiding. The speaker will be educator-administrator, Arthur Lee Mallory of Springfield and president of SMS, whose varied attainments and interests have just made him the city's choice of Man of the Year.

The keynote speaker of the evening, who will follow the presentation of a record number of Pages, will accent the DAR objective-history. He will be Dr. William E. Parrish, professor of History at Westminster College, Fulton -- author, lecturer, researcher and promises to delight his audience with his dramatic story of "Winston Churchill Visits an American Westminster."

Wednesday noon the accent will be on education. It will be called a Safety luncheon as the speaker is to be Lt. Franklin Shadwell in the department of Public Information and Education of the Missouri State Highway Patrol. He has delighted audiences throughout this part of the United States with his practical approach to modern problems and 20th Century living.

The Awards Banquet, will be a combination of mirrors, diamonds and silver. Patriotism will be its emphasis, with Mrs. Ray W. Gepford of Kansas City the speaker. A reviewer of books, who is in constant demand, and the president of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Gepford will address the Daughters on "Reclaiming the American Dream."

A special tour of the DAR Library and the Missouri Historical Center and Library is being arranged and the election of a new slate of officers to servie the Missouri Society for the forthcoming two years is on a full agenda. No less important is the consideration of several proposed changes in the by-laws of the Missouri State Society. These, all Daughters should study and be ready to vote on when they are presented for consideration.

It is important that all chapters are well represented. The continuity of DAR must be uninterrupted and the easy, well informed transition from one administration to another as the years succeed themselves, is possible only by the membership understanding and being inspired by the overall program.

Scout Banquet Held Friday

Cub Scout Pack No. 140, sponsored by the Matthews elementary school, had its annual blue and gold banquet Friday, Feb. 25, at the Holiday Inn.

The address of welcome was made by Fred Danner, cubmaster. The pledge of allegiance was said by cubs and their parents following the invocation by James Beaird.

A buffet dinner was served to approximately 150 guests.

Mr. Danner introduced the guests and speakers at the head table.

Awards presented were Bear Cat badge, Cliff McMillen; Denner patches, Leon Stone and Mark Wade; Assistant Denner patch, Ray Moore; Wolf badge and pins, Linton Skinner, Steve Weston and Kent Eastman; Bear and Gold Arrow, Prince McDougal; Gold Arrow, Gregory Stricker; Gold and Silver Arrow, Rhett Moore; Lion and Gold and Silver Arrow, Eric Sappenfield; Lion and Gold Arrow, Ricky Davis; Lion and Gold Arrow, Steven Moll; Lion, David Crites and Larry Wren.

James Beaird was introduced and made a report on scouting progress in the district counties. He stressed the importance of a boy following his scout career through the Eagle Scout rank. He then presented Clyde Launius, president of the P. T. A., with the pack charter for 1966.

Beaird also presented membership cards to Fred Danner, Mr. Shanner, Buck Wissman, Floyd Presley, Bert Teachout and Brad Shain.

The following den mothers were presented with their membership cards: Mrs. Vaught, Mrs. Moll, Mrs. Teachout, Mrs. Wissman, Mrs. Horne, Mrs. Presley, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Hughes.

The den mothers presented membership cards to the cubs.

The den mothers, represented by Mrs. Evelyn Teachout, presented Danner with an appreciation plaque.

The speaker was Eddie Schrader, executive Okeechobee district chairman. He gave statistics of the scouting organization now in its 56th year showing that boys who follow through the organization to the rank of Eagle scout have proved to be the best citizens. He said the greatest responsibility parents have is in molding the boys' futures.

MRS. HOLTON R. PRICE, JR., president of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., prepares to mail 9,000 envelopes--one to each of the girls who attended the 1965 Senior Girl Scout Roundup in Farragut, Idaho, last July. Each Scout at the event wrote and addressed to herself a personal commitment related to the Girl Scout Promise and Laws. The envelopes were entrusted to Mrs. Price who will mail them back to the girls in time to reach the girls during Girl Scout Week, March 6 through 12.

Bulldogs Fall To Dexter, Play Consolation Game

DEXTER -- The Dexter Bearcast defeated the Sikeston Bulldogs in Class L Regional play last night 62-42. The Bulldogs, who were not seeded in the tournament but upset third seeded Caruthersville Wednesday night 75-45 to move into the semi-finals of last night. They will finish at least fourth and possibly third depending on whether or not they beat Jackson tonight.

Dexter pulled out in front of Sikeston early in the first period and led all the way. They took a five point lead in that quarter.

Dexter pulled out again in the next period, outscoring the Bulldogs 15-10 making the half time score 29-19.

Dexter made their lead stick in the third period, as they rallied for 20 points and held the Bulldogs to eight, half of which were scored by Mike Couch, and held a commanding lead going into the final period.

The Bulldogs put the pressure on in the final period outscoring Dexter 15 points to 13. Mike Couch dropped in four field goals for eight of these points. Sikeston's 15 points, though, did not help, with Dexter winning by 20 points.

Mike Couch led scoring for both teams with 17 points on eight field goals and one free throw. Gary Stallings was second in the scoring with 11 points.

Sikeston meets Jackson tonight at Dexter in a contest for third place. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Arkansas Red-Heads To Play Benefit Game

PARMA--Parma Independents will play host to America's greatest basketball girls' team, Sunday, March 6, at 2 p.m. in the Parma gym. All American Red Heads, no ordinary team -- by any means -- plays men's competition every night of the week from October until May. Not only are the Red Heads capable of playing men's teams, they beat them quite often and have been doing just that for the past 26 seasons. By far the most traveled team in girls' basketball, it is also the most popular team, nationally and internationally famous. The Red Heads have played to more than 7,000,000 fans in U.S.A., Canada, Mexico, Alaska, and Philippine Islands in the past.

Parma will feature such stars as Doyle Denbow, former Morehouse star and college standout at Bethel college, known as The Old Man to his friends, he still can get around pretty good on the floor. Another great is Doug Stinson, former Bernie High School star who is wild and wooly on the floor as he is known as the Big Bruiser. Other players who will be featured will be Tom Daniels of Parma, who is 6'6" tall who will have his work cut out for him as the Red Heads will match his height. Bill Hedgepeth, and Dale Harrison, two of the fastest men this side of Sikeston will pit their fine speed against the Red Heads who are in shape. Last but not least will be Ron Jaynes, former Parma high school player and now sports editor for the Sikeston Standard, will try to revive his old shot for one last evening.

Proceeds from this game will go toward the building of the Parma Civic Center. Game time will be 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon, March sixth.

Come out and have an enjoyable afternoon of basketball, and see the finest team in the area, the Parma Independents.

The burly black bear, looked upon as one of the toughest animals in existence, has tender feet and caters to them by staying mainly on established trails.

SEMO Track Team Swings Into Action

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Additional strength in the field events could give the Southeast Missouri State College track team a boost towards one of its best records in several years.

Coach Marvin Rosengarten, now in his second year here, has some of the best talent the school has ever had on hand, and figures this year to become one of the leaders in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Traditionally strong in the distance races, the Indians now also sport strength and depth in all other areas, including the sprints, one of the weaker spots in recent years.

Some of the new men welcomed by Rosengarten this season include:

Terry Coff, a freshman from Roosevelt High, where he was state high school champion in the shot put. Coff set a new school record of 49' 4 7/8" in his first meet this year;

George Hester, a transfer from Phoenix (Ariz.) JC, where he was a member of the top JC mile relay team in the nation. Hester was timed in one leg of the relay in :47-8;

Dean Kimmick of Cape Girardeau, a transfer from the University of Missouri, where he was a member of the freshman track squad. Kimmick holds all hurdle and sprint records at Cape's Central high school;

Dan Malone, a transfer from Phoenix JC, where he was third in the JC national meet last year with a vault of 13' 6". Malone went 13' in the Indians' first meet of the year, later unofficially cleared 13' 6";

Walt Smallwood, a freshman from Webster Groves high, where he turned a :9.8 100-yard dash. Smallwood earned a place in the first meet of the season with a 60-yard time of :6.5.

In addition to the new talent, almost all of last year's top veterans are returning. Among them are a number of school record holders, including:

Bruce Franke of Phoenix, Ariz., :9.7 in the 100, and a top 440 man;

Clyde Miner of Kirkwood, 9:27 in the 2-mile;

Paul Ebaugh of Cape, 158' in the discus; and,

Curtis Williams of Cape, 6' 7 3/4" in the high jump and 48' 8 3/4" in the triple jump.

All four are lettermen. Other monogram winners returning include Mike Peters of McClure high school, a member relay team which was second in the MIAA last year; Larry Schloss of Jackson, who has gone 4:24 in the mile; Gene McClellan of Hazelwood, who was second in the conference last year in the javelin; and Bob Varel of St. Charles high, a 6'4" high jumper, and a good triple-jumper. R. C. Grossheider of Cape, a non-letterman, rounds out the high-jumping corps with his best leap also 6'4".

In the distance races, Rosengarten has several cross-country lettermen, including Len Corso from Mercy high school, Bill Becker from Ritenour high, Jim Stoverink from Notre Dame high in Cape, and Bill Wirtz, also from Ritenour high.

In the first meet of the season, Indian cindermen were third in the Memphis State Quadrangular, behind Southern State and Memphis State, and ahead of Southwest Missouri.

Rosengarten's squad travels to Memphis again Saturday for a dual meet with the Tigers.

Frick Expected To Continue Testimony

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) -- The tug-of-war over former Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick was expected to continue today with both sides in Wisconsin's anti-trust suit against baseball trying to get his bat in their line-up.

Frick wasn't in court as the battle began Thursday with the prosecution and the defense reading portions of a sworn statement taken from him earlier, each using some of his statement to back up their contentions.

The state tried to link up Frick's testimony and what it called the "monopolistic ability of baseball to control the game." The defense tried to show that expansion was not feasible at present and that baseball had made no agreement to abandon or boycott Milwaukee.

The issues are the keys to the suit in which Wisconsin charges that baseball violated state anti-trust statutes by moving the Braves from Milwaukee to Atlanta without giving the city another team.

Before the battery of legal experts began to fight over Frick, a tax accountant testified that the Braves produced more than $9 million for the Perini family in the 10 seasons they operated the club in Milwaukee.

The accountant, Harry J. Miller, said state tax returns of the Perini Corp. from 1953 to Nov. 25, 1962 — when the franchise was sold — showed net income of the ball club before taxes to be $8,667,314. Miller also said the Perini family was paid $445,302 in total salaries.

Then the prosecution started to enter Frick's deposition. But they were greeted by a flurry of objections from the defense, questioning the relevancy of the testimony.

Steven Keane, special counsel for Milwaukee County, argued the matter was relevant because the state intended, through Frick, to "identify the rules and regulations that contain the monopolistic ability of baseball to control the game.

"This will show how baseball can do what we charge they can."

Circuit Judge Elmer Roller ruled the reading of the deposition could continue.

In his reading, Keane touched on three key points to the state's case — the question of how to secure a franchise, Frick's opinion's on expansion and the reserve clause.

Then the defense took over, reading other portions of the deposition.

Questioned about his advocacy of two 12-team leagues, Frick said the target date of 1964 he had set could not be met because it became "our experience that it would take longer." Frick pointed out that expansion was "impractical" if done hurriedly.

Frick also said he thought his expansion policy had proved successful since in "the last 10 years we accomplished more than in the previous 75" and noted that in expanding from eight to 10-club leagues baseball "went into towns that didn't have baseball."

The defense moved on to read the actual cross-examination of Frick at the time the deposition was taken.

In that Frick was asked if he knew of any agreement made by baseball to abandon Milwaukee or boycott the city as a site.

"No," was Frick's only reply.

At that point time ran out, and Judge Roller called the game until morning.

Southern Methodist Wins Berth in NCAA Tourney

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern Methodist won the Southwest Conference title and a berth in next week's NCAA college basketball championship tourney thanks to the Arkansas Razorbacks and their veteran coach, Glen Rose, in a storybook sequence of events.

This is how it happened on a Thursday night that also saw the idle Utah Redskins gain the Western Athletic Conference crown and its automatic NCAA berth when New Mexico whipped Arizona.

Rose, a star player for Arkansas in the late 1920s and coach of the Razorbacks for 33 years, was reported to have told his squad before the game with Texas A&M at Fayetteville, Ark., that he planned to retire.

The underdog fourth-place Porkers, seeking a big win for Rose in their final game of the season, then went out and routed the Aggies 94-71. Texas A&M went into the game tied for first with Southern Methodist and a Monday playoff site at Waco already had been selected.

Switch now to Dallas where SMU was playing at home against Texas Tech. Midway of the second half the Red Raiders led SMU 60-57 when word was received of Arkansas' surprise defeat of Texas A&M.

After the score was announced over the loud speaker system the aroused Mustangs reeled off seven straight points to take the lead for good thus wrapping up the SWC title and NCAA spot with a 99-89 triumph. It was SMU's 10th straight victory.

Utah backed into the WAC title when the New Mexico Lobos, playing at home, snapped a five-game losing streak by tripping Arizona 83-69. The Lobos broke away from a 33-33 halftime tie led by Mel Daniels, recovered from a cut arm, and Ben Monroe. Each scored 26 points.

The goings-on in the SWC and WAC overshadowed Duke's rout of Wake Forest in the first round of the Atlantic Coast Conference championship tourney at Raleigh.

The Blue Devils, third-ranked in The Associated Press poll, scored a 103-73 romp over the Deacons who had upset them by one point in overtime last week.

Bob Verga's 29 points paced the Blue Devils who meet North Carolina in the semifinals tonight. North Carolina downed Maryland 77-70, South Carolina beat Clemson 60-52 and N.C. State whipped Virginia 86-77 in the other ACC first round games. South Carolina and N.C. State meet in the other semi tonight.

Cincinnati, the Missouri Valley Conference champion and No. 10 in the AP poll, closed out its regular season at 21-5 by beating its cross-town rival, Xavier of Ohio, 67-62.

Brigham Young, 16-5, and Louisville, 16-9, accepted bids to play in the National Invitation Tournament in New York while touring Wichita handed defeat 112-79.

In other games involving NCAA-bound teams, Western Kentucky, 23-2, whipped Austin Peay 76-63 and Oklahoma City, 24-4, crushed Centenary 121-90. Both were home court triumphs.

Cheyney Tops Small College AP Poll

Unbeaten for two straight years in 49 consecutive regular season games, the Cheyney, Pa., State Wolves have been named the No. 1 small-college basketball team for 1966 in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

The suburban Philadelphia team easily won the honor Wednesday with a total of 156 points to runner-up North Dakota's 116 from The AP's Nationwide panel of 17 sports writers and broadcasters.

Southern Illinois, the No. 1 team for seven straight weeks until the next to last poll, finished third with 108 on the basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Rounding out the final Top Ten were, in order, Grambling, Northern Michigan, Indiana State, Tennessee State, Evansville, Seattle Pacific and Valparaiso.

Cheyney, coached by Hal Blitman, beat Shippensburg 93-47 at home last Saturday to finish its regular season at 26-0.

ABILENE, Tex. AP -- W. O. Maxwell, Sr., 77, father of golfers Billy Maxwell, Bobby Maxwell and W. O. Maxwell Jr., died Tuesday. He was a pioneer West Texas professional golfer.

Clay-Terrell Fight Runs Into Another Dead End

MONTREAL (AP) — The beleaguered Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell fight, kicked out of the United States, has lost the large Montreal Forum as a site and may wind up today in Verdun — a Montreal suburb — if it ever lands any place at all.

In the midst of a stormy meeting Thursday night between members of the Montreal Athletic Commission and the would-be promoters, a member of the commission said an official of the 15,000-seat Montreal Forum, had rejected the controversial fight.

"We'll take it to Verdun," said Robert Arum, a New York lawyer and an officer of Main Bout Inc., of New York which owns the closed circuit television and other ancillary rights of the projected March 29 heavyweight title bout.

He said the fight could be staged in the 5,500-seat Verdun Auditorium in the Montreal suburb. He hoped to arrange that in conferences today, with Mayor George O'Reilly.

The commission member, Paul Emile Sauvageau, told reporters at City Hall, the meeting place, that Frank Selke Jr., an official of the Canadian Arena Co., which owns the Forum, telephoned the commission to announce that the arena would not be available for the bout.

Reached at his home, Selke declined to confirm or deny the statement. He said anything further would have to come from the commission.

The commission, in a 200-word statement at the end of the meeting, said it is interested in having the fight but said MBI and promoter Loren Cassina of All-Canada Sports Ltd., would have to comply with five conditions "before the commission is able to study a request for a permit."

Conditions were that "everything must be in writing," including all contracts — the television-radio deal, the fighters' contracts with their managers and the promoters' agreements with the fighters."

One of the conditions the promoters object to is the Quebec law that provides the promoters must guarantee the commission five per cent of all receipts, including closed TV, radio, movies, and gate receipts. On a $4 million over-all promotion, this could come to $200,000.

The conditions stipulate that a $100,000 bond must be posted to guarantee the payment of the permit fee, namely five per cent of the live gate receipts and the radio and television rights."

Arum said it would take until Monday to get everything in black and white.

Before the Thursday night announcement, Selke had said that the Forum would be available to the fight because he had planned to show the closed circuit TV on March 29.

Verdun, outside of the Montreal commission's jurisdiction doesn't have a boxing commission or a five per cent levy.

There was a strong belief here that some members of the Montreal Council were not enthusiastic about taking a fight that has been rejected by New York and Chicago.

Check Will Cut Kennett Taxes

KENNETT -- The Kennett board of public works turned over to the City $150,000 in surplus funds from the 1964 $1,035,000 general obligations sewer and water bond issue, making it possible for the city to reduce its tax rate five cents.

A check for the $150,000 was presented to Kennett Mayor Sol Astrachan by Ben Cash, chairman of the board of public works.

By law, excess funds derived from the sewer and water bond issues can only be used for two purposes -- retirement of the bond issue or additional water and sewer improvements.

Receipt of the $150,000 will make it possible for the city to reduce its present $1.70 tax rate five cents per $100 assessed valuation for 1966. Tax rate reductions in the future years will be possible, as a result of this transfer of funds.

The board of public works has also established a reserve account of the remaining portion of surplus funds to enable them to make major sewer and water improvements.

Low bids received in the sewer and water improvement program resulted in the surplus funds being available.

KEN BOYER, general campaign chairman of the St. Louis chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, stands beside Mrs. Jack Taylor, MS Mother of the Year, and her sons, Jimmy and Jeffery and daughter, Jodi Ann.

One of the advantages of growing and learning is to recognize that our thinking or feelings were sometimes in error. Only those who can acknowledge they were wrong can grow and profit from those errors of judgment.

MS Mother of Year Chosen

ST. LOUIS -- Mrs. Jack Taylor, Concord Village, has been named 1966 Multiple Sclerosis mother of the year, by the St. Louis area chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Ken Boyer, general champaign chairman, announced.

Mrs. Taylor will represent all MS patients in Eastern Missouri and Southern Illinois during the year, and will assist in the March Hope Chest Campaign, which supports the research and patient aid programs of the society.

She is the mother of a son, Jeffery 8, daughter Jodi Ann 7, and son Jimmy 10 months. Mrs. Taylor was diagnosed multiple sclerosis in October of 1963.

Prompt medical attention at the time of diagnosis, plus the will to conquer the fear of MS, and the ability to accept the disease has been half of the battle won Mrs. Taylor says.

She points to the research supported by the National Multiple Sclerosis society, which each year increases knowledge of this mysterious disease, as one of the most hopeful factors.

Before being stricken, Mrs. Taylor was active in church work and the care of her young children. She is determined that her children will have a normal home life. She leans on the understanding, patience and help of her husband, family and friends.

Vandals Turn on Hydrant

HAYTI -- On the last two Friday nights a person or persons have turned on fire hydrants in the city, causing the loss of thousands of gallons of the water.

The hydrant at the Hodgens school and in front of the school gym were turned on causing the water pressure in the mains to drop completely.

Early rising residents turned on their faucets to find that they had no water. Chief of Police Dave Willoughby was called and upon investigation found the hydrant running. The force of the water almost washed the road away in front of the bridge that crosses Little River.

This act of vandalism could have been serious had a fire broken out. With water pressure so low the fire department would have had to wait until pressure could have built up in the water mains before the fire truck could have hooked up to a fire hydrant. This could have resulted in a great loss in fire damage and could have prevented the saving of human lives had the emergency been serious enough.

If the persons responsible are caught they face a stiff fine and probable jail sentence.

The town board asks the cooperation of citizens to report to Chief of Police Dave Willoughby immediately if they see or hear any one around a fire hydrant.

Is there an adolescent in the house?

If you're a parent, there are times when nothing in the world seems more unhappy than the trials of adolescence. And if you're a young person, the desire to be "all grown up" fights with the feelings of love and respect that you've always held for your parents.

Where's the common ground that can ease this difficult period in life? Often it's at the place where you worship.

Faith does move mountains—of misunderstanding, anger, frustration. It helps parents to see, understand, and have tolerance for their youngsters' problems. It helps young people have a sense of worth about themselves now—and about the adulthood they'll soon assume.

Worship—together—this week . . . and add new, true values to your life!

March 25 Deadline for Candidates

MALDEN -- Filing deadline for candidates in the city election was set for 5 p.m. March 25, by the city council in its regular meeting.

This is an off year election and four council posts will be the only vacancies to be filled.

Tom Clark, councilman of Ward IV and chairman of the board, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mayor R. J. Dirks. Mayor Dirks is on vacation.

A lengthy discussion was held on the matter of granting a franchise for cable television in Malden. Two firms, each seeking a franchise, had representatives at the meeting.

Also present was Charley Hill, representing Channel Master Antennas. He appeared before the Council and told of disadvantages to CATV.

Ted Gleason, representing Malden Cable Television, Inc., and James Newberry, representing another firm, appeared before the Council and spoke of the advantages of CATV.

After discussing the matter of length the council agreed to set March 28 as the date when they would make a decision.

MALDEN -- Fire destroyed the home of Clayton Holloway Thursday. The house was struck by lightning two years ago.

Malden CAP Completes Course

MALDEN -- Members of the Malden Civil Air Patrol has completed a course in radiological monitoring under the direction of the Missouri Civil Defense Agency.

The course consisted of 15 hours of instruction taken over a five night period. The course consisted of lessons on Nuclear Weapon Effects; various types of Nuclear Fallout Monitoring Equipment, their use and operation; Effects of Fallout and Radiation Exposure Guidance; Decontamination; Radiation Protection; and Standard Operating Procedures in case of local or National Emergencies. Bill Pickett, Sikeston, a State Civil Defense Instructor, conducted the course.

Civil Defense emphasizes that lives lost through failure to understand and learn about Fallout cannot be saved later. The most important emergency operation is to learn and understand about fallout and to understand the local operating procedures before emergencies occur.

The Civil Defense organizes classes each month to train the people of the community in its various phases. Persons interested in becoming a part of the local Civil Defense program may contact J. D. McMunn, Malden Director of Civil Defense, or Roscoe Thornton, Assistant Director, for further information.

"I'm disgusted," said the new minister, "to see the men in this town go straight from church to a saloon."

"Why not?" replied one of the elders. "Don't you want them to thirst after righteousness?"

Come let us go into the House of the Lord

91st PSALM

1 He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2 I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress; my God; in him will I trust.

3 Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

4 He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5 Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

6 Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

9 Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

10 There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12 They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13 Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

14 Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him; I will set him on High, because he hath known my name.

15 He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.

16 With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

The Prayer

For Today From The Upper Room

"Treat other people exactly as you would like to be treated by them--this is the essence of all true religion." (Matthew 7:12, Phillips)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, we are grateful for Thy Son, Jesus Christ, who has showed us the way to salvation. We have often followed Him afar off. Humbly, we confess our sins and seek Thy compassionate forgiveness. Help us to live in the spirit of a little child. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Looking Back Over the Years

Rex Theatre, today, "Lassie Comes Home" with Roddy McDowell. Malone Theatre, "Pardon My Past" with Fred MacMurray.

Building has been on the boom in Sikeston since the first of the year and is reflected in the number of building permits that have been issued from January 1 until February 28. Since January 1, 22 building permits have been issued for construction of new or improvement of old buildings totaling $83,000. The majority of these permits were for erection of new dwellings or duplex apartments -- in fact 16 of the 22.

Mrs. Christine Walker, 72 years old, a resident of Sikeston for the past seven years, died Monday morning at the Brandon hospital in Poplar Bluff, the victim of pneumonia, after an illness of only a week.

Construction work is under way on a new building, located on Highway 60 East that will house the plant and display rooms of the Sikeston Commercial Cooling Corp. This business was incorporated in December, 1945, with Monroe Randol as president; Theodore Karlish, vice president; and Theola Randol, secretary and treasurer.

A fat, bald-headed playboy, whose bulk rose above the bar, remarked to the glamorous blonde seated next to him, "I'm really not this tall. I'm sitting on my wallet."

ANN LANDERS
Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Our teenage daughter has made us feel that we are freaks from outer space who know nothing about young people.

Last night Isabella had a date with a 17-year-old boy who comes from a good family. The young man arrived promptly at 8:00 p.m. Isabella was not ready so my husband and I tried to make small talk. The boy lit up a cigaret immediately. No one in our family smokes and so we do not have ash trays around but this did not seem to bother him in the least. He flicked the ashes in the cuff of his pants. When he had finished smoking the cigaret he put it out in a potted plant and left it there.

My husband and I were nonplussed but we said nothing. This morning we discussed the incident with Isabella and she said we are square and much too critical of her friends. We'd like your opinion. -- OUTER SPACE MOTHER AND DAD

Dear O. S. M and D: Unless smoking is against your religion or strictly prohibited in your home for health reasons, you should have ash trays around for guests who do smoke.

What did you expect the kid to do with the cigaret after he had lighted up? Eat it? Sorry, but I'm with your daughter. From your description of the boy you're lucky he used the plant and not the carpet.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's parents are very nice people and we get along well. They live across the street and just love to drop in after supper if we have nothing planned. My in-laws are not intellectuals, which is all right with me, but the only reading they do is the TV guide so they can decide which show to watch. The minute dinner is over they plug their eyeballs into the TV set. During the commercials they make a feeble attempt at conversation.

Unless there is something exceptional on TV I prefer to read. I have rigged up a little beam-type light so I can read while the others are watching anything that moves. My mother-in-law made a not-so-subtle remark that I am trying to make them feel inferior by reading while they are viewing. She also intimated that I am rude. Am I? --BOOKWORM

Dear Book: If you prefer reading to watching TV you should do so with no needling from the vidiot gallery. Make no excuses or apologies.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband was transferred to this city two years ago. Our children like it here and so does my husband but I am miserable.

We moved to a suburb which is out of our class. I have not been accepted by the women in our church group or by the PTA women either. I know the cold shoulder when I see it and I have seen it at a Junior League meeting.

My husband says I'm sensitive and that I over-interpret. All I know is that there was not a single day last month that I didn't have a crying spell. I feel completely alone with my problem because my husband refuses to give me the help I need.

Last night when I told him the woman next door pretended not to see me waiting for a bus he said, "Write to Ann Landers." So I'm writing. -- BELOW ZERO

Dear Zero: See a doctor and get your physical batteries recharged. Then go to work on your mental batteries.

All people (in and out of the suburbs) respond to friendliness and someone who shows an interest in THEIR interests. A woman who turns sour over small indignities, real or imagined, and then cries because she is ignored, should not hold her breath waiting for someone to offer a hand in friendship. It won't happen.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Dont's," enclosing with your request 35¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Armed Forces

The saying that "It's a woman's world" was never more true than in today's modern air force. More and more highly skilled jobs are being performed by WAF (Women in the Air Force). Today WAF are found in such highly diversified careers as stenographers, x-ray technicians, finance, public information, intelligence and photography. These women receive the same pay and promotion opportunities as men.

WAF may be assigned to any of 40 air force bases in the United States plus interesting overseas assignments. This opportunity for world travel while mastering an interesting and needed skill accounts for the large number of young women (18 to 27) choosing an air force career.

But more women are now needed if the air force is to meet its world-wide defense commitments.

Young women who are high school graduates and interested in more information on the opportunities for women in the air force should contact their local air force recruiting office.

JACKSONVILLE, N. C. (FHTNC) -- Marine Lance Corporal Robert H. Bean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bean of 227, Alabama, St., Sikeston, Mo., is serving with Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron (HMM-265), based at the New River Marine Corps Air Facility in Jacksonville, N. C.

The squadron recently logged 10,000 accident free hours with their CH-46A "Sea Knight" helicopters. HMM-265 was the first Marine squadron to receive the Sea Knight, and the first to log 10,000 accident free hours in this type of twin-rotor troop and cargo carrying helicopter.

This is the second time the squadron has logged1 squadron has logged 10,000 accident free hours. The first was in 1963, when HMM-265 used the UN-34D "Seahorse."

THE MAIL BAG

To the Editor:

The 14 members of the National Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress, created by Congress and appointed by the President, has everything nicely figured out.

They propose that poverty be made illegal and impossible by giving everyone a guaranteed income of $3000 a year, removing the need to work.

The same idea was discussed in the Greek play "Ecclesiazusae" written 2300 years ago by Aristophanes in which a lady politician named Praxagora said:

"I want all to have a share of everything and all property to be held in common; there will no longer be either rich or poor; no longer shall we see one man harvesting vast tracks of land, while another has not ground to be buried in. . . .I intend that there shall be only one and the same condition of life for all. . . I shall begin by making land, money, everything that is private property, common to all."

"But who," asked Bleyprus, another character in the play, "shall do all the work"?

"Oh" answered Praxagora, "we shall have slaves for that."

Are You a Young Man On the Way Up?

Today's man on the way up may still be in college, or he may be just starting his family. Either way, now is the time for him to buy life insurance -- premiums will never be lower. And to help, until his salary increases, MFA Life Insurance offers lower premiums during these early years when income is lower. As the years pass, and the income increases, the premiums graduate on a predetermined schedule. Ask about the Modified Five-Ten Policy.

Outlook For Wet March

PORTAGEVILLE -- A wet March with near normal temperatures is indicated by the 30-day outlook for the Bootheel.

This gives assurance of going into the spring planting season with ample to excess moisture, depending upon trends late in the month and in early April.

At the same time, there will be a gradual warming of soils as they respond to the normal seasonal rise in temperatures.

Most high pressure systems crossing the nation will move inland from the Pacific and pass through the Mississippi valley on a path through Missouri. This reduces prospects for extremely cold arctic outbreaks and favors periodic exchanges between cool Pacific air and warm southerly winds from the Gulf of Mexico.

Temperatures in March reach the 60s fairly often under near normal conditions and occasionally warm into the 70s. Few long cold spells occur in a normal March, and night time low readings fluctuate between the 20s and 40s, averaging out about 38 degrees. Few below freezing readings are encountered in the last week of a normal March. However, with warmer than normal averages in March 1955, the mercury dropped to 13 degrees on the 26th day of the month. It is advisable to watch the five day weather outlook for indications of short period abnormalities.

Low pressure disturbances will continue to form in the Texas-Mexico border region and move northeastward, crossing the Mississippi river within range of the Bootheel. Frequent rain periods are likely to bring total accumulations of 5 to 8 inches. Some of this will undoubtedly fall during thunderstorms which are capable of spilling local downpours as much as that in one day.

The 5 to 8 inch value is an anticipated average for the seven southeast counties of Missouri with rain falling on 11 to 15 days of the month.

Near normal precipitation in February kept Bootheel soils well supplied with moisture. Totals varied from 3.40 inches at Cape Girardeau to 3.74 inches at Portageville and 4.15 inches at Caruthersville. This compares with the normal for Southeast Missouri of 3.77 inches. This included 4.6 inches of snow at Portageville.

Normal rainfall for March for the Bootheel as a whole is 4.79 inches. Figures for individual cities:

Caruthersville, 5.05 inches; Fisk, 4.57 inches; New Madrid, 5.05 inches, Poplar Bluff, 4.50 inches; Dexter, 4.83 inches; Morehouse, 4.73 inches; Parma, 4.85 inches and Sikeston, 4.99 inches.

Short term averages for other points are: Malden, 4.64 inches; Kennett, 4.60 inches; Portageville, 4.41 inches; Charleston, 4.85 inches.

Even with those amounts, evaporation is normally so low that an excess of three inches of moisture may be expected. In a wet month maximum advantage will have to be taken of dry periods. Sufficient drying to allow much field preparation is unlikely. Fields will often be too wet to permit surface application of fertilizers on winter wheat, except on sandy soils. March winds are not as likely to cause as much erosion on wet fields, however.

Schedule of Satellites

Communism Is Topic Of Study

AS THE STUDENTS of contemporary history classes are discovering, communism is a term that is greatly misunderstood and widely misused. They are learning the differences between theoretical communism and communism as it is practiced in Russia and China today.

These seniors learned that communism is an old idea of philosophers who dreamed of an ideal state.

Plato described his interpretation of this ideal state in his book THE REPUBLIC. Aristotle, a student of Plato, voiced similar beliefs on this subject.

Since Plato's time, others have talked and written about ideal governments where people would share equally what they produced. Sir Thomas More, an Englishman, wrote a small book called UTOPIA, describing an imaginary country where there was no such thing as private property and everyone lived together in one huge, happy family.

In America in the 1600's some colonists experimented in communism. The Pilgrims in Plymouth and the settlers of Jamestown set up a system where no one owned land and each colonist took his supplies from the community stocks.

The result was the lazy settlers did not work, and the industrious ones became discouraged and unhappy.

During the 1800's French reformer Charles Furier and Englishman Robert Owen experimented in communism with little success.

Toward the middle of the 1800's a new form of communism appeared in Germany. One of its founders, Karl Marx, along with his friend Friedrich Engels developed a new system of ideals.

Marx and Engels rejected all religious ideas--they believed that the world and universe had grown from matter. Through supposedly logical reasoning, they came up with the theory of dialectical materialism.

They were opposed to capitalism because they thought that the wealth of the bourgeoisie steadily increased while shopkeepers and land-owning peasants were reduced to the proletariat. In 1848 Marx and Engels proclaimed the Communist Manifesto in which they appealed to the working class to rebel.

Communism took control of Russia after the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917. In 1918 Vladimir Lenin established the Russian Socialist Federated Soviet Republic, which was later changed to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR).

To determine the differences between theoretical communism and the communisms of today, students must do much individual research.

We should be thankful that we have the chance to study other forms of government as deeply as we wish -- instead of relying on government propaganda that can be extremely distorted. Through our studies of other types of governments, we should realize the greatness of our own government, democracy.

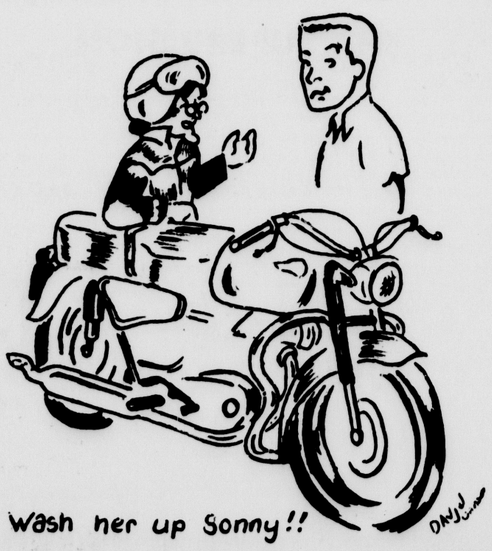
Regular Studying Deemed Useful

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23 marks the close of the third quarter, and students still have time to do something about that grade that they were going to "bring upon the next test."

Since this quarter began during January, everyone got off to a slow start because their study habits had been altered during Christmas vacation.

Several days of spring weather induced outdoor fun rather than indoor studying during this nine weeks.

SENIOR CAR WASH



MRS. JOANNE FOX sings "Ave Marie" during the late division band concert last week. Band members Susie Howle, Carolyn Kirby, Sandy Vandlandingham, Gail Stallings, and Jane Anne Baker diligently accompany Mrs. Fox.

Future Business Leaders Hold Official Installation

Mrs. Helen Reuber Speaks To Future Teachers Group

Conselor Mrs. Helen Reuber was guest speaker of the Future Teachers of America at their monthly meeting Tuesday evening.

Theme of the talk was combining counseling with teaching. Mrs. Reuber told of using the guidance approach and how it helps the new teacher in the first day of class.

Several points a person must consider before teaching are determining the teacher's own weakness, recognizing own areas of sensitivity, meeting problems, such as lack of adequate equipment.

Mrs. Reuber also stressed the importance of being objective and determining what one really values.

She told how a teacher can be the best counselor for the teacher comes in day-to-day contact with the student. Alert teachers can help students understand themselves, identify the gifted, and often identify the emotionally or socially maladjusted.

Study made of normal people and points that characterize these people was also discussed.

Mrs. Reuber told of some of her own experiences in teaching to accent some of the points discussed.

Advisers Aid InCeremony; Gain Charter

Thirty-three members were inducted into the Future Business Leaders of America club last Wednesday evening in the cafetorium. Because the Fisk chapter was not able to attend, the Panel of Advisers conducted the ceremony.

Mrs. Rovena Hillsman served as the installing official and she was aided by Dick Watkins, manager of the local radio station.

Short talks were given by specific members of the panel. With a crystal ball as a symbol, Phil Barkett Sr., spoke on the future. Pat Lea, vice president of the Bank of Sikeston, talked on business with a small typewriter serving as his symbol.

Boy and girl dressed as graduates inspired Bob Henzl's talk on leadership. He is manager of Anchor Toy. Dr. Audra B. Smith of Sikeston presented a small American flag with his speech on America.

President of the club Terry Burke accepted the chapter charter. Mr. Watkins administered the oath of office to the officers, and he led the members in the recitation of the creed.

Guests attending the installation were Earl Jarvis of Jarvis and Conn Motor Company, principal, Roger Sherman, instructor Miss Electa O'Hara, and several parents.

Refreshments were served following the ceremony. Students Jan Yates and Janet Butrum were in charge of the decorations and refreshments.

Miss Williams Announces Forthcoming Play Cast

Cast for the drama club's performance of "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" has been announced by instructor Miss Carole Ann Williams.

Players are Nellie, Jeannie Winters; Adam Oakhart, Robin Chambers; Widow Lovelace, Elaine Dockins; Munro Murgatrayd, David Whiteaker; Ida Rhinegold, Kathy Hahs; Mookie, Terry Burke.

Mrs. Upson Asterbilt, Judy Murchison; Leonie, Teresa Hammelman; Fleurette, Sheila Elledge, and Little Nell, Beth Mayfield.

"Dirty Work at the Crossroads" by Bill Johnson will be presented on April 22 and 23. Play is amelodrama with a hero, villain, young lady, and typical family problems.

This production will be completed with music which will be written especially for the drama club by Brian Curtis in Cape Girardeau.

Assistant directors are Danny Cannon and Bob Urban. Costumes and publicity will be handled by Phonda Snow and Elaine Dockins respectively.

Art instructor Miss Emily Brenecke will paint the background for the play.

Guess Who?

Spotlighted in this week's "Guess Who" column is a well-known faculty member.

She sponsors an extra-curricular activity in Sikeston high school, and she is an adult officer for a prominent social organization in the community of Sikeston.

Mystery person has attended college at Western Kentucky State, where she received her Bachelor of Science Degree; and at the University of Missouri, the University of Colorado, and the University of Illinois.

First student to come by the journalism room after 3:30 and correctly identify the mystery person will receive a prize.

Last week's mystery faculty member was librarian Frederick W. Huff.

Lumsden Is Test Finalist On NMSQT

Senior Fred Lumsden has been named a finalist in the 1965-'66 National Merit scholarship Program competition and has been awarded a Certificate of Merit.

This certificate is given in recognition of high performance in the Merit ScholarshipProgram and is awarded to about one-half of one per cent of high school seniors in the nation.

Reception of this certificate makes Fred a finalist in the merit program. Scholarships will be offered in the current competition.

The merit program not only offers financial rewards, but it also encourages intellectual attainment and the pursuit of excellence generally.

Results of the final tally will be announced confidentially about March 25, and public announcement will be made about April 20.

SHS Speech Group Gains Memberships

Seven students joined the Sikeston high school National Forensic League recently.

Karol Kem, Dianna Chism, Shelton Taylor, Raymond Shannon, Mike Musick, Sue Hill, and Vincent LaCour are the new members.

Several members of the organization obtained new degrees following the Southland debate.

Dale Morris and Mike Hopkins received the degree of distinction. Mike Payne, Wayne Hulehan, and Joe Schuchart obtained the degree of excellence.

Jeanne Shankle and John Carr received the degree of honor.

These degrees signify that the student reached the 250, 150, and 75 - point bracket, respectively.

Sikeston high school National Forensic League chapter ranks highest in the nation with 415 memberships and degrees. Excelsior high school in California is second with a total of 193.

Debaters will meet area schools in a speech contest Tuesday afternoon. "A" debaters will compete at Clarkton and "B" debaters will participate in Gideon.

State National Forensic League will meet later this month in Jefferson City, but the exact date is not known because of the special legislative session now in progress.

Band Clinic Is Tomorrow Brass Quintet

University of Wichita Brass Quintet will sponsor band clinic in the Sikeston high school tomorrow.

Members of the quintet will present a concert at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the cafeteria. Ensembles to perform at 1:15 are trumpets and coronets in the cafeteria, French horns in the chorus room, and baritones, trombones, basses, and low brass in the band room.

Southeast Missouri High School Band Association is in charge of the various clinics in Sikeston and area schools.

Memphis State Percussion Ensemble presented a concert at Sikeston several weeks ago and a percussion ensemble from Illinois gave a concert in Dexter two weeks ago.

Bands from 57 Southeast Missouri schools are invited to attend the clinic tomorrow.

Late division (8:30) band, directed by Keith Collins, presented its annual concert last Thursday evening in the middle school auditorium.

Mrs. JoAnne Fox, Sikeston solo vocalist, sang "Ave Maria," and "Hello, Young Lovers," accompanied by the band.

Thirty-five seniors are members of the 8:30 band, three of whom are officers. President is Rob Collins; vice-president, Dennis Ziegenhorn; and secretary-treasurer, Carolyn Kirby.

Early band (7:30 division) will present its annual concert next Friday evening in the middle school auditorium. Senior Judy Matthews will serve as piano soloist for this concert. Members of the two bands will have their annual dance at the American Legion Hall following the concert.

Other concerts scheduled for the future are Sikeston Community Choir, March 13; Southeast Missouri Band Association Festival, March 30; and Sikeston high school choir Palm Sunday concert, April 3.

District Band Claims Seven SHS Players

Seven Sikeston high school band students have been selected to be members of the Southeast Missouri District Band.

This group will play for the opening session of the District Teachers Convention in Cape Girardeau, Thursday morning, March 17.

Students selected are Barbara Cantrell, clarinet; Sylvia Noles, French horn; Dianne Caskey, alto clarinet; Deidre Harber, oboe; Charles Stamp, saxaphone; Mike Hopkins, tympani; and Judy Murchison, flute.

Prof. Robert Restemeyer of Southeast Missouri State College will conduct the band.

Seventy band students were selected from 90 schools over the district for the band.

Practice for the district group will be Saturday, March 12, and Monday, March 15, at the Southeast Missouri State College.

Victory Bell, New Scoreboard Prove Useful

Various merchants and Sikeston citizens have rendered great assistance to the Red Peppers of Sikeston high school this past year.

Potlatch Forest Industry donated hundreds of feet of poster paper to the girls, Barkett's Big Star gave reductions on paper cups for "spirit" water, and Canedy Sign Company lettered the new victory bell. Nunelee's Funeral Home allowed the peppers to use several pieces of artificial grass.

Arthur Ziegenhorn, Raymond Leible, and Bruce Lewis permitted several decoration committees to use their warehouses for decoration and storage purposes.

Hart's Bakery donated bread for the March of Dimes Drive, and Home Materials gave the Red Peppers wood to use for the new scoreboard.

Rex Joyce and Adron Werneck gave of their "spare time" to build various chicken wire objects for the organization.

Gordon "Doc" Shy secured the victory bell, and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bakrett allowed the Red Peppers to use their large cardboard Bulldog for decoration purposes.

Numerous Sikeston citizens loaned their wrought iron chairs to the group for various uses.

"It is evident that without the generosity of these Sikeston residents, the Red Peppers would have been unable to advance as greatly this year," said cayenne Carol Werneck.

Today In U. S. History

Today is Friday, March 4, the 63rd day of 1966. There are 302 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1789, the first federal Congress under the present Constitution met in New York in the hall which stood at the corner of Broad and Wall streets in New York.

On this date

In 1681, William Penn received a grant for lands lying north of Maryland west of the Delaware River which became the State of Pennsylvania.

In 1791, Vermont, the 14th state, entered the union.

In 1933, Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaugurated as president.

In 1943, American forces defeated the Japanese in the Battle of the Bismarck Sea.

In 1908, a school fire in Cleveland, Ohio, claimed the lives of 172 children and teachers.

Ten years ago—Pope Pius XII warned all nations against the lure of what he called insidious peace overtures by the Communist Congress in Moscow.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy announced he had named his brother-in-law, Sargent Shriver, as Peace Corps director.

One year ago — Nearly 2,000 students, mostly Asians, attacked the U.S. Embassy in Moscow in protest against American Viet Nam policy.

Parcel Service In City Grows

ST. LOUIS -- The commercial and residential expansion of Sikeston has experienced in the past year has resulted in growth within United Parcel Service.

"Our development during the past year has had to be rapid to keep pace with the increased needs of new residents and growing businesses," states Robert Marquart, manager of the delivery company's Sikeston operations.

The firm serves a broad area of Missouri from its Sikeston building. Operating out of its new 4,000 square foot facility on East Malone Street, UPS provides a small parcel pick-up and delivery service. It links Missouri firms to their customers and suppliers in all or parts of 14 midwestern states. In this service, packages up to 50 pounds in weight are handled.

In addition to Marquart, other employes are Sam Baker, Frank Bowman, Bob Britton, Gary Davis, Don Latham, Ron Newton, Bob Perry, John Robbins, Tom Roberts, Steve Kappler, and Dennis Johnson.

When United Parcel Service first came to Sikeston in February of 1965 it employed five men. Due to growth, the firm expects to add another employe this year, bringing the total to 13.

Associated Press News Reaches 900 Million

NEW YORK AP -- Associated Press news reaches more than 900 million people daily, Wes Gallagher, general manager, said today.

In his annual report to Associated Press members, Gallagher pointed out that even with three million words moving on Associated Press wires every 24 hours it is difficult to cope with the ever increasing flood of news.

"As the world grows more complex and more sophisticated it develops more problems and more news," Gallagher said.

"This explosion of news places the editor in the same position as the college president who must try to compress and design teaching to produce not only the specialist but the well rounded student as well."

Coverage of the world's news is no easy task, said Gallagher, who noted that AP newsmen undergo physical dangers regularly. Two Associated Press photographers lost their lives this past year in Viet Nam.

Other aspects of the general manager's report include: What the AP is doing to step up its coverage of the expanding war in Viet Nam, how AP photographers are beating the problem of cliche pictures, and the technological advances around the world that are speeding news and pictures to more than 900 million people.

Gallagher outlined these actions taken by The AP to meet the challenge of the news explosion:

"A task force of specialists was set up to report, edit and photograph racial developments. These staff men, well-backgrounded in their field, will go into any area where their experience will be helpful for better understanding of the news.

"Another task force of writers was named as a mobile emergency force to be assigned to enterprise projects connected with the spot news.

"Assignment of specialists. The necessity for translating jargon and technical detail into meaningful language for the layman increases. And to the list of science, aerospace, education, religion and other standard areas, we have added in the past year intensified coverage of consumer interests.

"New fields of reporting have been entered ranging from explaining how big government works in a democracy to taking a low-brow look at high-brow society from Cannes to Palm Beach."

Among the technical advances:

Creation of a new communications department under Asst. General Manager Dan De Luce as a planning instrument to explore the potentials in the satellite age and to apply new communications developments as rapidly as possible to the worldwide system of the AP.

Automatic Wirephoto, a fully automatic photo process, was introudced and more than 150 members in the United States, Canada and Europe signed up for it.

A 24-hour leased circuit connecting the cable desk in New York with The AP bureau in Saigon vastly improved communications to and from Viet Nam.

A new technical center, staffed by Associated Press engineering and maintenance specialists, was created in St. Louis, Mo., to work with staff technicians in the field and with newspaper production executives.

The two AP photographers killed in Viet Nam were Bernard J. Kolenberg, on leave from the Albany N. Y., Times-Union, and Huyn Thanh My, a Vietnamese nation who had previously been wounded.

"Their deaths brought to nine the number of Associated Press men killed since the Spanish Civil War. Other correspondents have been killed in the Viet Nam conflict, and other Associated Press men have been wounded there," Gallagher said.

As American forces in Viet Nam were built up, so was the staff of The AP assigned to cover the war. By the end of the year it had grown to 30 newsmen, divided equally between nationals of Viet Nam and Associated Press men assigned from the United States and abroad.

In both news and photo departments, Gallagher said The Associated Press "now has outstanding young men with parallel authority but quite different responsibilities: to direct the day-to-day spot, developing report; to concentrate on enterprise and unusual material. During 1965 the newsphoto staff was reorganized along these lines with Patrick J. McDonald named newsphoto executive and Harold G. Buell appointed director of photography.

"Efforts to get away from routine photo copy also included engaging an outside consultant to point up to Associated Press photographers the ways of avoiding stereotyped pictures in stereotyped situations," he said, "and use of second or third photographers in major news situations assigned specifically to get only the noncliche picture."

Gallagher said The AP had gained 28 newspaper members during 1965 and the Wirephoto network had gained 31 more subscribers. Gains in newspaper membership were the greatest for any year since the end of World War II. The number of new subscribers to Wirephoto represented the largest increase in eight years.

Gallagher said The AP had 2,780 broadcasters as members at the end of 1965, a high and a net increase of 57 stations over 1964.

Last year three AP Newsfeatures special projects offered to readers through member newspapers brought sales of more than 145,000 copies.

In the book field, nearly 100,000 copies of the first AP news annual, "The World in 1964," were distributed through AP member newspapers to their readers. Many members also provided copies for schools and libraries.

Gallagher said a new version, "The World in 1965," is being offered to the public through 450 member newspapers in 1966.

Dizzy Time for U.S. Foreign Policy

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The past year, particularly the past two months, has been as dizzy and confused a time in American foreign affairs as any since the isolationism of the 1930s left the United States docile, unarmed and ill-prepared for the war that came.

Now the divided opinion on the Vietnamese war may well make the North Vietnamese Communists and the Viet Cong believe the American will to fight is splintered and that by continuing the war they may win what they want.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Connecticut Democrat, calls the criticism of the Vietnamese war "the new isolationism." But the criticism is not so clear as that. There is a general unhappiness among the critics but no unity on a solution.

Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat, has denounced President Johnson's Viet Nam policy as "immoral and godless." He said Johnson has no constitutional right to send troops into it without a declaration of war. But there is not even a little sign Congress intends to declare war.

Morse called for arbitration of the war by the United Nations. Johnson made a bid to the United Nations for a negotiated settlement. But the U.N. Security Council shows little stomach for getting involved.

Last spring Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, Johnson's constant war critic, and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called for a halt to the bombing of North Viet Nam as a way to induce the Communihts into a negotiated settlement.

Starting late in December, and for 37 days, Johnson halted the bombings, sent peace emissaries around the world. The North Vietnamese ignored him and Johnson ordered the bombing resumed Jan. 31.

Later Fulbright called for a negotiated settlement with major concessions by both sides, and this week he proposed a settlement by agreement with Red China for neutralization of all Southeast Asia.

But the United States has no regular diplomatic relations with the Chinese, has kept them out of the United Nations. And it is hard to see how China, even if it agreed not to invade its neighbors, could be kept from subverting them, which would have the same effect as invasion.

Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, retired, told Fulbright's committee a large-scale increase of American troops in Viet Nam would involve the risk of war with Red China. Wednesday Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced American combat strength in Viet Nam would be boosted from 215,000 to 235,000 men.

Yet, Gavin insisted American troops should stay in Viet Nam but at the same time said this country should not escalate the war.

And George F. Kennan, one-time head of the State Department's policy planning staff, also had some advice for Fulbright's group: This country should decide what could be securely held in Viet Nam and then dig in and wait for a political solution. But even while he was saying it the Viet Cong held about 75 per cent of South Viet Nam.

Johnson sensitive to criticism and public opinion and anxious to satisfy as many Americans as possible, has been talking of waging a very restrained kind of war, which may or may not be evidence the critics have tied his hands a bit.

BAD TOLZ, GERMANY (AHTNC) -- Sgt. Eddie L. Kellum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kellum, Route 1, Box 38-A, Oran, Mo., was graduated Feb. 25 from the Seventh U.S. Army Noncommissioned Officer Academy in Bad Tolz, Germany.

Sergeant Kellum received four weeks of training in leadership responsibilities, exercise of command, map reading and military teaching methods.

Assigned to Troop F of the 3d Armored Cavalry Regiment's 2d Reconnaissance Squadron near Kaiserslautern, Germany, the sergeant entered the Army in July 1963 and arrived overseas in January 1964.

He is a 1963 graduate of Oran High School.

An ad executive was telling about the trouble he has keeping a secretary. "The last one left," he said, "because we had so many coffee breaks she couldn't sleep nights."

Highway 25 Cause Draws Cash

MALDEN -- Missourians aren't the only ones interested in an improved Highway 25. Joe Brasher, president of the newly formed Highway 25 Association says that each week he receives memberships from out of state residents who are interested in supporting the drive for a new Highway 25.

Last week he received memberships from E. S. VanCleve of Indianola, Miss., and from Lloyd A. Craig of Michigan City, Ind. Both men have relatives in Malden and are well acquainted with the condition of Highway 25.

Brasher said that the Highway 25 Association membership drive is still in progress and all interested persons are urged to send in their dollars to become a member.

Disaster Warnings Will Cut Deaths

WASHINGTON AP -- The Commerce Department said Wednesday its proposed national disaster warning system is expected to reduce by half the number of deaths and by more than $100 million the annual economic loss caused by natural disasters.

"It is taking cover that so markedly improves one's chances of surviving tornadoes, hurricanes, blizzards or most other severe natural disasters," said Dr. J. Herbert Holloman, assistant secretary of commerce for science and technology.

Congress has been asked to appropriate $7 million this year to begin setting up the warning plan which was devised following last year's Palm Sunday tornados in the Midwest.

Natural disasters claim between 500 and 600 lives annually and cause economic losses estimated at between $11 billion and $15 billion a year, the department reported.

The plan ultimately will provide round-the-clock weather service to all 2,900 communities in the nation which have a daily newspaper or radio or television station.

First year efforts, the department said, will be directed mainly at improving radar and teletypewriter warning devices in areas highly susceptible to tornados.

If Congress approves the money, radar installations will be installed at Springfield, Mo.; Grand Island, Neb.; San Antonio and Midland, Tex.; Garden City, Kan.; Nashville and Bristol, Tenn.; and Alma, Ga.

Teletypewriter networks would be established in Alabama, Georgia, Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, and Wisconsin.

GRAFENWOHR, GERMANY (AHTNC) -- Army Specialist Four Larry L. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Graham, 311 N. Heggie, Charleston, Mo., is participating in the 24th Infantry Division's annual tank gunnery program here which ends March 13.

During the program's two phases, Specialist Graham, a driver with Company B, 1st Battalion of the division's 70th Armor, will first undergo pre-gunnery training which includes bore sighting, zeroing all tank weapons and range finder calibration.

The 19-year-old soldier will then move to the range to be graded on day and night firing in various combat operations.

Specialist Graham entered the Army in July 1964 and was last stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

He attended Charleston High School.

Wheels Snag On Tokyo Port Lights

TOKYO (AP) — Landing in fog, a giant DC8 jet of the Canadian Pacific Airline caught its wheels in the approach lights at Tokyo International Airport tonight and smashed into a retaining wall.

Police said at least 56 of the 71 persons aboard were killed.

A police tabulation showed six others were missing and presumed dead, leaving nine survivors. Jesse Zousmer, a vice president of the American Broadcasting Co., was among those apparently dead, along with his wife.

The $6-million plane, bound from Hong Kong to Vancouver and South America, carried 62 passengers and a crew of nine, the Canadian Pacific said after a series of conflicting reports about the number aboard.

The four-engine plane ripped a 20-yard section from the breakwater wall at the edge of the runway and scattered flaming wreckage more than 1,000 yards down the runway.

Seven survivors were pulled from the plane but one died after being rushed to a hospital, police said.

Eight Arrests In City Thursday

Eight persons were arrested Thursday by police:

Ralph M Rudisill, route two, charged with careless and imprudent driving, and being involved in an accident.

Lindsay Wants Big Tax Increase

NEW YORK AP -- Mayor John V. Lindsay says he wants authority to raise another $520 million a year in taxes to save New York from paralysis and decay, but he faces tough opposition in the City Council and in the state Legislature.

Lindsay said in a radio and television talk Thursday night that he will ask the Legislature on Monday for permission to impose a personal and business income tax to provide the bulk of new revenue needed to meet a record $4.5-billion budget.

At Albany, even within Lindsay's own Republican party, legislators were reported to be cool to the proposals unless the city raises its 15-cent bus and subway fare to pay part of the transit deficit.

General Asks Tactics Change

CHARLESTON -- Retired Army Major Gen. Thomas A. Lane, gave his views on the United States policy in Viet Nam Thursday night at the high school.

He said that as long as the United States government observes the rule of sanctuary not letting troops cross over into North Viet Nam territory, it will never win the war and will exhaust the nation's manpower.

"The United States government has let the Viet Cong persuade it that if we do cross the border we will expand the war," he said. In General Lane's opinion this will not happen because Communist China has limited communications and once these communications are cut off they would either surrender or we would have picked the place to fight.

"The Soviet Union will not enter the war because it doesn't want to risk a nuclear war," he said.

According to Major Lane Communist leaders are trained against adventurism. They will not take the risk of losing all of communism in the hope of gaining one small country.

General Lane says that "we should break the rule of sanctuary" and predicted that "the war would be over in six months."

"The false belief that restraint on our part will enable us to win the war only leads us deeper and deeper into war," he said. "Until we change our policy we shall continue to lose. With a million Americans we cannot defend South Viet Nam on South Viet Nam soil. We must have victory now so we can bring our boys home."

Search for More Jackson Victims

JACKSON, Miss. AP -- Rescue workers combed sparsely populated rural regions east of Jackson today, looking for more victims of the savage tornadoes which spewed death and destruction in Mississippi.

The Mississippi death toll steadily mounted during the night and stood at 57, the Mississippi Highway Patrol said. One person was reported killed in neighboring Alabama.

Larry Parks of broadcast station WQFT-FM at Forest, in Scott County, said many homes "are just gone... and the people in them are missing, too."

In Jackson, the state's largest city and capital, a tornado dealt death and devastation in a suburban shopping center. At least 12 persons were killed.

Nearby, the modern brick Woodville Heights Baptist church looked like it had exploded. Homes across the street were untouched.

A patrol spokesman said 411 were injured in Jackson and rural counties to the east of the capital city.

One of the tornado victims was Joe Bullock, a Democratic candidate for Congress in Mississippi's 4th District. Bullock, recently ousted as director of the state's Agriculture and Industrial Board, was killed instantly, the Highway Patrol said, when the twister blew his car off the road near the Forkville community in Scott County.

Damage was expected to run into the millions from the state's worst natural disaster since a 1942 tornado left 75 dead in central and northwest Mississippi.

"I think we'll find more dead," said Deputy Sheriff Bob Fasano.

Officers also feared more bodies would turn up in Scott County, to the east of Jackson.

The line of tornadoes moved eastward into west-central Alabama during the night. In Alabama 11 were injured.

An Air Force Reserve C119 transport flew into Jackson shortly after midnight, bringing two mobile Red Cross disaster trucks and 20 pints of rare blood from Mobile, Ala.

Much of the destruction in Jackson, the state's largest city with a quarter of a million people, was centered around the Candlestick Park shopping center at the southwest edge of the city. The Highway Patrol said 12 persons were killed in the shopping center.

One wall of a supermarket and a service station wall were all that remained standing in the center.

Other funnels stabbed out of boiling, black clouds near Greenwood, Miss., leaving a few smashed homes and uprooted trees, but no injuries.

In Ranklin County's industrial area, the Knox glass works, Continental Can Co. plant and Jackson Tile Co. plant were wrecked.

A 12-year-old boy was killed in the county when the whirling winds plucked him from a bicycle and slammed him against a fence.

Guatemala in Bitter Campaign

GUATEMALA CITY AP — A bitter election campaign is drawing to a close in Guatemala with two of the three presidential candidates warning that "another Santo Domingo" could develop.

Planes Attack Railway Line

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. pilots resumed attacks on the railway line linking Hanoi with Red China Thursday in one phase of the war's greatest display of air power against Communist targets in North and South Viet Nam.

"It was our maximum effort," a spokesman said today.

In the ground war, two battalions of U.S. Marines reported hard fighting with a Viet Cong force of about the same size eight miles northwest of Quang Ngai, 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

A Marine jet attack bomber and two helicopters supporting the ground forces were shot down.

His death last night was aggravated by the accident, according to the state highway patrol. He was found slumped over the steering wheel of his car.

He was driving a 1960 Ford on highway 84, at the city limits, last night at 7:15 p.m., when he ran into the rear of a 1966 Pontiac, driven by Maurice Ward, 51, also of Kennett, who had halted at a stop sign.

Ward was not injured.

Paper Mill Plans Told

PORTAGEVILLE -- Delta New Madrid Paper Corporation, officials discussed obtaining a large paper mill for New Madrid at a meeting here last night.

Attendance was held down by rain but stock pledges were taken.

Sam L. Hunter Jr., director of the corporation, presided, with the Rev. Jessie Layton, pastor of the Methodist church, giving the invocation. Mayor Joe Christian, welcomed the visitors.

W. R. Phillips Jr., president, told about the proposed plant and Hal E. Hunter Jr., secretary, explained the role of the EBS Management Corporation, with offices in Chicago, Ill.

Glen Speidel, regional manager and director of the EBS corporation, outlined the plans, followed by a question and answer period.

Delta New Madrid Corporation directors met today to decide on dates when they would appear in Malden and Sikeston, to discuss the plant. More than $150,000 of the $300,000 stock goal has been purchased before an April 1, deadline.

Scientist Dies

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. AP -- Murray Raney, 80, of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., noted scientist whose development of catalysts earned him worldwide recognition, died Thursday of injuries suffered in a traffic accident Tuesday.

5,177 Road Signs

There are 5,177 signs of all sizes, located on the 949 miles primary highway system in division 10 of the state highway department.

A survey made in the 12-county division by highway personnel showed that there were 179 salvage and junkyards along the highways.

A statewide survey is being completed to show the number of signs and junkyards to comply with the new federal highway beautification law. Reports are being made of all signs that are within 660 feet of the right-of-way and junkyards within 1,000 feet, according to W. D. Carney, district 10 engineer.

The regulations are for federal highways while the Missouri law is for within 200 feet on the right-of-way.

Compliance is necessary to qualify for maximum federal highway aid effective in January of 1968.

Aid will be reduced 10 per cent if the state does not comply.

Missouri now receives $100,000,000 annually in federal highway funds.

The report on the 12 counties, miles, signs and junkyards respectively are:

Bollinger--96.01, 361, 10.

New Move To Check War

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new move to put Congress on record against a broadening of the Viet Nam war was launched today as the debate moved into the dollars and cents stage.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., announced he will try to tack a policy rider on the emergency $415-million foreign aid authorization now before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

FIRE DESTROYED the home of the J. R. Myers family, a half-mile east of Matthews junction on highway 80. All possessions were lost. The family is now making their home in quarters provided on the Castor Alsup farm, north of the destroyed home. Friends and neighbors have come to the rescue and provided them with the necessary furniture and clothing for the family of six, after an appeal by the Sikeston welfare office.

Head Start Details Announced

Details of the federal Head Start program for pre-school children beginning March 15 were announced today.

Each child to be enrolled must be accompanied by his parent or guardian Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Lincoln school or Tanner Street Church of God educational building.

Requirements for enrollment are:

The child must be six years old on or before Sept. 15, 1966.

Children from families whose annual income is less than $3,000 will receive first consideration.

Parents must bring their child's birth certificate and immunization record.

Children, who are now enrolled in private kindergarten, will not be considered unless their total family income is less than $3,000.

If enrollment vacancies occur, a small percentage of children may be enrolled who do not meet the age or family income requirements.

Classes will begin at 9:15 a.m. and will be dismissed at 1:15 p.m.

Children will be served milk and cookies at their morning milk break and will receive class A hot lunches at noon. Buses will be routed throughout the school district to centers where groups of children live. Each child also will receive medical, immunizations, dental examinations and laboratory analyses. The children will receive the instruction, food, and medical services at no cost.

Mrs. Phoebe Rowe will direct the program but the rest of the faculty was not announced.

Charleston Annexation Suit Under Study

CHARLESTON -- A two-hour hearing was held last night before Roy McGhee, Piedmont, judge of the 42nd circuit, on a suit in which the city seeks a declaratory judgement to annex 450 acres surrounding the city.

Judge McGhee in circuit court took the case under advisement for a month. He was appointed to hear the case May 25 by the Missouri Supreme Court, after O. A. Reeves and his attorney, C. Frank Reeves had challenged Judge Marshall Craig, on the grounds of prejudice.

Defendants are E. A. Story and Mary Story, James J. and Ozie Reeves, Strawdia H. Lee, Joella Moore, A Vernon Goodin, J. Lanier Byrd, A. L. Story, O. A. Reeves, Mabel M. Marshall, and the S and S Grain and Storage Co.

Other persons who own land in the proposed annexation area have asked to be included in the case as defendants. These include Ellis Howlett and Sam Cox Goodin.

The city claims its growth is strangled by the lack of suitable building lots within the city limits, and the apparent unwillingness of landowners to make adjoining land available for development.

The city claimed annexation was "reasonable and necessary to proper growth and development of the city" and claimed the city has the ability to "furnish normal municipal services to the area within a reasonable time after annexation is effective."

The suit was filed May 11, 1964.

City officials gave the following information concerning growth of the city and the areas to be annexed:

Population of Charleston has grown as follows:

CENSUS	POPULATION
1900	1,893
1910	3,144
1920	3,410
1930	3,357
1940	5,182
1950	5,501
1960	5,911
1965	(est.) 6,500

The assessed valuation of the city in January, 1964, was $6,001,808. The valuation of the area to be annexed would add $240,750 to that figure.

The present area of the city is 1,040 acres of 1.62 square miles. The annexation would add 450 acres of seven-tenths of a square mile.

The population of the area to be annexed is 64 persons.

The city can supply water, sewers, street lights, fire, and police protection to the annexation area. Most of these items could be provided immediately while others could be provided as soon as easements and rights of way could be secured.

The present water and sewer plants can provide services to the new areas with no increase in bonded indebtedness. The officials said the sewer plant is operating at 60 per cent of capacity, while the water system is built for a capacity of 2 million gallons per day. Present peak load is 130,000 gallons.

The present number of city water users is 1,750 compared with a 1960 figure of 1,618.

Mail is now being delivered to 1,879 addresses in the city compared to 1,747 in 1960, 1,514 in 1956, and 1,242 in 1952.

City officials admitted there are some 400 vacant lots within the present city limits, but contend the location of most of these is not such as to encourage construction of new homes.

Wheels Snag On Tokyo Port Lights

TOKYO (AP) — Landing in fog, a giant DC8 jet of the Canadian Pacific Airline caught its wheels in the approach lights at Tokyo International Airport tonight and smashed into a retaining wall.

Police said at least 56 of the 71 persons aboard were killed.

A police tabulation showed six others were missing and presumed dead, leaving nine survivors. Jesse Zousmer, a vice president of the American Broadcasting Co., was among those apparently dead, along with his wife.

The $6-million plane, bound from Hong Kong to Vancouver and South America, carried 62 passengers and a crew of nine, the Canadian Pacific said after a series of conflicting reports about the number aboard.

The four-engine plane ripped a 20-yard section from the breakwater wall at the edge of the runway and scattered flaming wreckage more than 1,000 yards down the runway.

Seven survivors were pulled from the plane but one died after being rushed to a hospital, police said.

Eight Arrests In City Thursday

Lindsay Wants Big Tax Increase

NEW YORK AP -- Mayor John V. Lindsay says he wants authority to raise another $520 million a year in taxes to save New York from paralysis and decay, but he faces tough opposition in the City Council and in the state Legislature.

Lindsay said in a radio and television talk Thursday night that he will ask the Legislature on Monday for permission to impose a personal and business income tax to provide the bulk of new revenue needed to meet a record $4.5-billion budget.

At Albany, even within Lindsay's own Republican party, legislators were reported to be cool to the proposals unless the city raises its 15-cent bus and subway fare to pay part of the transit deficit.

Twitty Joins Research Unit

Lynn Twitty, superintendent of the Sikeston R-6 schools, was advised yesterday that he had been elected to a membership on the board of the Central Midwestern Regional Laboratory, Inc.

The organization is federally sponsored and established for research and development in education for an area including eastern Missouri, Southern Illinois, middle and western Tennessee and middle and western Kentucky.

The board is made up of persons from colleges and universities, and public school officials of the four state region, with the central office located in St. Louis.

A grant of $1 million for planning, has been received, with a five-year budget, estimates to run to $40 million.

The purpose is to use scholars, researchers and school administrators, to improve classroom work in secondary and elementary work.

General Asks Tactics Change

CHARLESTON -- Retired Army Major Gen. Thomas A. Lane, gave his views on the United States policy in Viet Nam Thursday night at the high school.

He said that as long as the United States government observes the rule of sanctuary not letting troops cross over into North Viet Nam territory, it will never win the war and will exhaust the nation's manpower.

"The United States government has let the Viet Cong persuade it that if we do cross the border we will expand the war," he said. In General Lane's opinion this will not happen because Communist China has limited communications and once these communications are cut off they would either surrender or we would have picked the place to fight.

"The Soviet Union will not enter the war because it doesn't want to risk a nuclear war," he said.

According to Major Lane Communist leaders are trained against adventurism. They will not take the risk of losing all of communism in the hope of gaining one small country.

General Lane says that "we should break the rule of sanctuary" and predicted that "the war would be over in six months."

"The false belief that restraint on our part will enable us to win the war only leads us deeper and deeper into war," he said. "Until we change our policy we shall continue to lose. With a million Americans we cannot defend South Viet Nam on South Viet Nam soil. We must have victory now so we can bring our boys home."

Search for More Jackson Victims

JACKSON, Miss. AP -- Rescue workers combed sparsely populated rural regions east of Jackson today, looking for more victims of the savage tornadoes which spewed death and destruction in Mississippi.

The Mississippi death toll steadily mounted during the night and stood at 57, the Mississippi Highway Patrol said. One person was reported killed in neighboring Alabama.

Larry Parks of broadcast station WQFT-FM at Forest, in Scott County, said many homes "are just gone... and the people in them are missing, too."

In Jackson, the state's largest city and capital, a tornado dealt death and devastation in a suburban shopping center. At least 12 persons were killed.

Nearby, the modern brick Woodville Heights Baptist church looked like it had exploded. Homes across the street were untouched.

A patrol spokesman said 411 were injured in Jackson and rural counties to the east of the capital city.

One of the tornado victims was Joe Bullock, a Democratic candidate for Congress in Mississippi's 4th District. Bullock, recently ousted as director of the state's Agriculture and Industrial Board, was killed instantly, the Highway Patrol said, when the twister blew his car off the road near the Forkville community in Scott County.

Damage was expected to run into the millions from the state's worst natural disaster since a 1942 tornado left 75 dead in central and northwest Mississippi.

"I think we'll find more dead," said Deputy Sheriff Bob Fasano.

Officers also feared more bodies would turn up in Scott County, to the east of Jackson.

The line of tornadoes moved eastward into west-central Alabama during the night. In Alabama 11 were injured.

An Air Force Reserve C119 transport flew into Jackson shortly after midnight, bringing two mobile Red Cross disaster trucks and 20 pints of rare blood from Mobile, Ala.

Much of the destruction in Jackson, the state's largest city with a quarter of a million people, was centered around the Candlestick Park shopping center at the southwest edge of the city. The Highway Patrol said 12 persons were killed in the shopping center.

One wall of a supermarket and a service station wall were all that remained standing in the center.

Other funnels stabbed out of boiling, black clouds near Greenwood, Miss., leaving a few smashed homes and uprooted trees, but no injuries.

In Ranklin County's industrial area, the Knox glass works, Continental Can Co. plant and Jackson Tile Co. plant were wrecked.

A 12-year-old boy was killed in the county when the whirling winds plucked him from a bicycle and slammed him against a fence.

Guatemala in Bitter Campaign

GUATEMALA CITY AP — A bitter election campaign is drawing to a close in Guatemala with two of the three presidential candidates warning that "another Santo Domingo" could develop.

In the election on Sunday Guatemalans also will elect a vice president, 54 members of the National Assembly and more than 300 mayors and municipal councils.

Planes Attack Railway Line

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. pilots resumed attacks on the railway line linking Hanoi with Red China Thursday in one phase of the war's greatest display of air power against Communist targets in North and South Viet Nam.

"It was our maximum effort," a spokesman said today.

In the ground war, two battalions of U.S. Marines reported hard fighting with a Viet Cong force of about the same size eight miles northwest of Quang Ngai, 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

A Marine jet attack bomber and two helicopters supporting the ground forces were shot down.

The present number of city water users is 1,750 compared with a 1960 figure of 1,618.

Mail is now being delivered to 1,879 addresses in the city compared to 1,747 in 1960, 1,514 in 1956, and 1,242 in 1952.

City officials admitted there are some 400 vacant lots within the present city limits, but contend the location of most of these is not such as to encourage construction of new homes.

THE GUATEMALAN ELECTIONS

The presidential election in Guatemala on Sunday, March 6, shapes up as a phantom exercise in democracy in a nation controlled by right-wing militarists. Prospects are that the voting will be rigged to ensure victory for Col. Juan de Dios Aguilar, who has the unofficial support of the regime, or, alternatively, if the moderate candidate does win, that the army will prevent him from taking office. The moderate candidate is Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro, formerly dean of San Carlos University Law School.

The Guatemalan regime has rejected United States pleas that an Organization of American States team be invited to observe the elections. It is all that American officials can do to dissuade Guatemalan officers from staging a pre-election coup d'etat aimed at forcing cancellation of the elections.

Little has gone right in Guatemala since the Central Intelligence Agency in 1954 helped overthrow the government of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman who, American officials contended, was leading Guatemala into communism. A succession of military backed regimes have followed one another, none of them interested in tackling basic social and economic problems. Once again a strong Communist-oriented guerrilla and underground movement is stirring.

If civil war breaks out in the wake of abortive or rigged elections, the United States may well find itself called upon to save the situation. There would be a wry kind of justice in that, because it was the United States which engineered the revolt that contributed to the present explosive political condition.

TEXAN TAKEOFF

(EDITOR'S NOTE--The Valley Morning Star, published in Harlingen, Tex., takes a dim view of the "Great Society" as planned and executed by the state's most illustrious citizen, Lyndon B. Johnson. This is reflected in the Star's editorial, which follows under the heading: "Great Society Gimmicks Used To Sell Socialism." We quote:

It's getting so you don't know what to expect next from headquarters of the Great Society in Washington. Seems like the socialistic planners LBJ has on the government payroll come up with something daffy every day. Designed, of course, to provide womb-to-tomb care. Probably the best thing to do is be prepared for anything, sit back and roll with the punches. Maybe a tranquilizer would help.

Listen to this one:

The $25,638 grant the Office of Economic Opportunity has authorized for Cameron County Community Projects, Inc. (CCCP). In case you are wondering what the CCCP is, it was formed last November to get and spend federal anti-poverty funds.

What for?

Apparently, the people in the CCCP weren't exactly sure about what the money was needed for and that's where the $25,000 grant gets in the picture. The grant was announced by Sen. Ralph Yarborough who said it was made to "survey and analyze the most pressing needs in the region and to design programs to fit these needs."

So the CCCP will set up shop, look around and see what we need and go from there with money taken from taxpayers of the country by the Great Society.

It seems obvious that whatever it is that we need and are gonna get will be Something Really Big, since it will cost us $25,000 to figure out what it is.

Another thing:

If we've said it once, we've said it a hundred times: The difference between the Great Society and all its kith and kin -- New Deals, Fair Deals, New Frontiers, ad nauseum -- is that the Great Society has got money.

The New Deal started off with a lot of pith and push, but it bogged down in the hands of a dewy-eyed bunch of college professors who didn't know how to box-in a senator, blackmail a bureaucrat or hoss trade with a cabinet member.

And so it was, down the line. The Fair Deal and the New Frontier promised fantastic new programs to redesign the political landscape, but they never got humping properly because they lacked the touch of a true master.

The Sage of the Pedernales is another brand of Cat. A cool cat, you might say. He, in contrast to his predecessors, knows how to get things done.

We can only admire him.

Take the little things. Such as "Medicare Alert" in Hidalgo county.

Now, what good's a vast new social program if nobody bothers taking a piece of the action? It sort of crawls off in the corner and dies of apathy. That is not going to happen with Medicare.

The taxpayer is putting up $14,000 to hire people to recruit participants for Medicare in Hidalgo County.

This is an interesting departure in welfare-ism.

Conceivably, this practice could be extended into an infinite variety of programs. For example, we could hire people to comb the city looking for applicants for surplus food or child welfare support. We may have to sell some folks on the dole, but think of how we could swell the rolls.

This is not equating Medicare with the dole--exactly. Medicare masquerades as insurance, although we've never heard of insurance run the way Social Security and Medicare are operated.

The point, however, is not Medicare itself but the interesting new practice of recruiting clients for the benefits of the Great Society. It took a master hand to recognize that you have to use the old pizzaz to sell anything--even free benefits.

BILLBOARD BLIGHT

On March 1 the Bureau of Public Roads began a series of hearings in all 50 states on what should be in the new Federal standards for states to qualify for highway funds that depend on billboard control.

Most of the public interest is in keeping the billboard blight from the new length of interstate highway through open country. It is assumed that there will be some billboards along the part of interstate routes that run through commercial and industrial areas.

But in preparation for the state hearings the Public Roads staff has set up for discussion a set of regulations for these business areas. The talk will start on softening or hardening of such items as:

Limitation of six signs per mile on one side of the road.

At least 500 feet apart--

Sign to 30 feet or less from the ground.

Size of 300 square feet, unless the sign is more than 150 feet from the road.

Even in the industrial neighborhoods this seems to us to be more and bigger signs that have any connection whatever with the roadside beauty we have been hearing about so frequently. But these parts of the route would have little beauty to uncover if every sign was removed, and there already were signs before the superhighways came through, so such regulations may be a reasonable compromise.

But the word from Washington is that senators on the public roads subcommittee are most unhappy. They were doubtful about this part of the law when it was adopted. They seem to have thought they had pulled its teeth. They think it is out of place for the Federal men to have a proposal before state hearings have been held.

Most specifically the billboard lobbyists in Washington objected to publishing the discussion points and the Bureau of Public Roads men went ahead. The senators are more impressed with what the billboard people want than the professional road designers are. They have even discussed a committee hearing to air the situation.

On second thought, it seemed the hearings would call additional attention to the senatorial reluctance to hold back the billboards. But we think much more attention to the Senate's attitude is in order.

VIETNAM AND ADA RELATIONS

Controversy over our Vietnam policy serves some purpose in drawing the battle lines regarding communism. Some U. S. Senators, willing to support the over-bright intelligentsia and unwashed street demonstrators as they carry forward in farleft meetings opposing resistance to communists, take one side.

Sixteen Senators went on record by writing President Johnson asking him to delay resumption of bombing. Their average rating is ADA 82. Another contingent headed by Vice-President Humphrey, who is said to have started Americans for Democratic Action and when last in the Senate rated ADA 97, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, top assistant to General Marshall in forcing Chiang Kai-Shek to accept communists in his government resulting in Chiang's expulsion from the mainland and betraying China into communist domination, are now representing President Johnson, carrying the ball for what must be considered the patriotic side.

U. S. Senator Robert Kennedy (D-N. Y.), ADA 94, presses a plan for placating the Viet Cong before peace negotiations start.

ADA ratings are an index to the diversity of their previous and present philosophies. Democratic Senators from the South, including Fulbright, average ADA 27. Republican Senators average ADA 21, but eliminating Javits (N. Y. -94), Case (N. J. -94), and Scott (Penna. -65), the average drops to 14.

Early in the 1960 campaign for the Democratic Presidential nomination, Senators John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Baines Johnson both rejected or discouraged support from ADA. The presentation of ADA ratings may reflect that the philosophy of ADA and the attitude of public figures regarding whether to win, compromise or lose the war is changing. HLH

"BIG JOHN" WINS!

The famous, king-size aluminum hopper car developed by the Southern Railway to cut the cost of hauling grain from the central plains to the Southeastern states by some $40 million a year has been declared the winner over the Interstate Commerce Commission by a three-judge District Court in Cincinnati.

In its decision of May 20, the Court set aside and permanently enjoined the ICC order of last July 15 requiring a 16 percent increase in the 60 percent grain-rate reduction previously approved by Division 2 of the ICC on Big John multiple-car shipments.

"The people of America won a great victory," declared Southern President D. W. Brosnan, "when a Federal Court in Cincinnati recognized that Southern Railway System had a right to save people money by lowering its grain freight rates.

"This decision helps everyone, but especially the housewives in their shopping for food, the small businessman, and the farmers, all of whom suffer most when freight rates are artificially and unnecessarily high. The development of a tremendous new billion-dollar-a-year fat cattle industry in the South is now assured. This will help agri-business in the South and will mean a greatly enlarged market for grain-growers in other parts of the country. . ."

Mr. Brosnan also points out that: "It is ridiculous that any carrier would have to fight in the courts of this country in order to save money for the people and to help our economy grow." What is needed is legislation, which has been before Congress for several years, to allow railroads and other common carriers to lower the prices they charge for moving agricultural and bulk commodities when they can afford to do so -- without interference by Government agencies. As Brosnan says:

". . .if this bill ends up on the legislative scrap heap, American consumers will go on being cheated out of several billion dollars annually from freight rates kept artificially high by regulation which kills off real competition."

But perhaps the cheering that resounds from Big John's victory will reach the Capitol and impress our lawmakers with what minimum rates legislation could do for their consumer constituents, for manufacturers competing against imports from low-wage countries, and for the entire economy of the nation.

It might even impress our solons that they can and should pass this legislation NOW--before they go home to tell the voters how much they have accomplished!

NEW YORK AP -- Tired of coping with the present?

Well, forget it for a few moments. Let's take a short mental buggy ride into the past. The trip will do you good, and you'll come back refreshed.

It's always a tonic to the spirit to look back and remember when-

Only a rich kid in kindergarten could afford a box with more than eight colored crayons.

The Boston bull was one of America's most popular dogs.

You could start an argument over whether Mary Pickford or Mary Miles Minter had the prettier curls.

Some of the best restaurants were on wheels. Everybody looked forward to a railroad trip so they could eat at least one meal in the dining car.

In most high schools you couldn't graduate unless you had taken at least two years of Latin. Can you ever forget dear old "amo," "amas," "amat"?

If you didn't have a nickel to buy a store kite, you could always make one on the kitchen table with a few pieces of wood, some tissue paper, and homemade flour paste.

The sports world was startled in 1923 when Helen Wills, 17, known as "Little Miss Poker Face," won the national singles tennis title and Bobby Jones, 21, took the National Open golf championship. The U. S. motto became: "Youth must be served."

There were more people playing checkers than gin rummy. But to be really in the social swim you had to own a set of mah-jongg.

Only after harvest season did a rural minister usually find anything larger than a quarter in the Sunday collection basket.

Everybody in the neighborhood knew father had received a promotion when mother bought a new set of wicker furniture.

You could get two packs of cigarettes, or six cigars, for a quarter.

The doctor, busy as he was, always had time for a cup of coffee in the kitchen when making a home call.

A dude was a fellow who owned more than two pairs of spats-- and had at least one pair of bright yellow shoes.

Nobody thought the American flag would ever have more than 48 stars in it.

On a cold winter morning the only way to get warm was to dress over a furnace grating in the floor.

No parent was thought of as a child slaver if he let his husky 14-year-old son sack potatoes at a grocery store on Saturdays.

In a working class area a saloon sold more beer by the pail than by the glass.

It was commonplace for most people to go through life without ever tasting champagne or eating a raw oyster.

Many of the nation's best football players went to Harvard or Yale.

There were only two wonder drugs -- aspirin and castor oil.

Those were the good old days! Remember?

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- When senators and congressmen were called down to the White House for an off-the-record briefing by Vice President Humphrey, LBJ turned out to the the best Viet Nam salesman. Acting as master of ceremonies, Johnson frequently interrupted Humphrey.

"Let's hear Secretary McNamara expand on that phase," he would cut in. Or he would suddenly call on Secretary of State Dean Rusk for comments. Rusk, incidentally, received a standing ovation when introduced by the President.

LBJ also took a swing at his senate critics, Wayne Morse of Oregon and William Fulbright of Arkansas. Mentioning them by name, he declared:

"Their criticism of the administration largely boils down to lint picking. If I do something today, they're apt to say it should have been done yesterday. Then I get letters from people who listen to them and who say they are worried.

"They're worried! Do you think I am not worried? I want to see it end the same as everyone else. Some critics even say I am acting in an unconstitutional manner!

Dramatically pulling a paper from his pocket, he quoted the SEATO Agreement.

"This is the grounds for our action and policies in Viet Nam," he continued. "I carry this paper around with me most of the time. It is my constitutional authority for the fight against aggression over there. I'll tell you something else. Both senators Morse and Fulbright voted for it. In fact, I think only about two senators were absent from the chamber that day."

Johnson also bluntly reported that Secretaries Rusk and McNamara would [illegible] cabinet as long as they wish.

"I have not the slightest intention of getting rid of either of these gentlemen, who were on a great team which preceded me in this office. They're too valuable to me and to their country."

GI TAPES

American GIs in Viet Nam can now mail letters free. Rep. Chester Mize, the Kansas Republican, wants to go one step further and extend free mailing to voice recordings for troops in Viet Nam.

The congressman points to the fact that voice recordings are one thing the boys a long way from home really want most. Tape centers at USO headquarters are the most popular spots for off-duty servicemen. They listen to live letters they receive from home on tape and record other letters to send back, also on tape.

The congressman from Kansas is pushing a plan to let GIs send these records through the mail free.

LATE-WORKING LBJ

Former Senator Claude Pepper, now a congressman from Florida, got a phone call at 8 p.m., the other Saturday night. It was a time when most high government officials are relaxing.

"Claude," came a well-known voice over the telephone, "I have your bill on my desk for Interama. All my government agencies are against it. They say the Latin American nations would not participate."

The President of the United States was checking with his old friend regarding a bill for the location of a Pan-American permanent exhibit hall in North Miami, where Latin American nations and the United States could display their cultural, industrial and agricultural Pepper assured the President that the Latin Americans would participate if they had a building in which to house their exhibits. The Interama Bill, he explained, provides such a building.

"Furthermore," said Pepper, "this is a project which will cost the government almost nothing."

"Does this mean much to you?" asked the President.

"Yes, it does. I have been working on it for 26 years."

"All right," said the President, "you can announce to the press that I signed it at 8:05 p.m. Wait a little bit before you give it out, but the bill will be signed at 8:05 p.m."

MISSISSIPPI BAIL MONEY

Just before Christmas, 1964, I received a telephone call from Laurel, Miss., regarding ten civil rights workers who had been jailed for protesting the refusal of the Pinehurst Coffee Shop to serve Negroes.

The date was December 23. The request was for bail money so the arrested young people would not have to spend Christmas in jail. America's Conscience fund was able to supply the bail money. Last week, a year and two months later, I received a letter from Miss Patricia McGauley in Laurel, Miss., enclosing checks for $1,708, a refund of the bail money.

America's Conscience fund has been able to contribute to similar causes thanks to benefit performances by Sammy Davis, Jr., and thanks to thousands of contributions from all sorts of people to combat bombs and bigotry and heal the wounds of racial intolerance. Union Chiefs Return to Assure LBJ They'll Not Launch New National Labor Party.

Washington, D. C.: -- There are substantial reports that the country's revitalized labor leaders have left their Florida seaside enclaves, angrily eager to come north and launch an independent national Labor Party to take vengeance on the Democrats.

Untrue. There is no feud. There is no rift. There is no anger with President Johnson. And there won't be a nationwide Labor Party in foreseeable times.

The American labor movement is the only such coalition which is not directly affiliated with a political party. American labor likes to ride a winner wherever possible.

That's why they were lukewarm over Adlai Stevenson. That's why they wanted Gen. Dwight Eisenhower to run on the Democratic ticket in '48--even Walter Reuther was for him. Only Ike objected.

So they won't break with the Democrats and launch on isolated class party. President Lyndon Johnson, furthermore, is their friend and instead of feuding with him, they're rallying to him behind-the-scenes.

He conferred privately with them -- George Meany and Walter Reuther amongst others -- all through January in person up to the 27th and over the phone since they went south.

They believe the President has been unduly harassed by Senators Fulbright, Morse and Bob Kennedy over Viet Nam. They do no want to make his travail more burdensome.

The man they really dislike now is Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield (Mont.) During all those private White House conferences over 14-B repeal, the President told the labor men he could do nothing with the man from Montana. They believe the President. They tried publicly and privately to pressure Senator Mansfield. They failed,too.

The pipe-smoking, 63-year-old, Majority Leader just was not going to crack down on his colleagues to give labor what it wanted -- and may not do so to get labor what it wants now in minimum wages, and of the ban on secondary boycott picketing and federal centralizing of the U. S. Employment Service.

During the 14-B repealer debate Mr. Mansfield merely went through the motions -- say the labor leaders, especially the influential I. W. (Abe) Abel, new leader of the United Steelworkers. One unreported episode especially angered Mr. Abel and aroused the rest of his colleagues on the AFL-CIO Executive Council, when he recounted it to them in Florida.

In Washington on the night of Jan. 27, in the Sheraton-Park Hotel, Senators Mansfield and Dirksen were the honored dais guests at a businessmen's banquet. The only labor man in the audience was Mr. Abel, truly a man of steel when he wants to be.

When the time came, Mr. Mansfield arose, spoke of the "esteem" he had for Mr. Dirksen and continued in language Mr. Abel believed should have been reserved only for Abraham Lincoln.

Not only did Mr. Mansfield--at the height of the 14-B filibuster -- speak highly of Mr. Dirksen, but the Democratic leader said stoutly that the current Congress "owes an immense debt to the contribution of the distinguished Minority Leader."

Abel was as grim as a smokestack in his native Canton - Pittsburgh area.

The next day, noticing the lack of real pressure from the Majority Leader on the Democratic Senators, Mr. Abel gathered around him the experienced Dave Sullivan, president of the building service workers and the veteran strategist, Joe Keenan, an AFL-CIO vice president and the trio went button - holing.

They got to what Senators they could to talk them into breaking the filibuster. Distinctly they got the impression there was even less pressure than they thought coming from Mr. Mansfield.

This was confirmed when they asked Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) how he, who had run as vice-presidential candidate with the late Mr. Stevenson, could support the filibuster against the labor movement's wishes. The impression the union chiefs got was that the Senate leadership had really not attempted to push him in their direction.

So the battle was -- and is--with Mr. Mansfield. He's a hard man for them to fight. He's not up for re-election until 1970. He's a charter member of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO). And he's more learned than most of them -- what with a masters degree and long stint as a college professor in Latin American and Far Eastern history.

Furthermore, the President needs him right now on international matters. Mr. Johnson can do without another feud in the Senate.

So the labor leaders, roaring with independence and self-determination, have withdrawn from their southern enclaves. But they'll not pull a De Gaulle.

Most of the public interest is in keeping the billboard blight from the new length of interstate highway through open country. It is assumed that there will be some billboards along the part of interstate routes that run through commercial and industrial areas.

But in preparation for the state hearings the Public Roads staff has set up for discussion a set of regulations for these business areas. The talk will start on softening or hardening of such items as:

Limitation of six signs per mile on one side of the road.

At least 500 feet apart--

Sign to 30 feet or less from the ground.

Size of 300 square feet, unless the sign is more than 150 feet from the road.

Even in the industrial neighborhoods this seems to us to be more and bigger signs that have any connection whatever with the roadside beauty we have been hearing about so frequently. But these parts of the route would have little beauty to uncover if every sign was removed, and there already were signs before the superhighways came through, so such regulations may be a reasonable compromise.

But the word from Washington is that senators on the public roads subcommittee are most unhappy. They were doubtful about this part of the law when it was adopted. They seem to have thought they had pulled its teeth. They think it is out of place for the Federal men to have a proposal before state hearings have been held.

Most specifically the billboard lobbyists in Washington objected to publishing the discussion points and the Bureau of Public Roads men went ahead. The senators are more impressed with what the billboard people want than the professional road designers are. They have even discussed a committee hearing to air the situation.

On second thought, it seemed the hearings would call additional attention to the senatorial reluctance to hold back the billboards. But we think much more attention to the Senate's attitude is in order.

VIETNAM AND ADA RELATIONS

Controversy over our Vietnam policy serves some purpose in drawing the battle lines regarding communism. Some U. S. Senators, willing to support the over-bright intelligentsia and unwashed street demonstrators as they carry forward in farleft meetings opposing resistance to communists, take one side.

Sixteen Senators went on record by writing President Johnson asking him to delay resumption of bombing. Their average rating is ADA 82. Another contingent headed by Vice-President Humphrey, who is said to have started Americans for Democratic Action and when last in the Senate rated ADA 97, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, top assistant to General Marshall in forcing Chiang Kai-Shek to accept communists in his government resulting in Chiang's expulsion from the mainland and betraying China into communist domination, are now representing President Johnson, carrying the ball for what must be considered the patriotic side.

U. S. Senator Robert Kennedy (D-N. Y.), ADA 94, presses a plan for placating the Viet Cong before peace negotiations start.

ADA ratings are an index to the diversity of their previous and present philosophies. Democratic Senators from the South, including Fulbright, average ADA 27. Republican Senators average ADA 21, but eliminating Javits (N. Y. -94), Case (N. J. -94), and Scott (Penna. -65), the average drops to 14.

Early in the 1960 campaign for the Democratic Presidential nomination, Senators John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Baines Johnson both rejected or discouraged support from ADA. The presentation of ADA ratings may reflect that the philosophy of ADA and the attitude of public figures regarding whether to win, compromise or lose the war is changing. HLH

"BIG JOHN" WINS!

The famous, king-size aluminum hopper car developed by the Southern Railway to cut the cost of hauling grain from the central plains to the Southeastern states by some $40 million a year has been declared the winner over the Interstate Commerce Commission by a three-judge District Court in Cincinnati.

In its decision of May 20, the Court set aside and permanently enjoined the ICC order of last July 15 requiring a 16 percent increase in the 60 percent grain-rate reduction previously approved by Division 2 of the ICC on Big John multiple-car shipments.

"The people of America won a great victory," declared Southern President D. W. Brosnan, "when a Federal Court in Cincinnati recognized that Southern Railway System had a right to save people money by lowering its grain freight rates.

"This decision helps everyone, but especially the housewives in their shopping for food, the small businessman, and the farmers, all of whom suffer most when freight rates are artificially and unnecessarily high. The development of a tremendous new billion-dollar-a-year fat cattle industry in the South is now assured. This will help agri-business in the South and will mean a greatly enlarged market for grain-growers in other parts of the country. . ."

Mr. Brosnan also points out that: "It is ridiculous that any carrier would have to fight in the courts of this country in order to save money for the people and to help our economy grow." What is needed is legislation, which has been before Congress for several years, to allow railroads and other common carriers to lower the prices they charge for moving agricultural and bulk commodities when they can afford to do so -- without interference by Government agencies. As Brosnan says:

". . .if this bill ends up on the legislative scrap heap, American consumers will go on being cheated out of several billion dollars annually from freight rates kept artificially high by regulation which kills off real competition."

But perhaps the cheering that resounds from Big John's victory will reach the Capitol and impress our lawmakers with what minimum rates legislation could do for their consumer constituents, for manufacturers competing against imports from low-wage countries, and for the entire economy of the nation.

It might even impress our solons that they can and should pass this legislation NOW--before they go home to tell the voters how much they have accomplished!

NEW YORK AP -- Tired of coping with the present?

Well, forget it for a few moments. Let's take a short mental buggy ride into the past. The trip will do you good, and you'll come back refreshed.

It's always a tonic to the spirit to look back and remember when-

Only a rich kid in kindergarten could afford a box with more than eight colored crayons.

The Boston bull was one of America's most popular dogs.

You could start an argument over whether Mary Pickford or Mary Miles Minter had the prettier curls.

Some of the best restaurants were on wheels. Everybody looked forward to a railroad trip so they could eat at least one meal in the dining car.

In most high schools you couldn't graduate unless you had taken at least two years of Latin. Can you ever forget dear old "amo," "amas," "amat"?

If you didn't have a nickel to buy a store kite, you could always make one on the kitchen table with a few pieces of wood, some tissue paper, and homemade flour paste.

The sports world was startled in 1923 when Helen Wills, 17, known as "Little Miss Poker Face," won the national singles tennis title and Bobby Jones, 21, took the National Open golf championship. The U. S. motto became: "Youth must be served."

There were more people playing checkers than gin rummy. But to be really in the social swim you had to own a set of mah-jongg.

Only after harvest season did a rural minister usually find anything larger than a quarter in the Sunday collection basket.

Everybody in the neighborhood knew father had received a promotion when mother bought a new set of wicker furniture.

You could get two packs of cigarettes, or six cigars, for a quarter.

The doctor, busy as he was, always had time for a cup of coffee in the kitchen when making a home call.

A dude was a fellow who owned more than two pairs of spats-- and had at least one pair of bright yellow shoes.

Nobody thought the American flag would ever have more than 48 stars in it.

On a cold winter morning the only way to get warm was to dress over a furnace grating in the floor.

No parent was thought of as a child slaver if he let his husky 14-year-old son sack potatoes at a grocery store on Saturdays.

In a working class area a saloon sold more beer by the pail than by the glass.

It was commonplace for most people to go through life without ever tasting champagne or eating a raw oyster.

Many of the nation's best football players went to Harvard or Yale.

There were only two wonder drugs -- aspirin and castor oil.

Those were the good old days! Remember?

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- When senators and congressmen were called down to the White House for an off-the-record briefing by Vice President Humphrey, LBJ turned out to the the best Viet Nam salesman. Acting as master of ceremonies, Johnson frequently interrupted Humphrey.

"Let's hear Secretary McNamara expand on that phase," he would cut in. Or he would suddenly call on Secretary of State Dean Rusk for comments. Rusk, incidentally, received a standing ovation when introduced by the President.

LBJ also took a swing at his senate critics, Wayne Morse of Oregon and William Fulbright of Arkansas. Mentioning them by name, he declared:

"Their criticism of the administration largely boils down to lint picking. If I do something today, they're apt to say it should have been done yesterday. Then I get letters from people who listen to them and who say they are worried.

"They're worried! Do you think I am not worried? I want to see it end the same as everyone else. Some critics even say I am acting in an unconstitutional manner!

Dramatically pulling a paper from his pocket, he quoted the SEATO Agreement.

"This is the grounds for our action and policies in Viet Nam," he continued. "I carry this paper around with me most of the time. It is my constitutional authority for the fight against aggression over there. I'll tell you something else. Both senators Morse and Fulbright voted for it. In fact, I think only about two senators were absent from the chamber that day."

Johnson also bluntly reported that Secretaries Rusk and McNamara would [illegible] cabinet as long as they wish.

"I have not the slightest intention of getting rid of either of these gentlemen, who were on a great team which preceded me in this office. They're too valuable to me and to their country."

GI TAPES

American GIs in Viet Nam can now mail letters free. Rep. Chester Mize, the Kansas Republican, wants to go one step further and extend free mailing to voice recordings for troops in Viet Nam.

The congressman points to the fact that voice recordings are one thing the boys a long way from home really want most. Tape centers at USO headquarters are the most popular spots for off-duty servicemen. They listen to live letters they receive from home on tape and record other letters to send back, also on tape.

The congressman from Kansas is pushing a plan to let GIs send these records through the mail free.

LATE-WORKING LBJ

Former Senator Claude Pepper, now a congressman from Florida, got a phone call at 8 p.m., the other Saturday night. It was a time when most high government officials are relaxing.

"Claude," came a well-known voice over the telephone, "I have your bill on my desk for Interama. All my government agencies are against it. They say the Latin American nations would not participate."

The President of the United States was checking with his old friend regarding a bill for the location of a Pan-American permanent exhibit hall in North Miami, where Latin American nations and the United States could display their cultural, industrial and agricultural [illegible]

Pepper assured the President that the Latin Americans would participate if they had a building in which to house their exhibits. The Interama Bill, he explained, provides such a building.

"Furthermore," said Pepper, "this is a project which will cost the government almost nothing."

"Does this mean much to you?" asked the President.

"Yes, it does. I have been working on it for 26 years."

"All right," said the President, "you can announce to the press that I signed it at 8:05 p.m. Wait a little bit before you give it out, but the bill will be signed at 8:05 p.m."

MISSISSIPPI BAIL MONEY

Just before Christmas, 1964, I received a telephone call from Laurel, Miss., regarding ten civil rights workers who had been jailed for protesting the refusal of the Pinehurst Coffee Shop to serve Negroes.

The date was December 23. The request was for bail money so the arrested young people would not have to spend Christmas in jail. America's Conscience fund was able to supply the bail money. Last week, a year and two months later, I received a letter from Miss Patricia McGauley in Laurel, Miss., enclosing checks for $1,708, a refund of the bail money.

America's Conscience fund has been able to contribute to similar causes thanks to benefit performances by Sammy Davis, Jr., and thanks to thousands of contributions from all sorts of people to combat bombs and bigotry and heal the wounds of racial intolerance. Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Union Chiefs Return to Assure LBJ They'll Not Launch New National Labor Party.

Washington, D. C.: -- There are substantial reports that the country's revitalized labor leaders have left their Florida seaside enclaves, angrily eager to come north and launch an independent national Labor Party to take vengeance on the Democrats.

Untrue. There is no feud. There is no rift. There is no anger with President Johnson. And there won't be a nationwide Labor Party in foreseeable times.

The American labor movement is the only such coalition which is not directly affiliated with a political party. American labor likes to ride a winner wherever possible.

That's why they were lukewarm over Adlai Stevenson. That's why they wanted Gen. Dwight Eisenhower to run on the Democratic ticket in '48--even Walter Reuther was for him. Only Ike objected.

So they won't break with the Democrats and launch on isolated class party. President Lyndon Johnson, furthermore, is their friend and instead of feuding with him, they're rallying to him behind-the-scenes.

He conferred privately with them -- George Meany and Walter Reuther amongst others -- all through January in person up to the 27th and over the phone since they went south.

They believe the President has been unduly harassed by Senators Fulbright, Morse and Bob Kennedy over Viet Nam. They do no want to make his travail more burdensome.

The man they really dislike now is Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield (Mont.) During all those private White House conferences over 14-B repeal, the President told the labor men he could do nothing with the man from Montana. They believe the President. They tried publicly and privately to pressure Senator Mansfield. They failed,too.

The pipe-smoking, 63-year-old, Majority Leader just was not going to crack down on his colleagues to give labor what it wanted -- and may not do so to get labor what it wants now in minimum wages, and of the ban on secondary boycott picketing and federal centralizing of the U. S. Employment Service.

During the 14-B repealer debate Mr. Mansfield merely went through the motions -- say the labor leaders, especially the influential I. W. (Abe) Abel, new leader of the United Steelworkers. One unreported episode especially angered Mr. Abel and aroused the rest of his colleagues on the AFL-CIO Executive Council, when he recounted it to them in Florida.

In Washington on the night of Jan. 27, in the Sheraton-Park Hotel, Senators Mansfield and Dirksen were the honored dais guests at a businessmen's banquet. The only labor man in the audience was Mr. Abel, truly a man of steel when he wants to be.

When the time came, Mr. Mansfield arose, spoke of the "esteem" he had for Mr. Dirksen and continued in language Mr. Abel believed should have been reserved only for Abraham Lincoln.

Not only did Mr. Mansfield--at the height of the 14-B filibuster -- speak highly of Mr. Dirksen, but the Democratic leader said stoutly that the current Congress "owes an immense debt to the contribution of the distinguished Minority Leader."

Abel was as grim as a smokestack in his native Canton - Pittsburgh area.

The next day, noticing the lack of real pressure from the Majority Leader on the Democratic Senators, Mr. Abel gathered around him the experienced Dave Sullivan, president of the building service workers and the veteran strategist, Joe Keenan, an AFL-CIO vice president and the trio went button - holing. They got to what Senators they could to talk them into breaking the filibuster. Distinctly they got the impression there was even less pressure than they thought coming from Mr. Mansfield.

This was confirmed when they asked Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) how he, who had run as vice-presidential candidate with the late Mr. Stevenson, could support the filibuster against the labor movement's wishes. The impression the union chiefs got was that the Senate leadership had really not attempted to push him in their direction.

So the battle was -- and is--with Mr. Mansfield. He's a hard man for them to fight. He's not up for re-election until 1970. He's a charter member of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO). And he's more learned than most of them -- what with a masters degree and long stint as a college professor in Latin American and Far Eastern history.

Furthermore, the President needs him right now on international matters. Mr. Johnson can do without another feud in the Senate.

So the labor leaders, roaring with independence and self-determination, have withdrawn from their southern enclaves. But they'll not pull a De Gaulle.

Jane Mydlowski Pledges Vows With Jerry Pearson Feb. 4

Jane Mydlowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Westpheling of Dallas, Texas, and Jerry Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pearson, route three, were married at 7 p.m. Feb. 4 at the Murray Lane Baptist church.

The Rev. C. D. Butler officiated using the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white satin brocade street-length dress fashioned with a sleeveless bodice and matching jacket with wrist-length sleeves. Her veil was a crown of satin encircled with white tulle. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Nancy Mydlowski of Dallas, Texas, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a white bonded lace over orchid background dress with orchid shoes and a white carnation corsage.

Mike Pearson, route three, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a two piece dress of tan and brown cotton bonded knit with tan accessories and a yellow carnation corsage.

Mrs. Pearson wore a two piece gray wool dress with black accessories with a white carnation corsage.

The reception was at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Martha Clayton of Matthews. The bride's table was covered in blue satin and overlaid with white lace. Blue candles, a three tiered wedding cake and a crystal punch bowl appointed the table.

Mrs. W. C. Leigh, aunt of the bride and Barbara Leigh, cousin of the bride, both of Charleston, were at the reception.

For travel, the bride wore a pink two piece suit with black accessories.

The couple is now at home at 2554 Independence St. in Cape Girardeau. Both are college students.

The Modern Christian

"Why is the James Bond image so current among young Christians? The qualities he displays seem anything but Christian."

Everyone admires a bit of nerve, and James Bond has a lot of nerve. His milieu, like many movie films and T. V. programs, is constant crisis. He is like the reckless and daring swordsman (or cowboy) of past decades.

The image of the Christian is far more subtle. There are exceptions of course, but the man of God, the biblical image, demands an inner constitution of nerve that I suspect, James Bond lacks.

His way of relating to others often reduces them to things or an extension of himself. All of us have a basic drive that others should serve us rather than we serve them. This would bring about the image of humility which James Bond does not wish to put across to his audience.

When viewing a film or reading a book we identify ourselves with the symbolic characters of the story. It is not often that we identify (though we may have sympathy) with the losers, the downtrodden and meek.

The young adult is searching for identity with a personality that will help him realize his own. While communication media has a tremendous impact on young people, it's chaff in the wind compared to a good father and a good mother. They are not images, but real people.

Real people help us emerge. Our self-awareness grows more sharply with those who sometimes say "no" and on other occasions "yes." What you really are is what you communicate to people, and youth are no exception. And in our day they seem quite able to sift the chaff from the grain.

The question is: "What is the current image of the Christian parent in the home?"

Mrs. Baker to Be Delegate To Convention

The Missouri Daughters of the American Revolution conference will be held in Columbia March 15, 16, and 17. A board meeting and supper will be held on March 14. King's Highway Chapter of Sikeston will have Mrs. Joseph L. Baker as a delegate. Miss Jane Anne Baker will serve as a page for the 67th Missouri conference.

At the 67th Missouri Conference the sparkling blue and white of the "75th Anniversary" badges, to be worn by the board, will indicate a very special year and from word coming out of Columbia March 15-17 will mark days long to be remembered by Missouri Daughters.

Mrs. Alva F. Preston, Regent of Columbian Chapter, and Mrs. David F. Eads, one of Missouri's most capable Honorary State Regents, are the conference chairmen, and have the help of Moberly, Mexico, Marshall, Fulton, Fayette, Bowling Green, Boonville, and Armstrong Chapters. This leadership and this cooperation alone would insure a successful conference, but stars sparkle within the settings planned.

The State Officers Club, Mrs. Raymond T. Finks, president, is planning a dinner meeting this year and the Regents dinner, also Tuesday evening, will have as its discussion topic, "How We Did It."

The Memorial Service Tuesday afternoon will be at near-by Methodist Chapel, following the Chairman's Forum luncheon March 15, with a staccato comment from each chairman and Mrs. Herbert White, presiding. The speaker will be educator-administrator, Arthur Lee Mallory of Springfield and president of SMS, whose varied attainments and interests have just made him the city's choice of Man of the Year.

The keynote speaker of the evening, who will follow the presentation of a record number of Pages, will accent the DAR objective-history. He will be Dr. William E. Parrish, professor of History at Westminster College, Fulton -- author, lecturer, researcher and promises to delight his audience with his dramatic story of "Winston Churchill Visits an American Westminster."

Wednesday noon the accent will be on education. It will be called a Safety luncheon as the speaker is to be Lt. Franklin Shadwell in the department of Public Information and Education of the Missouri State Highway Patrol. He has delighted audiences throughout this part of the United States with his practical approach to modern problems and 20th Century living.

The Awards Banquet, will be a combination of mirrors, diamonds and silver. Patriotism will be its emphasis, with Mrs. Ray W. Gepford of Kansas City the speaker. A reviewer of books, who is in constant demand, and the president of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Gepford will address the Daughters on "Reclaiming the American Dream."

A special tour of the DAR Library and the Missouri Historical Center and Library is being arranged and the election of a new slate of officers to servie the Missouri Society for the forthcoming two years is on a full agenda. No less important is the consideration of several proposed changes in the by-laws of the Missouri State Society. These, all Daughters should study and be ready to vote on when they are presented for consideration.

It is important that all chapters are well represented. The continuity of DAR must be uninterrupted and the easy, well informed transition from one administration to another as the years succeed themselves, is possible only by the membership understanding and being inspired by the overall program.

Scout Banquet Held Friday

Cub Scout Pack No. 140, sponsored by the Matthews elementary school, had its annual blue and gold banquet Friday, Feb. 25, at the Holiday Inn.

The address of welcome was made by Fred Danner, cubmaster. The pledge of allegiance was said by cubs and their parents following the invocation by James Beaird.

A buffet dinner was served to approximately 150 guests.

Mr. Danner introduced the guests and speakers at the head table.

Awards presented were Bear Cat badge, Cliff McMillen; Denner patches, Leon Stone and Mark Wade; Assistant Denner patch, Ray Moore; Wolf badge and pins, Linton Skinner, Steve Weston and Kent Eastman; Bear and Gold Arrow, Prince McDougal; Gold Arrow, Gregory Stricker; Gold and Silver Arrow, Rhett Moore; Lion and Gold and Silver Arrow, Eric Sappenfield; Lion and Gold Arrow, Ricky Davis; Lion and Gold Arrow, Steven Moll; Lion, David Crites and Larry Wren.

James Beaird was introduced and made a report on scouting progress in the district counties. He stressed the importance of a boy following his scout career through the Eagle Scout rank. He then presented Clyde Launius, president of the P. T. A., with the pack charter for 1966.

Beaird also presented membership cards to Fred Danner, Mr. Shanner, Buck Wissman, Floyd Presley, Bert Teachout and Brad Shain.

The following den mothers were presented with their membership cards: Mrs. Vaught, Mrs. Moll, Mrs. Teachout, Mrs. Wissman, Mrs. Horne, Mrs. Presley, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Hughes.

The den mothers presented membership cards to the cubs.

The den mothers, represented by Mrs. Evelyn Teachout, presented Danner with an appreciation plaque.

The speaker was Eddie Schrader, executive Okeechobee district chairman. He gave statistics of the scouting organization now in its 56th year showing that boys who follow through the organization to the rank of Eagle scout have proved to be the best citizens. He said the greatest responsibility parents have is in molding the boys' futures.

Schrader ended his talk with a salute to Danner and the den mothers.

MRS. HOLTON R. PRICE, JR., president of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., prepares to mail 9,000 envelopes--one to each of the girls who attended the 1965 Senior Girl Scout Roundup in Farragut, Idaho, last July. Each Scout at the event wrote and addressed to herself a personal commitment related to the Girl Scout Promise and Laws. The envelopes were entrusted to Mrs. Price who will mail them back to the girls in time to reach the girls during Girl Scout Week, March 6 through 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Pearson

Jane Mydlowski Pledges Vows With Jerry Pearson Feb. 4

Jane Mydlowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Westpheling of Dallas, Texas, and Jerry Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pearson, route three, were married at 7 p.m. Feb. 4 at the Murray Lane Baptist church.

The Rev. C. D. Butler officiated using the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white satin brocade street-length dress fashioned with a sleeveless bodice and matching jacket with wrist-length sleeves. Her veil was a crown of satin encircled with white tulle. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Nancy Mydlowski of Dallas, Texas, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a white bonded lace over orchid background dress with orchid shoes and a white carnation corsage.

Mike Pearson, route three, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a two piece dress of tan and brown cotton bonded knit with tan accessories and a yellow carnation corsage.

Mrs. Pearson wore a two piece gray wool dress with black accessories with a white carnation corsage.

The reception was at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Martha Clayton of Matthews. The bride's table was covered in blue satin and overlaid with white lace. Blue candles, a three tiered wedding cake and a crystal punch bowl appointed the table.

Mrs. W. C. Leigh, aunt of the bride and Barbara Leigh, cousin of the bride, both of Charleston, were at the reception.

For travel, the bride wore a pink two piece suit with black accessories.

The couple is now at home at 2554 Independence St. in Cape Girardeau. Both are college students.

Gospel Four Quartet to Sing

EAST PRAIRIE -- The Gospel Four Quartet of Sikeston will sing at the First General Baptist church Sunday morning. The public is invited.

JOHN BRIGHT: If the redemption of man awaits his faith in Christ and his Kingdom, then to summon men to that faith (the missionary task of the church) is no fussy meddling; it is the pivotal activity of history. Indeed, it is possible to say that it is the only hope of mankind.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

The Modern Christian

"Why is the James Bond image so current among young Christians? The qualities he displays seem anything but Christian."

Everyone admires a bit of nerve, and James Bond has a lot of nerve. His milieu, like many movie films and T. V. programs, is constant crisis. He is like the reckless and daring swordsman (or cowboy) of past decades.

The image of the Christian is far more subtle. There are exceptions of course, but the man of God, the biblical image, demands an inner constitution of nerve that I suspect, James Bond lacks.

His way of relating to others often reduces them to things or an extension of himself. All of us have a basic drive that others should serve us rather than we serve them. This would bring about the image of humility which James Bond does not wish to put across to his audience.

When viewing a film or reading a book we identify ourselves with the symbolic characters of the story. It is not often that we identify (though we may have sympathy) with the losers, the downtrodden and meek.

The young adult is searching for identity with a personality that will help him realize his own. While communication media has a tremendous impact on young people, it's chaff in the wind compared to a good father and a good mother. They are not images, but real people.

Real people help us emerge. Our self-awareness grows more sharply with those who sometimes say "no" and on other occasions "yes." What you really are is what you communicate to people, and youth are no exception. And in our day they seem quite able to sift the chaff from the grain.

The question is: "What is the current image of the Christian parent in the home?"

Mrs. Baker to Be Delegate To Convention

The Missouri Daughters of the American Revolution conference will be held in Columbia March 15, 16, and 17. A board meeting and supper will be held on March 14. King's Highway Chapter of Sikeston will have Mrs. Joseph L. Baker as a delegate. Miss Jane Anne Baker will serve as a page for the 67th Missouri conference.

At the 67th Missouri Conference the sparkling blue and white of the "75th Anniversary" badges, to be worn by the board, will indicate a very special year and from word coming out of Columbia March 15-17 will mark days long to be remembered by Missouri Daughters.

Mrs. Alva F. Preston, Regent of Columbian Chapter, and Mrs. David F. Eads, one of Missouri's most capable Honorary State Regents, are the conference chairmen, and have the help of Moberly, Mexico, Marshall, Fulton, Fayette, Bowling Green, Boonville, and Armstrong Chapters. This leadership and this cooperation alone would insure a successful conference, but stars sparkle within the settings planned.

The State Officers Club, Mrs. Raymond T. Finks, president, is planning a dinner meeting this year and the Regents dinner, also Tuesday evening, will have as its discussion topic, "How We Did It."

The Memorial Service Tuesday afternoon will be at near-by Methodist Chapel, following the Chairman's Forum luncheon March 15, with a staccato comment from each chairman and Mrs. Herbert White, presiding. The speaker will be educator-administrator, Arthur Lee Mallory of Springfield and president of SMS, whose varied attainments and interests have just made him the city's choice of Man of the Year.

The keynote speaker of the evening, who will follow the presentation of a record number of Pages, will accent the DAR objective-history. He will be Dr. William E. Parrish, professor of History at Westminster College, Fulton -- author, lecturer, researcher and promises to delight his audience with his dramatic story of "Winston Churchill Visits an American Westminster."

Wednesday noon the accent will be on education. It will be called a Safety luncheon as the speaker is to be Lt. Franklin Shadwell in the department of Public Information and Education of the Missouri State Highway Patrol. He has delighted audiences throughout this part of the United States with his practical approach to modern problems and 20th Century living.

The Awards Banquet, will be a combination of mirrors, diamonds and silver. Patriotism will be its emphasis, with Mrs. Ray W. Gepford of Kansas City the speaker. A reviewer of books, who is in constant demand, and the president of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Gepford will address the Daughters on "Reclaiming the American Dream."

A special tour of the DAR Library and the Missouri Historical Center and Library is being arranged and the election of a new slate of officers to servie the Missouri Society for the forthcoming two years is on a full agenda. No less important is the consideration of several proposed changes in the by-laws of the Missouri State Society. These, all Daughters should study and be ready to vote on when they are presented for consideration.

It is important that all chapters are well represented. The continuity of DAR must be uninterrupted and the easy, well informed transition from one administration to another as the years succeed themselves, is possible only by the membership understanding and being inspired by the overall program.

Scout Banquet Held Friday

Cub Scout Pack No. 140, sponsored by the Matthews elementary school, had its annual blue and gold banquet Friday, Feb. 25, at the Holiday Inn.

The address of welcome was made by Fred Danner, cubmaster. The pledge of allegiance was said by cubs and their parents following the invocation by James Beaird.

A buffet dinner was served to approximately 150 guests.

Mr. Danner introduced the guests and speakers at the head table.

Awards presented were Bear Cat badge, Cliff McMillen; Denner patches, Leon Stone and Mark Wade; Assistant Denner patch, Ray Moore; Wolf badge and pins, Linton Skinner, Steve Weston and Kent Eastman; Bear and Gold Arrow, Prince McDougal; Gold Arrow, Gregory Stricker; Gold and Silver Arrow, Rhett Moore; Lion and Gold and Silver Arrow, Eric Sappenfield; Lion and Gold Arrow, Ricky Davis; Lion and Gold Arrow, Steven Moll; Lion, David Crites and Larry Wren.

James Beaird was introduced and made a report on scouting progress in the district counties. He stressed the importance of a boy following his scout career through the Eagle Scout rank. He then presented Clyde Launius, president of the P. T. A., with the pack charter for 1966.

Beaird also presented membership cards to Fred Danner, Mr. Shanner, Buck Wissman, Floyd Presley, Bert Teachout and Brad Shain.

The following den mothers were presented with their membership cards: Mrs. Vaught, Mrs. Moll, Mrs. Teachout, Mrs. Wissman, Mrs. Horne, Mrs. Presley, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Hughes.

The den mothers presented membership cards to the cubs.

The den mothers, represented by Mrs. Evelyn Teachout, presented Danner with an appreciation plaque.

The speaker was Eddie Schrader, executive Okeechobee district chairman. He gave statistics of the scouting organization now in its 56th year showing that boys who follow through the organization to the rank of Eagle scout have proved to be the best citizens. He said the greatest responsibility parents have is in molding the boys' futures.

Schrader ended his talk with a salute to Danner and the den mothers.

MRS. HOLTON R. PRICE, JR., president of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., prepares to mail 9,000 envelopes--one to each of the girls who attended the 1965 Senior Girl Scout Roundup in Farragut, Idaho, last July. Each Scout at the event wrote and addressed to herself a personal commitment related to the Girl Scout Promise and Laws. The envelopes were entrusted to Mrs. Price who will mail them back to the girls in time to reach the girls during Girl Scout Week, March 6 through 12.

Bulldogs Fall To Dexter, Play Consolation Game

DEXTER -- The Dexter Bearcast defeated the Sikeston Bulldogs in Class L Regional play last night 62-42. The Bulldogs, who were not seeded in the tournament but upset third seeded Caruthersville Wednesday night 75-45 to move into the semi-finals of last night. They will finish at least fourth and possibly third depending on whether or not they beat Jackson tonight.

Dexter pulled out in front of Sikeston early in the first period and led all the way. They took a five point lead in that quarter.

Dexter pulled out again in the next period, outscoring the Bulldogs 15-10 making the half time score 29-19.

Dexter made their lead stick in the third period, as they rallied for 20 points and held the Bulldogs to eight, half of which were scored by Mike Couch, and held a commanding lead going into the final period.

The Bulldogs put the pressure on in the final period outscoring Dexter 15 points to 13. Mike Couch dropped in four field goals for eight of these points. Sikeston's 15 points, though, did not help, with Dexter winning by 20 points.

Mike Couch led scoring for both teams with 17 points on eight field goals and one free throw. Gary Stallings was second in the scoring with 11 points.

Sikeston meets Jackson tonight at Dexter in a contest for third place. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Arkansas Red-Heads To Play Benefit Game

PARMA--Parma Independents will play host to America's greatest basketball girls' team, Sunday, March 6, at 2 p.m. in the Parma gym. All American Red Heads, no ordinary team -- by any means -- plays men's competition every night of the week from October until May. Not only are the Red Heads capable of playing men's teams, they beat them quite often and have been doing just that for the past 26 seasons. By far the most traveled team in girls' basketball, it is also the most popular team, nationally and internationally famous. The Red Heads have played to more than 7,000,000 fans in U.S.A., Canada, Mexico, Alaska, and Philippine Islands in the past.

Parma will feature such stars as Doyle Denbow, former Morehouse star and college standout at Bethel college, known as The Old Man to his friends, he still can get around pretty good on the floor. Another great is Doug Stinson, former Bernie High School star who is wild and wooly on the floor as he is known as the Big Bruiser. Other players who will be featured will be Tom Daniels of Parma, who is 6'6" tall who will have his work cut out for him as the Red Heads will match his height. Bill Hedgepeth, and Dale Harrison, two of the fastest men this side of Sikeston will pit their fine speed against the Red Heads who are in shape. Last but not least will be Ron Jaynes, former Parma high school player and now sports editor for the Sikeston Standard, will try to revive his old shot for one last evening.

Proceeds from this game will go toward the building of the Parma Civic Center. Game time will be 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon, March sixth.

Come out and have an enjoyable afternoon of basketball, and see the finest team in the area, the Parma Independents.

The burly black bear, looked upon as one of the toughest animals in existence, has tender feet and caters to them by staying mainly on established trails.

SEMO Track Team Swings Into Action

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Additional strength in the field events could give the Southeast Missouri State College track team a boost towards one of its best records in several years.

Coach Marvin Rosengarten, now in his second year here, has some of the best talent the school has ever had on hand, and figures this year to become one of the leaders in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Traditionally strong in the distance races, the Indians now also sport strength and depth in all other areas, including the sprints, one of the weaker spots in recent years.

Some of the new men welcomed by Rosengarten this season include:

Terry Coff, a freshman from Roosevelt High, where he was state high school champion in the shot put. Coff set a new school record of 49' 4 7/8" in his first meet this year;

George Hester, a transfer from Phoenix (Ariz.) JC, where he was a member of the top JC mile relay team in the nation. Hester was timed in one leg of the relay in :47-8;

Dean Kimmick of Cape Girardeau, a transfer from the University of Missouri, where he was a member of the freshman track squad. Kimmick holds all hurdle and sprint records at Cape's Central high school;

Dan Malone, a transfer from Phoenix JC, where he was third in the JC national meet last year with a vault of 13' 6". Malone went 13' in the Indians' first meet of the year, later unofficially cleared 13' 6";

Walt Smallwood, a freshman from Webster Groves high, where he turned a :9.8 100-yard dash. Smallwood earned a place in the first meet of the season with a 60-yard time of :6.5.

In addition to the new talent, almost all of last year's top veterans are returning. Among them are a number of school record holders, including:

Bruce Franke of Phoenix, Ariz., :9.7 in the 100, and a top 440 man;

Clyde Miner of Kirkwood, 9:27 in the 2-mile;

Paul Ebaugh of Cape, 158' in the discus; and,

Curtis Williams of Cape, 6' 7 3/4" in the high jump and 48' 8 3/4" in the triple jump.

All four are lettermen. Other monogram winners returning include Mike Peters of McClure high school, a member relay team which was second in the MIAA last year; Larry Schloss of Jackson, who has gone 4:24 in the mile; Gene McClellan of Hazelwood, who was second in the conference last year in the javelin; and Bob Varel of St. Charles high, a 6'4" high jumper, and a good triple-jumper. R. C. Grossheider of Cape, a non-letterman, rounds out the high-jumping corps with his best leap also 6'4".

In the distance races, Rosengarten has several cross-country lettermen, including Len Corso from Mercy high school, Bill Becker from Ritenour high, Jim Stoverink from Notre Dame high in Cape, and Bill Wirtz, also from Ritenour high.

In the first meet of the season, Indian cindermen were third in the Memphis State Quadrangular, behind Southern State and Memphis State, and ahead of Southwest Missouri. Rosengarten's squad travels to Memphis again Saturday for a dual meet with the Tigers.

The Schedule:
March 5 Memphis-Memphis, Tennessee
March 12 Southwest Missouri State - Springfield, Mo.

Frick Expected To Continue Testimony

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) -- The tug-of-war over former Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick was expected to continue today with both sides in Wisconsin's anti-trust suit against baseball trying to get his bat in their line-up.

Frick wasn't in court as the battle began Thursday with the prosecution and the defense reading portions of a sworn statement taken from him earlier, each using some of his statement to back up their contentions.

The state tried to link up Frick's testimony and what it called the "monopolistic ability of baseball to control the game." The defense tried to show that expansion was not feasible at present and that baseball had made no agreement to abandon or boycott Milwaukee.

The issues are the keys to the suit in which Wisconsin charges that baseball violated state anti-trust statutes by moving the Braves from Milwaukee to Atlanta without giving the city another team.

Before the battery of legal experts began to fight over Frick, a tax accountant testified that the Braves produced more than $9 million for the Perini family in the 10 seasons they operated the club in Milwaukee.

The accountant, Harry J. Miller, said state tax returns of the Perini Corp. from 1953 to Nov. 25, 1962 — when the franchise was sold — showed net income of the ball club before taxes to be $8,667,314. Miller also said the Perini family was paid $445,302 in total salaries.

Then the prosecution started to enter Frick's deposition. But they were greeted by a flurry of objections from the defense, questioning the relevancy of the testimony.

Steven Keane, special counsel for Milwaukee County, argued the matter was relevant because the state intended, through Frick, to "identify the rules and regulations that contain the monopolistic ability of baseball to control the game.

"This will show how baseball can do what we charge they can."

Circuit Judge Elmer Roller ruled the reading of the deposition could continue.

In his reading, Keane touched on three key points to the state's case — the question of how to secure a franchise, Frick's opinion's on expansion and the reserve clause.

Then the defense took over, reading other portions of the deposition.

Questioned about his advocacy of two 12-team leagues, Frick said the target date of 1964 he had set could not be met because it became "our experience that it would take longer." Frick pointed out that expansion was "impractical" if done hurriedly.

Frick also said he thought his expansion policy had proved successful since in "the last 10 years we accomplished more than in the previous 75" and noted that in expanding from eight to 10-club leagues baseball "went into towns that didn't have baseball."

The defense moved on to read the actual cross-examination of Frick at the time the deposition was taken.

In that Frick was asked if he knew of any agreement made by baseball to abandon Milwaukee or boycott the city as a site.

"No," was Frick's only reply.

At that point time ran out, and Judge Roller called the game until morning.

Southern Methodist Wins Berth in NCAA Tourney

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern Methodist won the Southwest Conference title and a berth in next week's NCAA college basketball championship tourney thanks to the Arkansas Razorbacks and their veteran coach, Glen Rose, in a storybook sequence of events.

This is how it happened on a Thursday night that also saw the idle Utah Redskins gain the Western Athletic Conference crown and its automatic NCAA berth when New Mexico whipped Arizona.

Rose, a star player for Arkansas in the late 1920s and coach of the Razorbacks for 33 years, was reported to have told his squad before the game with Texas A&M at Fayetteville, Ark., that he planned to retire.

The underdog fourth-place Porkers, seeking a big win for Rose in their final game of the season, then went out and routed the Aggies 94-71. Texas A&M went into the game tied for first with Southern Methodist and a Monday playoff site at Waco already had been selected.

Switch now to Dallas where SMU was playing at home against Texas Tech. Midway of the second half the Red Raiders led SMU 60-57 when word was received of Arkansas' surprise defeat of Texas A&M.

After the score was announced over the loud speaker system the aroused Mustangs reeled off seven straight points to take the lead for good thus wrapping up the SWC title and NCAA spot with a 99-89 triumph. It was SMU's 10th straight victory.

Utah backed into the WAC title when the New Mexico Lobos, playing at home, snapped a five-game losing streak by tripping Arizona 83-69. The Lobos broke away from a 33-33 halftime tie led by Mel Daniels, recovered from a cut arm, and Ben Monroe. Each scored 26 points.

The goings-on in the SWC and WAC overshadowed Duke's rout of Wake Forest in the first round of the Atlantic Coast Conference championship tourney at Raleigh.

The Blue Devils, third-ranked in The Associated Press poll, scored a 103-73 romp over the Deacons who had upset them by one point in overtime last week.

Bob Verga's 29 points paced the Blue Devils who meet North Carolina in the semifinals tonight. North Carolina downed Maryland 77-70, South Carolina beat Clemson 60-52 and N.C. State whipped Virginia 86-77 in the other ACC first round games. South Carolina and N.C. State meet in the other semi tonight.

Cincinnati, the Missouri Valley Conference champion and No. 10 in the AP poll, closed out its regular season at 21-5 by beating its cross-town rival, Xavier of Ohio, 67-62.

Brigham Young, 16-5, and Louisville, 16-9, accepted bids to play in the National Invitation Tournament in New York while touring Wichita handed defeat 112-79.

In other games involving NCAA-bound teams, Western Kentucky, 23-2, whipped Austin Peay 76-63 and Oklahoma City, 24-4, crushed Centenary 121-90. Both were home court triumphs.

Cheyney Tops Small College AP Poll

Unbeaten for two straight years in 49 consecutive regular season games, the Cheyney, Pa., State Wolves have been named the No. 1 small-college basketball team for 1966 in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

The suburban Philadelphia team easily won the honor Wednesday with a total of 156 points to runner-up North Dakota's 116 from The AP's Nationwide panel of 17 sports writers and broadcasters.

Southern Illinois, the No. 1 team for seven straight weeks until the next to last poll, finished third with 108 on the basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Rounding out the final Top Ten were, in order, Grambling, Northern Michigan, Indiana State, Tennessee State, Evansville, Seattle Pacific and Valparaiso.

Cheyney, coached by Hal Blitman, beat Shippensburg 93-47 at home last Saturday to finish its regular season at 26-0.

Clay-Terrell Fight Runs Into Another Dead End

MONTREAL (AP) — The beleaguered Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell fight, kicked out of the United States, has lost the large Montreal Forum as a site and may wind up today in Verdun — a Montreal suburb — if it ever lands any place at all.

In the midst of a stormy meeting Thursday night between members of the Montreal Athletic Commission and the would-be promoters, a member of the commission said an official of the 15,000-seat Montreal Forum, had rejected the controversial fight.

"We'll take it to Verdun," said Robert Arum, a New York lawyer and an officer of Main Bout Inc., of New York which owns the closed circuit television and other ancillary rights of the projected March 29 heavyweight title bout.

He said the fight could be staged in the 5,500-seat Verdun Auditorium in the Montreal suburb. He hoped to arrange that in conferences today, with Mayor George O'Reilly.

The commission member, Paul Emile Sauvageau, told reporters at City Hall, the meeting place, that Frank Selke Jr., an official of the Canadian Arena Co., which owns the Forum, telephoned the commission to announce that the arena would not be available for the bout.

Reached at his home, Selke declined to confirm or deny the statement. He said anything further would have to come from the commission.

The commission, in a 200-word statement at the end of the meeting, said it is interested in having the fight but said MBI and promoter Loren Cassina of All-Canada Sports Ltd., would have to comply with five conditions "before the commission is able to study a request for a permit."

Conditions were that "everything must be in writing," including all contracts —the television-radio deal, the fighters' contracts with their managers and the promoters' agreements with the fighters."

One of the conditions the promoters object to is the Quebec law that provides the promoters must guarantee the commission five per cent of all receipts, including closed TV, radio, movies, and gate receipts. On a $4 million over-all promotion, this could come to $200,000.

The conditions stipulate that a $100,000 bond must be posted to guarantee the payment of the permit fee, namely five per cent of the live gate receipts and the radio and television rights."

Arum said it would take until Monday to get everything in black and white.

Before the Thursday night announcement, Selke had said that the Forum would be available to the fight because he had planned to show the closed circuit TV on March 29.

Verdun, outside of the Montreal commission's jurisdiction doesn't have a boxing commission or a five per cent levy.

There was a strong belief here that some members of the Montreal Council were not enthusiastic about taking a fight that has been rejected by New York and Chicago.

Bulldogs Fall To Dexter, Play Consolation Game

DEXTER -- The Dexter Bearcast defeated the Sikeston Bulldogs in Class L Regional play last night 62-42. The Bulldogs, who were not seeded in the tournament but upset third seeded Caruthersville Wednesday night 75-45 to move into the semi-finals of last night. They will finish at least fourth and possibly third depending on whether or not they beat Jackson tonight.

Dexter pulled out in front of Sikeston early in the first period and led all the way. They took a five point lead in that quarter.

Dexter pulled out again in the next period, outscoring the Bulldogs 15-10 making the half time score 29-19.

Dexter made their lead stick in the third period, as they rallied for 20 points and held the Bulldogs to eight, half of which were scored by Mike Couch, and held a commanding lead going into the final period.

The Bulldogs put the pressure on in the final period outscoring Dexter 15 points to 13. Mike Couch dropped in four field goals for eight of these points. Sikeston's 15 points, though, did not help, with Dexter winning by 20 points.

Mike Couch led scoring for both teams with 17 points on eight field goals and one free throw. Gary Stallings was second in the scoring with 11 points.

Sikeston meets Jackson tonight at Dexter in a contest for third place. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Arkansas Red-Heads To Play Benefit Game

PARMA--Parma Independents will play host to America's greatest basketball girls' team, Sunday, March 6, at 2 p.m. in the Parma gym. All American Red Heads, no ordinary team -- by any means -- plays men's competition every night of the week from October until May. Not only are the Red Heads capable of playing men's teams, they beat them quite often and have been doing just that for the past 26 seasons. By far the most traveled team in girls' basketball, it is also the most popular team, nationally and internationally famous. The Red Heads have played to more than 7,000,000 fans in U.S.A., Canada, Mexico, Alaska, and Philippine Islands in the past.

Parma will feature such stars as Doyle Denbow, former Morehouse star and college standout at Bethel college, known as The Old Man to his friends, he still can get around pretty good on the floor. Another great is Doug Stinson, former Bernie High School star who is wild and wooly on the floor as he is known as the Big Bruiser. Other players who will be featured will be Tom Daniels of Parma, who is 6'6" tall who will have his work cut out for him as the Red Heads will match his height. Bill Hedgepeth, and Dale Harrison, two of the fastest men this side of Sikeston will pit their fine speed against the Red Heads who are in shape. Last but not least will be Ron Jaynes, former Parma high school player and now sports editor for the Sikeston Standard, will try to revive his old shot for one last evening.

Proceeds from this game will go toward the building of the Parma Civic Center. Game time will be 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon, March sixth.

Come out and have an enjoyable afternoon of basketball, and see the finest team in the area, the Parma Independents.

The burly black bear, looked upon as one of the toughest animals in existence, has tender feet and caters to them by staying mainly on established trails.

SEMO Track Team Swings Into Action

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Additional strength in the field events could give the Southeast Missouri State College track team a boost towards one of its best records in several years.

Coach Marvin Rosengarten, now in his second year here, has some of the best talent the school has ever had on hand, and figures this year to become one of the leaders in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Traditionally strong in the distance races, the Indians now also sport strength and depth in all other areas, including the sprints, one of the weaker spots in recent years.

Some of the new men welcomed by Rosengarten this season include:

Terry Coff, a freshman from Roosevelt High, where he was state high school champion in the shot put. Coff set a new school record of 49' 4 7/8" in his first meet this year;

George Hester, a transfer from Phoenix (Ariz.) JC, where he was a member of the top JC mile relay team in the nation. Hester was timed in one leg of the relay in :47-8;

Dean Kimmick of Cape Girardeau, a transfer from the University of Missouri, where he was a member of the freshman track squad. Kimmick holds all hurdle and sprint records at Cape's Central high school;

Dan Malone, a transfer from Phoenix JC, where he was third in the JC national meet last year with a vault of 13' 6". Malone went 13' in the Indians' first meet of the year, later unofficially cleared 13' 6";

Walt Smallwood, a freshman from Webster Groves high, where he turned a :9.8 100-yard dash. Smallwood earned a place in the first meet of the season with a 60-yard time of :6.5.

In addition to the new talent, almost all of last year's top veterans are returning. Among them are a number of school record holders, including:

Bruce Franke of Phoenix, Ariz., :9.7 in the 100, and a top 440 man;

Clyde Miner of Kirkwood, 9:27 in the 2-mile;

Paul Ebaugh of Cape, 158' in the discus; and,

Curtis Williams of Cape, 6' 7 3/4" in the high jump and 48' 8 3/4" in the triple jump.

All four are lettermen. Other monogram winners returning include Mike Peters of McClure high school, a member relay team which was second in the MIAA last year; Larry Schloss of Jackson, who has gone 4:24 in the mile; Gene McClellan of Hazelwood, who was second in the conference last year in the javelin; and Bob Varel of St. Charles high, a 6'4" high jumper, and a good triple-jumper. R. C. Grossheider of Cape, a non-letterman, rounds out the high-jumping corps with his best leap also 6'4".

In the distance races, Rosengarten has several cross-country lettermen, including Len Corso from Mercy high school, Bill Becker from Ritenour high, Jim Stoverink from Notre Dame high in Cape, and Bill Wirtz, also from Ritenour high.

In the first meet of the season, Indian cindermen were third in the Memphis State Quadrangular, behind Southern State and Memphis State, and ahead of Southwest Missouri.

Rosengarten's squad travels to Memphis again Saturday for a dual meet with the Tigers.

Frick Expected To Continue Testimony

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) -- The tug-of-war over former Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick was expected to continue today with both sides in Wisconsin's anti-trust suit against baseball trying to get his bat in their line-up.

Frick wasn't in court as the battle began Thursday with the prosecution and the defense reading portions of a sworn statement taken from him earlier, each using some of his statement to back up their contentions.

The state tried to link up Frick's testimony and what it called the "monopolistic ability of baseball to control the game." The defense tried to show that expansion was not feasible at present and that baseball had made no agreement to abandon or boycott Milwaukee.

The issues are the keys to the suit in which Wisconsin charges that baseball violated state anti-trust statutes by moving the Braves from Milwaukee to Atlanta without giving the city another team.

Before the battery of legal experts began to fight over Frick, a tax accountant testified that the Braves produced more than $9 million for the Perini family in the 10 seasons they operated the club in Milwaukee.

The accountant, Harry J. Miller, said state tax returns of the Perini Corp. from 1953 to Nov. 25, 1962 — when the franchise was sold — showed net income of the ball club before taxes to be $8,667,314. Miller also said the Perini family was paid $445,302 in total salaries.

Then the prosecution started to enter Frick's deposition. But they were greeted by a flurry of objections from the defense, questioning the relevancy of the testimony.

Steven Keane, special counsel for Milwaukee County, argued the matter was relevant because the state intended, through Frick, to "identify the rules and regulations that contain the monopolistic ability of baseball to control the game."

"This will show how baseball can do what we charge they can."

Circuit Judge Elmer Roller ruled the reading of the deposition could continue.

In his reading, Keane touched on three key points to the state's case — the question of how to secure a franchise, Frick's opinion's on expansion and the reserve clause.

Then the defense took over, reading other portions of the deposition.

Questioned about his advocacy of two 12-team leagues, Frick said the target date of 1964 he had set could not be met because it became "our experience that it would take longer." Frick pointed out that expansion was "impractical" if done hurriedly.

Frick also said he thought his expansion policy had proved successful since in "the last 10 years we accomplished more than in the previous 75" and noted that in expanding from eight to 10-club leagues baseball "went into towns that didn't have baseball."

The defense moved on to read the actual cross-examination of Frick at the time the deposition was taken.

In that Frick was asked if he knew of any agreement made by baseball to abandon Milwaukee or boycott the city as a site.

"No," was Frick's only reply.

At that point time ran out, and Judge Roller called the game until morning.

Southern Methodist Wins Berth in NCAA Tourney

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern Methodist won the Southwest Conference title and a berth in next week's NCAA college basketball championship tourney thanks to the Arkansas Razorbacks and their veteran coach, Glen Rose, in a storybook sequence of events.

This is how it happened on a Thursday night that also saw the idle Utah Redskins gain the Western Athletic Conference crown and its automatic NCAA berth when New Mexico whipped Arizona.

Rose, a star player for Arkansas in the late 1920s and coach of the Razorbacks for 33 years, was reported to have told his squad before the game with Texas A&M at Fayetteville, Ark., that he planned to retire.

The underdog fourth-place Porkers, seeking a big win for Rose in their final game of the season, then went out and routed the Aggies 94-71. Texas A&M went into the game tied for first with Southern Methodist and a Monday playoff site at Waco already had been selected.

Switch now to Dallas where SMU was playing at home against Texas Tech. Midway of the second half the Red Raiders led SMU 60-57 when word was received of Arkansas' surprise defeat of Texas A&M.

After the score was announced over the loud speaker system the aroused Mustangs reeled off seven straight points to take the lead for good thus wrapping up the SWC title and NCAA spot with a 99-89 triumph. It was SMU's 10th straight victory.

Utah backed into the WAC title when the New Mexico Lobos, playing at home, snapped a five-game losing streak by trip-

Cheyney Tops Small College AP Poll

Unbeaten for two straight years in 49 consecutive regular season games, the Cheyney, Pa., State Wolves have been named the No. 1 small-college basketball team for 1966 in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

The suburban Philadelphia team easily won the honor Wednesday with a total of 156 points to runner-up North Dakota's 116 from The AP's Nationwide panel of 17 sports writers and broadcasters.

Southern Illinois, the No. 1 team for seven straight weeks until the next to last poll, finished third with 108 on the basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Rounding out the final Top Ten were, in order, Grambling, Northern Michigan, Indiana State, Tennessee State, Evansville, Seattle Pacific and Valparaiso.

Cheyney, coached by Hal Blitman, beat Shippensburg 93-47 at home last Saturday to finish its regular season at 26-0.

ABILENE, Tex. AP -- W. O. Maxwell, Sr., 77, father of golfers Billy Maxwell, Bobby Maxwell and W. O. Maxwell Jr., died Tuesday. He was a pioneer West Texas professional golfer.

ping Arizona 83-69. The Lobos broke away from a 33-33 halftime tie led by Mel Daniels, recovered from a cut arm, and Ben Monroe. Each scored 26 points.

The goings-on in the SWC and WAC overshadowed Duke's rout of Wake Forest in the first round of the Atlantic Coast Conference championship tourney at Raleigh.

The Blue Devils, third-ranked in The Associated Press poll, scored a 103-73 romp over the Deacons who had upset them by one point in overtime last week.

Bob Verga's 29 points paced the Blue Devils who meet North Carolina in the semifinals tonight. North Carolina downed Maryland 77-70, South Carolina beat Clemson 60-52 and N.C. State whipped Virginia 86-77 in the other ACC first round games. South Carolina and N.C. State meet in the other semi tonight.

Cincinnati, the Missouri Valley Conference champion and No. 10 in the AP poll, closed out its regular season at 21-5 by beating its cross-town rival, Xavier of Ohio, 67-62.

Brigham Young, 16-5, and Louisville, 16-9, accepted bids to play in the National Invitation Tournament in New York while touring Wichita handed defeat 112-79.

In other games involving NCAA-bound teams, Western Kentucky, 23-2, whipped Austin Peay 76-63 and Oklahoma City, 24-4, crushed Centenary 121-90. Both were home court triumphs.

Check Will Cut Kennett Taxes

KENNETT -- The Kennett board of public works turned over to the City $150,000 in surplus funds from the 1964 $1,035,000 general obligations sewer and water bond issue, making it possible for the city to reduce its tax rate five cents.

A check for the $150,000 was presented to Kennett Mayor Sol Astrachan by Ben Cash, chairman of the board of public works.

By law, excess funds derived from the sewer and water bond issues can only be used for two purposes -- retirement of the bond issue or additional water and sewer improvements.

Receipt of the $150,000 will make it possible for the city to reduce its present $1.70 tax rate five cents per $100 assessed valuation for 1966. Tax rate reductions in the future years will be possible, as a result of this transfer of funds.

The board of public works has also established a reserve account of the remaining portion of surplus funds to enable them to make major sewer and water improvements.

Low bids received in the sewer and water improvement program resulted in the surplus funds being available.

MS Mother of Year Chosen

ST. LOUIS -- Mrs. Jack Taylor, Concord Village, has been named 1966 Multiple Sclerosis mother of the year, by the St. Louis area chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Ken Boyer, general champaign chairman, announced.

Mrs. Taylor will represent all MS patients in Eastern Missouri and Southern Illinois during the year, and will assist in the March Hope Chest Campaign, which supports the research and patient aid programs of the society.

She is the mother of a son, Jeffery 8, daughter Jodi Ann 7, and son Jimmy 10 months. Mrs. Taylor was diagnosed multiple sclerosis in October of 1963.

Prompt medical attention at the time of diagnosis, plus the will to conquer the fear of MS, and the ability to accept the disease has been half of the battle won Mrs. Taylor says.

She points to the research supported by the National Multiple Sclerosis society, which each year increases knowledge of this mysterious disease, as one of the most hopeful factors.

Before being stricken, Mrs. Taylor was active in church work and the care of her young children. She is determined that her children will have a normal home life. She leans on the understanding, patience and help of her husband, family and friends.

Vandals Turn on Hydrant

HAYTI -- On the last two Friday nights a person or persons have turned on fire hydrants in the city, causing the loss of thousands of gallons of the water.

The hydrant at the Hodgens school and in front of the school gym were turned on causing the water pressure in the mains to drop completely.

Early rising residents turned on their faucets to find that they had no water. Chief of Police Dave Willoughby was called and upon investigation found the hydrant running. The force of the water almost washed the road away in front of the bridge that crosses Little River.

This act of vandalism could have been serious had a fire broken out. With water pressure so low the fire department would have had to wait until pressure could have built up in the water mains before the fire truck could have hooked up to a fire hydrant. This could have resulted in a great loss in fire damage and could have prevented the saving of human lives had the emergency been serious enough.

If the persons responsible are caught they face a stiff fine and probable jail sentence.

The town board asks the cooperation of citizens to report to Chief of Police Dave Willoughby immediately if they see or hear any one around a fire hydrant.

Is there an adolescent in the house?

If you're a parent, there are times when nothing in the world seems more unhappy than the trials of adolescence. And if you're a young person, the desire to be "all grown up" fights with the feelings of love and respect that you've always held for your parents.

Where's the common ground that can ease this difficult period in life? Often it's at the place where you worship.

Faith does move mountains—of misunderstanding, anger, frustration. It helps parents to see, understand, and have tolerance for their youngsters' problems. It helps young people have a sense of worth about themselves now—and about the adulthood they'll soon assume.

Worship—together—this week . . . and add new, true values to your life!

March 25 Deadline for Candidates

MALDEN -- Filing deadline for candidates in the city election was set for 5 p.m. March 25, by the city council in its regular meeting.

This is an off year election and four council posts will be the only vacancies to be filled.

Tom Clark, councilman of Ward IV and chairman of the board, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mayor R. J. Dirks. Mayor Dirks is on vacation.

A lengthy discussion was held on the matter of granting a franchise for cable television in Malden. Two firms, each seeking a franchise, had representatives at the meeting.

Also present was Charley Hill, representing Channel Master Antennas. He appeared before the Council and told of disadvantages to CATV.

Ted Gleason, representing Malden Cable Television, Inc., and James Newberry, representing another firm, appeared before the Council and spoke of the advantages of CATV.

After discussing the matter of length the council agreed to set March 28 as the date when they would make a decision.

Fire Destroys Malden House

MALDEN -- Fire destroyed the home of Clayton Holloway Thursday. The house was struck by lightning two years ago.

Malden CAP Completes Course

MALDEN -- Members of the Malden Civil Air Patrol has completed a course in radiological monitoring under the direction of the Missouri Civil Defense Agency.

The course consisted of 15 hours of instruction taken over a five night period. The course consisted of lessons on Nuclear Weapon Effects; various types of Nuclear Fallout Monitoring Equipment, their use and operation; Effects of Fallout and Radiation Exposure Guidance; Decontamination; Radiation Protection; and Standard Operating Procedures in case of local or National Emergencies. Bill Pickett, Sikeston, a State Civil Defense Instructor, conducted the course.

Civil Defense emphasizes that lives lost through failure to understand and learn about Fallout cannot be saved later. The most important emergency operation is to learn and understand about fallout and to understand the local operating procedures before emergencies occur.

The Civil Defense organizes classes each month to train the people of the community in its various phases. Persons interested in becoming a part of the local Civil Defense program may contact J. D. McMunn, Malden Director of Civil Defense, or Roscoe Thornton, Assistant Director, for further information.

"I'm disgusted," said the new minister, "to see the men in this town go straight from church to a saloon."

"Why not?" replied one of the elders. "Don't you want them to thirst after righteousness?"

91st PSALM

1 He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2 I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress; my God; in him will I trust.

3 Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

4 He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5 Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

6 Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

9 Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

10 There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12 They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13 Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

14 Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him; I will set him on High, because he hath known my name.

15 He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.

16 With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

March 25 Deadline for Candidates

MALDEN -- Filing deadline for candidates in the city election was set for 5 p.m. March 25, by the city council in its regular meeting.

This is an off year election and four council posts will be the only vacancies to be filled.

Tom Clark, councilman of Ward IV and chairman of the board, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mayor R. J. Dirks. Mayor Dirks is on vacation.

A lengthy discussion was held on the matter of granting a franchise for cable television in Malden. Two firms, each seeking a franchise, had representatives at the meeting.

Also present was Charley Hill, representing Channel Master Antennas. He appeared before the Council and told of disadvantages to CATV.

Ted Gleason, representing Malden Cable Television, Inc., and James Newberry, representing another firm, appeared before the Council and spoke of the advantages of CATV.

After discussing the matter of length the council agreed to set March 28 as the date when they would make a decision.

Fire Destroys Malden House

MALDEN -- Fire destroyed the home of Clayton Holloway Thursday. The house was struck by lightning two years ago.

Malden CAP Completes Course

MALDEN -- Members of the Malden Civil Air Patrol has completed a course in radiological monitoring under the direction of the Missouri Civil Defense Agency.

The course consisted of 15 hours of instruction taken over a five night period. The course consisted of lessons on Nuclear Weapon Effects; various types of Nuclear Fallout Monitoring Equipment, their use and operation; Effects of Fallout and Radiation Exposure Guidance; Decontamination; Radiation Protection; and Standard Operating Procedures in case of local or National Emergencies. Bill Pickett, Sikeston, a State Civil Defense Instructor, conducted the course.

Civil Defense emphasizes that lives lost through failure to understand and learn about Fallout cannot be saved later. The most important emergency operation is to learn and understand about fallout and to understand the local operating procedures before emergencies occur.

The Civil Defense organizes classes each month to train the people of the community in its various phases. Persons interested in becoming a part of the local Civil Defense program may contact J. D. McMunn, Malden Director of Civil Defense, or Roscoe Thornton, Assistant Director, for further information.

"I'm disgusted," said the new minister, "to see the men in this town go straight from church to a saloon."

"Why not?" replied one of the elders. "Don't you want them to thirst after righteousness?"

91st PSALM

1 He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2 I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress; my God; in him will I trust.

3 Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

4 He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5 Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

6 Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

9 Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

10 There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12 They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13 Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

14 Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him; I will set him on High, because he hath known my name.

15 He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.

16 With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

The Prayer

For Today From The Upper Room

"Treat other people exactly as you would like to be treated by them--this is the essence of all true religion." (Matthew 7:12, Phillips)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, we are grateful for Thy Son, Jesus Christ, who has showed us the way to salvation. We have often followed Him afar off. Humbly, we confess our sins and seek Thy compassionate forgiveness. Help us to live in the spirit of a little child. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Looking Back Over the Years

Malone Theatre, today and tomorrow, "Klondike Annie" with Mae West and Victor McLaglen.

The Sikeston girls lost to Chaffee by a one-point margin in their first game in the 14th annual Southeast Missouri girls' basketball tournament at Diehlstadt Thursday night. The score was 30 to 29.

Matthews -- Tollie Warren has moved his family to the Dave Drake residence. He is employed by Mr. Drake at his garage.

Mrs. J. W. Foley entertained with a party Tuesday afternoon in honor of her son, Bobbie's seventh birth anniversary. The guests were: Billy Woehlecke, Billy Dudley, Billy Joe Greer, Charles French, Earl Martin, Charles Hahs, Billy Foley, Howard Ritter, Tommie Grey, Peter Burns, Miller Moll, Billy Joe Baker, Joe Birch Moll, and Miss Emily Blanton.

Rex Theatre, today, "Lassie Comes Home" with Roddy McDowell. Malone Theatre, "Pardon My Past" with Fred MacMurray.

Building has been on the boom in Sikeston since the first of the year and is reflected in the number of building permits that have been issued from January 1 until February 28. Since January 1, 22 building permits have been issued for construction of new or improvement of old buildings totaling $83,000. The majority of these permits were for erection of new dwellings or duplex apartments -- in fact 16 of the 22.

Mrs. Christine Walker, 72 years old, a resident of Sikeston for the past seven years, died Monday morning at the Brandon hospital in Poplar Bluff, the victim of pneumonia, after an illness of only a week.

Construction work is under way on a new building, located on Highway 60 East that will house the plant and display rooms of the Sikeston Commercial Cooling Corp. This business was incorporated in December, 1945, with Monroe Randol as president: Theodore Karlish, vice president; and Theola Randol, secretary and treasurer.

A fat, bald-headed playboy, whose bulk rose above the bar, remarked to the glamorous blonde seated next to him, "I'm really not this tall. I'm sitting on my wallet."

ANN LANDERS
Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Our teenage daughter has made us feel that we are freaks from outer space who know nothing about young people.

Last night Isabella had a date with a 17-year-old boy who comes from a good family. The young man arrived promptly at 8:00 p.m. Isabella was not ready so my husband and I tried to make small talk. The boy lit up a cigaret immediately. No one in our family smokes and so we do not have ash trays around but this did not seem to bother him in the least. He flicked the ashes in the cuff of his pants. When he had finished smoking the cigaret he put it out in a potted plant and left it there.

My husband and I were nonplussed but we said nothing. This morning we discussed the incident with Isabella and she said we are square and much too critical of her friends. We'd like your opinion. -- OUTER SPACE MOTHER AND DAD

Dear O. S. M and D: Unless smoking is against your religion or strictly prohibited in your home for health reasons, you should have ash trays around for guests who do smoke.

What did you expect the kid to do with the cigaret after he had lighted up? Eat it? Sorry, but I'm with your daughter. From your description of the boy you're lucky he used the plant and not the carpet.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's parents are very nice people and we get along well. They live across the street and just love to drop in after supper if we have nothing planned. My in-laws are not intellectuals, which is all right with me, but the only reading they do is the TV guide so they can decide which show to watch. The minute dinner is over they plug their eyeballs into the TV set. During the commercials they make a feeble attempt at conversation.

Unless there is something exceptional on TV I prefer to read. I have rigged up a little beam-type light so I can read while the others are watching anything that moves. My mother-in-law made a not-so-subtle remark that I am trying to make them feel inferior by reading while they are viewing. She also intimated that I am rude. Am I? --BOOKWORM

Dear Book: If you prefer reading to watching TV you should do so with no needling from the vidiot gallery. Make no excuses or apologies.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband was transferred to this city two years ago. Our children like it here and so does my husband but I am miserable.

We moved to a suburb which is out of our class. I have not been accepted by the women in our church group or by the PTA women either. I know the cold shoulder when I see it and I have seen it at a Junior League meeting.

My husband says I'm sensitive and that I over-interpret. All I know is that there was not a single day last month that I didn't have a crying spell. I feel completely alone with my problem because my husband refuses to give me the help I need.

Last night when I told him the woman next door pretended not to see me waiting for a bus he said, "Write to Ann Landers." So I'm writing. -- BELOW ZERO

Dear Zero: See a doctor and get your physical batteries recharged. Then go to work on your mental batteries.

All people (in and out of the suburbs) respond to friendliness and someone who shows an interest in THEIR interests. A woman who turns sour over small indignities, real or imagined, and then cries because she is ignored, should not hold her breath waiting for someone to offer a hand in friendship. It won't happen.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Dont's," enclosing with your request 35¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Armed Forces

The saying that "It's a woman's world" was never more true than in today's modern air force. More and more highly skilled jobs are being performed by WAF (Women in the Air Force). Today WAF are found in such highly diversified careers as stenographers, x-ray technicians, finance, public information, intelligence and photography. These women receive the same pay and promotion opportunities as men.

WAF may be assigned to any of 40 air force bases in the United States plus interesting overseas assignments. This opportunity for world travel while mastering an interesting and needed skill accounts for the large number of young women (18 to 27) choosing an air force career.

But more women are now needed if the air force is to meet its world-wide defense commitments.

Young women who are high school graduates and interested in more information on the opportunities for women in the air force should contact their local air force recruiting office.

JACKSONVILLE, N. C. (FHTNC) -- Marine Lance Corporal Robert H. Bean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bean of 227, Alabama, St., Sikeston, Mo., is serving with Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron (HMM-265), based at the New River Marine Corps Air Facility in Jacksonville, N. C.

The squadron recently logged 10,000 accident free hours with their CH-46A "Sea Knight" helicopters. HMM-265 was the first Marine squadron to receive the Sea Knight, and the first to log 10,000 accident free hours in this type of twin-rotor troop and cargo carrying helicopter.

This is the second time the squadron has logged1 squadron has logged 10,000 accident free hours. The first was in 1963, when HMM-265 used the UN-34D "Seahorse."

THE MAIL BAG

To the Editor:

The 14 members of the National Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress, created by Congress and appointed by the President, has everything nicely figured out.

They propose that poverty be made illegal and impossible by giving everyone a guaranteed income of $3000 a year, removing the need to work.

The same idea was discussed in the Greek play "Ecclesiazusae" written 2300 years ago by Aristophanes in which a lady politician named Praxagora said:

"I want all to have a share of everything and all property to be held in common; there will no longer be either rich or poor; no longer shall we see one man harvesting vast tracks of land, while another has not ground to be buried in. . . .I intend that there shall be only one and the same condition of life for all. . . I shall begin by making land, money, everything that is private property, common to all."

"But who," asked Bleyprus, another character in the play, "shall do all the work"?

Are You a Young Man On the Way Up?

Today's man on the way up may still be in college, or he may be just starting his family. Either way, now is the time for him to buy life insurance -- premiums will never be lower. And to help, until his salary increases, MFA Life Insurance offers lower premiums during these early years when income is lower. As the years pass, and the income increases, the premiums graduate on a predetermined schedule. Ask about the Modified Five-Ten Policy.

The Prayer

For Today From The Upper Room

"Treat other people exactly as you would like to be treated by them--this is the essence of all true religion." (Matthew 7:12, Phillips)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, we are grateful for Thy Son, Jesus Christ, who has showed us the way to salvation. We have often followed Him afar off. Humbly, we confess our sins and seek Thy compassionate forgiveness. Help us to live in the spirit of a little child. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Looking Back Over the Years

Malone Theatre, today and tomorrow, "Klondike Annie" with Mae West and Victor McLaglen.

The Sikeston girls lost to Chaffee by a one-point margin in their first game in the 14th annual Southeast Missouri girls' basketball tournament at Diehlstadt Thursday night. The score was 30 to 29.

Matthews -- Tollie Warren has moved his family to the Dave Drake residence. He is employed by Mr. Drake at his garage.

Mrs. J. W. Foley entertained with a party Tuesday afternoon in honor of her son, Bobbie's seventh birth anniversary. The guests were: Billy Woehlecke, Billy Dudley, Billy Joe Greer, Charles French, Earl Martin, Charles Hahs, Billy Foley, Howard Ritter, Tommie Grey, Peter Burns, Miller Moll, Billy Joe Baker, Joe Birch Moll, and Miss Emily Blanton.

Rex Theatre, today, "Lassie Comes Home" with Roddy McDowell. Malone Theatre, "Pardon My Past" with Fred MacMurray.

Building has been on the boom in Sikeston since the first of the year and is reflected in the number of building permits that have been issued from January 1 until February 28. Since January 1, 22 building permits have been issued for construction of new or improvement of old buildings totaling $83,000. The majority of these permits were for erection of new dwellings or duplex apartments -- in fact 16 of the 22.

Mrs. Christine Walker, 72 years old, a resident of Sikeston for the past seven years, died Monday morning at the Brandon hospital in Poplar Bluff, the victim of pneumonia, after an illness of only a week.

Construction work is under way on a new building, located on Highway 60 East that will house the plant and display rooms of the Sikeston Commercial Cooling Corp. This business was incorporated in December, 1945, with Monroe Randol as president; Theodore Karlish, vice president; and Theola Randol, secretary and treasurer.

A fat, bald-headed playboy, whose bulk rose above the bar, remarked to the glamorous blonde seated next to him, "I'm really not this tall. I'm sitting on my wallet."

ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Our teenage daughter has made us feel that we are freaks from outer space who know nothing about young people.

Last night Isabella had a date with a 17-year-old boy who comes from a good family. The young man arrived promptly at 8:00 p.m. Isabella was not ready so my husband and I tried to make small talk. The boy lit up a cigaret immediately. No one in our family smokes and so we do not have ash trays around but this did not seem to bother him in the least. He flicked the ashes in the cuff of his pants. When he had finished smoking the cigaret he put it out in a potted plant and left it there.

My husband and I were nonplussed but we said nothing. This morning we discussed the incident with Isabella and she said we are square and much too critical of her friends. We'd like your opinion. -- OUTER SPACE MOTHER AND DAD

Dear O. S. M and D: Unless smoking is against your religion or strictly prohibited in your home for health reasons, you should have ash trays around for guests who do smoke.

What did you expect the kid to do with the cigaret after he had lighted up? Eat it? Sorry, but I'm with your daughter. From your description of the boy you're lucky he used the plant and not the carpet.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's parents are very nice people and we get along well. They live across the street and just love to drop in after supper if we have nothing planned. My in-laws are not intellectuals, which is all right with me, but the only reading they do is the TV guide so they can decide which show to watch. The minute dinner is over they plug their eyeballs into the TV set. During the commercials they make a feeble attempt at conversation.

Unless there is something exceptional on TV I prefer to read. I have rigged up a little beam-type light so I can read while the others are watching anything that moves. My mother-in-law made a not-so-subtle remark that I am trying to make them feel inferior by reading while they are viewing. She also intimated that I am rude. Am I? --BOOKWORM

Dear Book: If you prefer reading to watching TV you should do so with no needling from the vidiot gallery. Make no excuses or apologies.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband was transferred to this city two years ago. Our children like it here and so does my husband but I am miserable.

We moved to a suburb which is out of our class. I have not been accepted by the women in our church group or by the PTA women either. I know the cold shoulder when I see it and I have seen it at a Junior League meeting.

My husband says I'm sensitive and that I over-interpret. All I know is that there was not a single day last month that I didn't have a crying spell. I feel completely alone with my problem because my husband refuses to give me the help I need.

Last night when I told him the woman next door pretended not to see me waiting for a bus he said, "Write to Ann Landers." So I'm writing. -- BELOW ZERO

Dear Zero: See a doctor and get your physical batteries recharged. Then go to work on your mental batteries.

All people (in and out of the suburbs) respond to friendliness and someone who shows an interest in THEIR interests. A woman who turns sour over small indignities, real or imagined, and then cries because she is ignored, should not hold her breath waiting for someone to offer a hand in friendship. It won't happen.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Dont's," enclosing with your request 35¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Armed Forces

The saying that "It's a woman's world" was never more true than in today's modern air force. More and more highly skilled jobs are being performed by WAF (Women in the Air Force). Today WAF are found in such highly diversified careers as stenographers, x-ray technicians, finance, public information, intelligence and photography. These women receive the same pay and promotion opportunities as men.

WAF may be assigned to any of 40 air force bases in the United States plus interesting overseas assignments. This opportunity for world travel while mastering an interesting and needed skill accounts for the large number of young women (18 to 27) choosing an air force career.

But more women are now needed if the air force is to meet its world-wide defense commitments.

Young women who are high school graduates and interested in more information on the opportunities for women in the air force should contact their local air force recruiting office.

JACKSONVILLE, N. C. (FHTNC) -- Marine Lance Corporal Robert H. Bean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bean of 227, Alabama, St., Sikeston, Mo., is serving with Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron (HMM-265), based at the New River Marine Corps Air Facility in Jacksonville, N. C.

The squadron recently logged 10,000 accident free hours with their CH-46A "Sea Knight" helicopters. HMM-265 was the first Marine squadron to receive the Sea Knight, and the first to log 10,000 accident free hours in this type of twin-rotor troop and cargo carrying helicopter.

THE MAIL BAG

To the Editor:

The 14 members of the National Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress, created by Congress and appointed by the President, has everything nicely figured out.

They propose that poverty be made illegal and impossible by giving everyone a guaranteed income of $3000 a year, removing the need to work.

The same idea was discussed in the Greek play "Ecclesiazusae" written 2300 years ago by Aristophanes in which a lady politician named Praxagora said:

"I want all to have a share of everything and all property to be held in common; there will no longer be either rich or poor; no longer shall we see one man harvesting vast tracks of land, while another has not ground to be buried in. . . .I intend that there shall be only one and the same condition of life for all. . . I shall begin by making land, money, everything that is private property, common to all."

"But who," asked Bleyprus, another character in the play, "shall do all the work"?

Are You a Young Man On the Way Up?

Today's man on the way up may still be in college, or he may be just starting his family. Either way, now is the time for him to buy life insurance -- premiums will never be lower. And to help, until his salary increases, MFA Life Insurance offers lower premiums during these early years when income is lower. As the years pass, and the income increases, the premiums graduate on a predetermined schedule. Ask about the Modified Five-Ten Policy.

Outlook For Wet March

PORTAGEVILLE -- A wet March with near normal temperatures is indicated by the 30-day outlook for the Bootheel.

This gives assurance of going into the spring planting season with ample to excess moisture, depending upon trends late in the month and in early April.

At the same time, there will be a gradual warming of soils as they respond to the normal seasonal rise in temperatures.

Most high pressure systems crossing the nation will move inland from the Pacific and pass through the Mississippi valley on a path through Missouri. This reduces prospects for extremely cold arctic outbreaks and favors periodic exchanges between cool Pacific air and warm southerly winds from the Gulf of Mexico.

Temperatures in March reach the 60s fairly often under near normal conditions and occasionally warm into the 70s. Few long cold spells occur in a normal March, and night time low readings fluctuate between the 20s and 40s, averaging out about 38 degrees. Few below freezing readings are encountered in the last week of a normal March. However, with warmer than normal averages in March 1955, the mercury dropped to 13 degrees on the 26th day of the month. It is advisable to watch the five day weather outlook for indications of short period abnormalities.

Low pressure disturbances will continue to form in the Texas-Mexico border region and move northeastward, crossing the Mississippi river within range of the Bootheel. Frequent rain periods are likely to bring total accumulations of 5 to 8 inches. Some of this will undoubtedly fall during thunderstorms which are capable of spilling local downpours as much as that in one day. The 5 to 8 inch value is an anticipated average for the seven southeast counties of Missouri with rain falling on 11 to 15 days of the month.

Near normal precipitation in February kept Bootheel soils well supplied with moisture. Totals varied from 3.40 inches at Cape Girardeau to 3.74 inches at Portageville and 4.15 inches at Caruthersville. This compares with the normal for Southeast Missouri of 3.77 inches. This included 4.6 inches of snow at Portageville.

Normal rainfall for March for the Bootheel as a whole is 4.79 inches. Figures for individual cities:

Caruthersville, 5.05 inches; Fisk, 4.57 inches; New Madrid, 5.05 inches, Poplar Bluff, 4.50 inches; Dexter, 4.83 inches; Morehouse, 4.73 inches; Parma, 4.85 inches and Sikeston, 4.99 inches.

Short term averages for other points are: Malden, 4.64 inches; Kennett, 4.60 inches; Portageville, 4.41 inches; Charleston, 4.85 inches.

Even with those amounts, evaporation is normally so low that an excess of three inches of moisture may be expected. In a wet month maximum advantage will have to be taken of dry periods. Sufficient drying to allow much field preparation is unlikely. Fields will often be too wet to permit surface application of fertilizers on winter wheat, except on sandy soils. March winds are not as likely to cause as much erosion on wet fields, however.

Communism Is Topic Of Study

AS THE STUDENTS of contemporary history classes are discovering, communism is a term that is greatly misunderstood and widely misused. They are learning the differences between theoretical communism and communism as it is practiced in Russia and China today.

These seniors learned that communism is an old idea of philosophers who dreamed of an ideal state.

Plato described his interpretation of this ideal state in his book THE REPUBLIC. Aristotle, a student of Plato, voiced similar beliefs on this subject.

Since Plato's time, others have talked and written about ideal governments where people would share equally what they produced. Sir Thomas More, an Englishman, wrote a small book called UTOPIA, describing an imaginary country where there was no such thing as private property and everyone lived together in one huge, happy family.

In America in the 1600's some colonists experimented in communism. The Pilgrims in Plymouth and the settlers of Jamestown set up a system where no one owned land and each colonist took his supplies from the community stocks.

The result was the lazy settlers did not work, and the industrious ones became discouraged and unhappy.

During the 1800's French reformer Charles Furier and Englishman Robert Owen experimented in communism with little success.

Toward the middle of the 1800's a new form of communism appeared in Germany. One of its founders, Karl Marx, along with his friend Friedrich Engels developed a new system of ideals.

Marx and Engels rejected all religious ideas--they believed that the world and universe had grown from matter. Through supposedly logical reasoning, they came up with the theory of dialectical materialism.

They were opposed to capitalism because they thought that the wealth of the bourgeoisie steadily increased while shopkeepers and land-owning peasants were reduced to the proletariat. In 1848 Marx and Engels proclaimed the Communist Manifesto in which they appealed to the working class to rebel.

Communism took control of Russia after the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917. In 1918 Vladimir Lenin established the Russian Socialist Federated Soviet Republic, which was later changed to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR).

To determine the differences between theoretical communism and the communisms of today, students must do much individual research.

We should be thankful that we have the chance to study other forms of government as deeply as we wish -- instead of relying on government propaganda that can be extremely distorted. Through our studies of other types of governments, we should realize the greatness of our own government, democracy.

Regular Studying Deemed Useful

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23 marks the close of the third quarter, and students still have time to do something about that grade that they were going to "bring upon the next test."

Since this quarter began during January, everyone got off to a slow start because their study habits had been altered during Christmas vacation.

Several days of spring weather induced outdoor fun rather than indoor studying during this nine weeks.

SENIOR CAR WASH

MRS. JOANNE FOX sings "Ave Marie" during the late division band concert last week. Band members Susie Howle, Carolyn Kirby, Sandy Vandlandingham, Gail Stallings, and Jane Anne Baker diligently accompany Mrs. Fox.

Future Business Leaders Hold Official Installation

Mrs. Helen Reuber Speaks To Future Teachers Group

Conselor Mrs. Helen Reuber was guest speaker of the Future Teachers of America at their monthly meeting Tuesday evening.

Theme of the talk was combining counseling with teaching. Mrs. Reuber told of using the guidance approach and how it helps the new teacher in the first day of class.

Several points a person must consider before teaching are determining the teacher's own weakness, recognizing own areas of sensitivity, meeting problems, such as lack of adequate equipment.

Mrs. Reuber also stressed the importance of being objective and determining what one really values.

She told how a teacher can be the best counselor for the teacher comes in day-to-day contact with the student. Alert teachers can help students understand themselves, identify the gifted, and often identify the emotionally or socially maladjusted.

Study made of normal people and points that characterize these people was also discussed.

Mrs. Reuber told of some of her own experiences in teaching to accent some of the points discussed.

Advisers Aid InCeremony; Gain Charter

Thirty-three members were inducted into the Future Business Leaders of America club last Wednesday evening in the cafetorium. Because the Fisk chapter was not able to attend, the Panel of Advisers conducted the ceremony.

Mrs. Rovena Hillsman served as the installing official and she was aided by Dick Watkins, manager of the local radio station.

Short talks were given by specific members of the panel. With a crystal ball as a symbol, Phil Barkett Sr., spoke on the future. Pat Lea, vice president of the Bank of Sikeston, talked on business with a small typewriter serving as his symbol.

Boy and girl dressed as graduates inspired Bob Henzi's talk on leadership. He is manager of Anchor Toy. Dr. Audra B. Smith of Sikeston presented a small American flag with his speech on America.

President of the club Terry Burke accepted the chapter charter. Mr. Watkins administered the oath of office to the officers, and he led the members in the recitation of the creed.

Guests attending the installation were Earl Jarvis of Jarvis and Conn Motor Company, principal, Roger Sherman, instructor Miss Electa O'Hara, and several parents.

Refreshments were served following the ceremony. Students Jan Yates and Janet Butrum were in charge of the decorations and refreshments.

Miss Williams Announces Forthcoming Play Cast

Cast for the drama club's performance of "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" has been announced by instructor Miss Carole Ann Williams.

Players are Nellie, Jeannie Winters; Adam Oakhart, Robin Chambers; Widow Lovelace, Elaine Dockins; Munro Murgatrayd, David Whiteaker; Ida Rhinegold, Kathy Hahs; Mookie, Terry Burke.

Mrs. Upson Asterbilt, Judy Murchison; Leonie, Teresa Hammelman; Fleurette, Sheila Elledge, and Little Nell, Beth Mayfield.

"Dirty Work at the Crossroads" by Bill Johnson will be presented on April 22 and 23. Play is amelodrama with a hero, villain, young lady, and typical family problems.

This production will be completed with music which will be written especially for the drama club by Brian Curtis in Cape Girardeau.

Assistant directors are Danny Cannon and Bob Urban. Costumes and publicity will be handled by Phonda Snow and Elaine Dockins respectively.

Art instructor Miss Emily Brenecke will paint the background for the play.

Guess Who?

Spotlighted in this week's "Guess Who" column is a well-known faculty member.

She sponsors an extra-curricular activity in Sikeston high school, and she is an adult officer for a prominent social organization in the community of Sikeston.

Mystery person has attended college at Western Kentucky State, where she received her Bachelor of Science Degree; and at the University of Missouri, the University of Colorado, and the University of Illinois.

First student to come by the journalism room after 3:30 and correctly identify the mystery person will receive a prize.

Last week's mystery faculty member was librarian Frederick W. Huff.

Lumsden Is Test Finalist On NMSQT

Senior Fred Lumsden has been named a finalist in the 1965-'66 National Merit scholarship Program competition and has been awarded a Certificate of Merit.

This certificate is given in recognition of high performance in the Merit ScholarshipProgram and is awarded to about one-half of one per cent of high school seniors in the nation.

Reception of this certificate makes Fred a finalist in the merit program. Scholarships will be offered in the current competition.

The merit program not only offers financial rewards, but it also encourages intellectual attainment and the pursuit of excellence generally.

Results of the final tally will be announced confidentially about March 25, and public announcement will be made about April 20.

SHS Speech Group Gains Memberships

Seven students joined the Sikeston high school National Forensic League recently.

Karol Kem, Dianna Chism, Shelton Taylor, Raymond Shannon, Mike Musick, Sue Hill, and Vincent LaCour are the new members.

Several members of the organization obtained new degrees following the Southland debate.

Dale Morris and Mike Hopkins received the degree of distinction. Mike Payne, Wayne Hulehan, and Joe Schuchart obtained the degree of excellence.

Jeanne Shankle and John Carr received the degree of honor.

These degrees signify that the student reached the 250, 150, and 75 - point bracket, respectively.

Sikeston high school National Forensic League chapter ranks highest in the nation with 415 memberships and degrees. Excelsior high school in California is second with a total of 193.

Debaters will meet area schools in a speech contest Tuesday afternoon. "A" debaters will compete at Clarkton and "B" debaters will participate in Gideon.

State National Forensic League will meet later this month in Jefferson City, but the exact date is not known because of the special legislative session now in progress.

Band Clinic Is Tomorrow Brass Quintet

University of Wichita Brass Quintet will sponsor band clinic in the Sikeston high school tomorrow.

Members of the quintet will present a concert at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the cafeteria. Ensembles to perform at 1:15 are trumpets and coronets in the cafeteria, French horns in the chorus room, and baritones, trombones, basses, and low brass in the band room.

Southeast Missouri High School Band Association is in charge of the various clinics in Sikeston and area schools.

Memphis State Percussion Ensemble presented a concert at Sikeston several weeks ago and a percussion ensemble from Illinois gave a concert in Dexter two weeks ago.

Bands from 57 Southeast Missouri schools are invited to attend the clinic tomorrow.

Late division (8:30) band, directed by Keith Collins, presented its annual concert last Thursday evening in the middle school auditorium.

Mrs. JoAnne Fox, Sikeston solo vocalist, sang "Ave Maria," and "Hello, Young Lovers," accompanied by the band.

Thirty-five seniors are members of the 8:30 band, three of whom are officers. President is Rob Collins; vice-president, Dennis Ziegenhorn; and secretary-treasurer, Carolyn Kirby.

Early band (7:30 division) will present its annual concert next Friday evening in the middle school auditorium. Senior Judy Matthews will serve as piano soloist for this concert. Members of the two bands will have their annual dance at the American Legion Hall following the concert.

Other concerts scheduled for the future are Sikeston Community Choir, March 13; Southeast Missouri Band Association Festival, March 30; and Sikeston high school choir Palm Sunday concert, April 3.

District Band Claims Seven SHS Players

Seven Sikeston high school band students have been selected to be members of the Southeast Missouri District Band.

This group will play for the opening session of the District Teachers Convention in Cape Girardeau, Thursday morning, March 17.

Students selected are Barbara Cantrell, clarinet; Sylvia Noles, French horn; Dianne Caskey, alto clarinet; Deidre Harber, oboe; Charles Stamp, saxaphone; Mike Hopkins, tympani; and Judy Murchison, flute.

Prof. Robert Restemeyer of Southeast Missouri State College will conduct the band.

Seventy band students were selected from 90 schools over the district for the band.

Practice for the district group will be Saturday, March 12, and Monday, March 15, at the Southeast Missouri State College.

Victory Bell, New Scoreboard Prove Useful

Various merchants and Sikeston citizens have rendered great assistance to the Red Peppers of Sikeston high school this past year.

Potlatch Forest Industry donated hundreds of feet of poster paper to the girls, Barkett's Big Star gave reductions on paper cups for "spirit" water, and Canedy Sign Company lettered the new victory bell. Nunelee's Funeral Home allowed the peppers to use several pieces of artificial grass.

Arthur Ziegenhorn, Raymond Leible, and Bruce Lewis permitted several decoration committees to use their warehouses for decoration and storage purposes.

Hart's Bakery donated bread for the March of Dimes Drive, and Home Materials gave the Red Peppers wood to use for the new scoreboard.

Rex Joyce and Adron Werneck gave of their "spare time" to build various chicken wire objects for the organization.

Gordon "Doc" Shy secured the victory bell, and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bakrett allowed the Red Peppers to use their large cardboard Bulldog for decoration purposes.

Numerous Sikeston citizens loaned their wrought iron chairs to the group for various uses.

"It is evident that without the generosity of these Sikeston residents, the Red Peppers would have been unable to advance as greatly this year," said cayenne Carol Werneck.

Outlook For Wet March

PORTAGEVILLE -- A wet March with near normal temperatures is indicated by the 30-day outlook for the Bootheel.

This gives assurance of going into the spring planting season with ample to excess moisture, depending upon trends late in the month and in early April.

At the same time, there will be a gradual warming of soils as they respond to the normal seasonal rise in temperatures.

Most high pressure systems crossing the nation will move inland from the Pacific and pass through the Mississippi valley on a path through Missouri. This reduces prospects for extremely cold arctic outbreaks and favors periodic exchanges between cool Pacific air and warm southerly winds from the Gulf of Mexico.

Temperatures in March reach the 60s fairly often under near normal conditions and occasionally warm into the 70s. Few long cold spells occur in a normal March, and night time low readings fluctuate between the 20s and 40s, averaging out about 38 degrees. Few below freezing readings are encountered in the last week of a normal March. However, with warmer than normal averages in March 1955, the mercury dropped to 13 degrees on the 26th day of the month. It is advisable to watch the five day weather outlook for indications of short period abnormalities.

Low pressure disturbances will continue to form in the Texas-Mexico border region and move northeastward, crossing the Mississippi river within range of the Bootheel. Frequent rain periods are likely to bring total accumulations of 5 to 8 inches. Some of this will undoubtedly fall during thunderstorms which are capable of spilling local downpours as much as that in one day.

The 5 to 8 inch value is an anticipated average for the seven southeast counties of Missouri with rain falling on 11 to 15 days of the month.

Near normal precipitation in February kept Bootheel soils well supplied with moisture. Totals varied from 3.40 inches at Cape Girardeau to 3.74 inches at Portageville and 4.15 inches at Caruthersville. This compares with the normal for Southeast Missouri of 3.77 inches. This included 4.6 inches of snow at Portageville.

Normal rainfall for March for the Bootheel as a whole is 4.79 inches. Figures for individual cities:

Caruthersville, 5.05 inches; Fisk, 4.57 inches; New Madrid, 5.05 inches, Poplar Bluff, 4.50 inches; Dexter. 4.83 inches; Morehouse, 4.73 inches; Parma, 4.85 inches and Sikeston, 4.99 inches.

Short term averages for other points are: Malden, 4.64 inches; Kennett, 4.60 inches; Portageville, 4.41 inches; Charleston, 4.85 inches.

Even with those amounts, evaporation is normally so low that an excess of three inches of moisture may be expected. In a wet month maximum advantage will have to be taken of dry periods. Sufficient drying to allow much field preparation is unlikely. Fields will often be too wet to permit surface application of fertilizers on winter wheat, except on sandy soils. March winds are not as likely to cause as much erosion on wet fields, however.

Schedule of Satellites

ROLLA -- The following schedule for the Echo I satellite over Missouri has been furnished by Dr. J. H. Senne of the University of Missouri at Rolla.

Sunday -- 10:05 p.m., rises WSW, passes overhead, enters shadow med. ENE.

9:34 p.m., rises W, enters shadow med. NW.

Monday - 8:06 p.m., rises WSW, passes high NNW, enters shadow med. NE. 10:05 p.m., rises W, enters shadow med. NNW.

Communism Is Topic Of Study

AS THE STUDENTS of contemporary history classes are discovering, communism is a term that is greatly misunderstood and widely misused. They are learning the differences between theoretical communism and communism as it is practiced in Russia and China today.

These seniors learned that communism is an old idea of philosophers who dreamed of an ideal state.

Plato described his interpretation of this ideal state in his book THE REPUBLIC. Aristotle, a student of Plato, voiced similar beliefs on this subject.

Since Plato's time, others have talked and written about ideal governments where people would share equally what they produced. Sir Thomas More, an Englishman, wrote a small book called UTOPIA, describing an imaginary country where there was no such thing as private property and everyone lived together in one huge, happy family.

In America in the 1600's some colonists experimented in communism. The Pilgrims in Plymouth and the settlers of Jamestown set up a system where no one owned land and each colonist took his supplies from the community stocks.

The result was the lazy settlers did not work, and the industrious ones became discouraged and unhappy.

During the 1800's French reformer Charles Furier and Englishman Robert Owen experimented in communism with little success.

Toward the middle of the 1800's a new form of communism appeared in Germany. One of its founders, Karl Marx, along with his friend Friedrich Engels developed a new system of ideals.

Marx and Engels rejected all religious ideas--they believed that the world and universe had grown from matter. Through supposedly logical reasoning, they came up with the theory of dialectical materialism.

They were opposed to capitalism because they thought that the wealth of the bourgeoisie steadily increased while shopkeepers and land-owning peasants were reduced to the proletariat. In 1848 Marx and Engels proclaimed the Communist Manifesto in which they appealed to the working class to rebel.

Communism took control of Russia after the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917. In 1918 Vladimir Lenin established the Russian Socialist Federated Soviet Republic, which was later changed to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR).

To determine the differences between theoretical communism and the communisms of today, students must do much individual research.

We should be thankful that we have the chance to study other forms of government as deeply as we wish -- instead of relying on government propaganda that can be extremely distorted. Through our studies of other types of governments, we should realize the greatness of our own government, democracy.

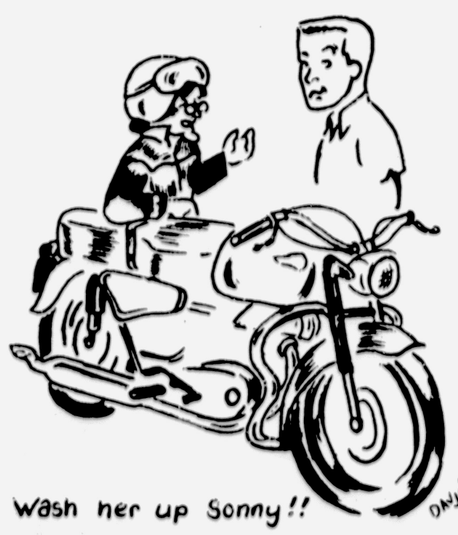
Regular Studying Deemed Useful

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23 marks the close of the third quarter, and students still have time to do something about that grade that they were going to "bring upon the next test."

Since this quarter began during January, everyone got off to a slow start because their study habits had been altered during Christmas vacation.

Several days of spring weather induced outdoor fun rather than indoor studying during this nine weeks.

SENIOR CAR WASH



MRS. JOANNE FOX sings "Ave Marie" during the late division band concert last week. Band members Susie Howle, Carolyn Kirby, Sandy Vandlandingham, Gail Stallings, and Jane Anne Baker diligently accompany Mrs. Fox.

Future Business Leaders Hold Official Installation

Mrs. Helen Reuber Speaks To Future Teachers Group

Conselor Mrs. Helen Reuber was guest speaker of the Future Teachers of America at their monthly meeting Tuesday evening.

Theme of the talk was combining counseling with teaching. Mrs. Reuber told of using the guidance approach and how it helps the new teacher in the first day of class.

Several points a person must consider before teaching are determining the teacher's own weakness, recognizing own areas of sensitivity, meeting problems, such as lack of adequate equipment.

Mrs. Reuber also stressed the importance of being objective and determining what one really values.

She told how a teacher can be the best counselor for the teacher comes in day-to-day contact with the student. Alert teachers can help students understand themselves, identify the gifted, and often identify the emotionally or socially maladjusted.

Study made of normal people and points that characterize these people was also discussed.

Mrs. Reuber told of some of her own experiences in teaching to accent some of the points discussed.

Advisers Aid In Ceremony; Gain Charter

Thirty-three members were inducted into the Future Business Leaders of America club last Wednesday evening in the cafetorium. Because the Fisk chapter was not able to attend, the Panel of Advisers conducted the ceremony.

Mrs. Rovena Hillsman served as the installing official and she was aided by Dick Watkins, manager of the local radio station.

Short talks were given by specific members of the panel. With a crystal ball as a symbol, Phil Barkett Sr., spoke on the future. Pat Lea, vice president of the Bank of Sikeston, talked on business with a small typewriter serving as his symbol.

Boy and girl dressed as graduates inspired Bob Henzl's talk on leadership. He is manager of Anchor Toy. Dr. Audra B. Smith of Sikeston presented a small American flag with his speech on America.

President of the club Terry Burke accepted the chapter charter. Mr. Watkins administered the oath of office to the officers, and he led the members in the recitation of the creed.

Guests attending the installation were Earl Jarvis of Jarvis and Conn Motor Company, principal, Roger Sherman, instructor Miss Electa O'Hara, and several parents.

Refreshments were served following the ceremony. Students Jan Yates and Janet Butrum were in charge of the decorations and refreshments.

Miss Williams Announces Forthcoming Play Cast

Cast for the drama club's performance of "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" has been announced by instructor Miss Carole Ann Williams.

Players are Nellie, Jeannie Winters; Adam Oakhart, Robin Chambers; Widow Lovelace, Elaine Dockins; Munro Murgatrayd, David Whiteaker; Ida Rhinegold, Kathy Hahs; Mookie, Terry Burke.

Mrs. Upson Asterbilt, Judy Murchison; Leonie, Teresa Hammelman; Fleurette, Sheila Elledge, and Little Nell, Beth Mayfield.

"Dirty Work at the Crossroads" by Bill Johnson will be presented on April 22 and 23. Play is amelodrama with a hero, villain, young lady, and typical family problems.

This production will be completed with music which will be written especially for the drama club by Brian Curtis in Cape Girardeau.

Assistant directors are Danny Cannon and Bob Urban. Costumes and publicity will be handled by Phonda Snow and Elaine Dockins respectively.

Art instructor Miss Emily Brenecke will paint the background for the play.

Guess Who?

Spotlighted in this week's "Guess Who" column is a well-known faculty member.

She sponsors an extra-curricular activity in Sikeston high school, and she is an adult officer for a prominent social organization in the community of Sikeston.

Mystery person has attended college at Western Kentucky State, where she received her Bachelor of Science Degree; and at the University of Missouri, the University of Colorado, and the University of Illinois.

First student to come by the journalism room after 3:30 and correctly identify the mystery person will receive a prize.

Last week's mystery faculty member was librarian Frederick W. Huff.

Lumsden Is Test Finalist On NMSQT

Senior Fred Lumsden has been named a finalist in the 1965-66 National Merit scholarship Program competition and has been awarded a Certificate of Merit.

This certificate is given in recognition of high performance in the Merit ScholarshipProgram and is awarded to about one-half of one per cent of high school seniors in the nation.

Reception of this certificate makes Fred a finalist in the merit program. Scholarships will be offered in the current competition.

The merit program not only offers financial rewards, but it also encourages intellectual attainment and the pursuit of excellence generally.

Results of the final tally will be announced confidentially about March 25, and public announcement will be made about April 20.

SHS Speech Group Gains Memberships

Seven students joined the Sikeston high school National Forensic League recently.

Karol Kem, Dianna Chism, Shelton Taylor, Raymond Shannon, Mike Musick, Sue Hill, and Vincent LaCour are the new members.

Several members of the organization obtained new degrees following the Southland debate.

Dale Morris and Mike Hopkins received the degree of distinction. Mike Payne, Wayne Hulehan, and Joe Schuchart obtained the degree of excellence.

Jeanne Shankle and John Carr received the degree of honor.

These degrees signify that the student reached the 250, 150, and 75 - point bracket, respectively.

Sikeston high school National Forensic League chapter ranks highest in the nation with 415 memberships and degrees. Excelsior high school in California is second with a total of 193.

Debaters will meet area schools in a speech contest Tuesday afternoon. "A" debaters will compete at Clarkton and "B" debaters will participate in Gideon.

State National Forensic League will meet later this month in Jefferson City, but the exact date is not known because of the special legislative session now in progress.

Band Clinic Is Tomorrow Brass Quintet

University of Wichita Brass Quintet will sponsor band clinic in the Sikeston high school tomorrow.

Members of the quintet will present a concert at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the cafeteria. Ensembles to perform at 1:15 are trumpets and coronets in the cafeteria, French horns in the chorus room, and baritones, trombones, basses, and low brass in the band room.

Southeast Missouri High School Band Association is in charge of the various clinics in Sikeston and area schools.

Memphis State Percussion Ensemble presented a concert at Sikeston several weeks ago and a percussion ensemble from Illinois gave a concert in Dexter two weeks ago.

Bands from 57 Southeast Missouri schools are invited to attend the clinic tomorrow.

Late division (8:30) band, directed by Keith Collins, presented its annual concert last Thursday evening in the middle school auditorium.

Mrs. JoAnne Fox, Sikeston solo vocalist, sang "Ave Maria," and "Hello, Young Lovers," accompanied by the band.

Thirty-five seniors are members of the 8:30 band, three of whom are officers. President is Rob Collins; vice--president, Dennis Ziegenhorn; and secretary-treasurer, Carolyn Kirby.

Early band (7:30 division) will present its annual concert next Friday evening in the middle school auditorium. Senior Judy Matthews will serve as piano soloist for this concert. Members of the two bands will have their annual dance at the American Legion Hall following the concert.

Other concerts scheduled for the future are Sikeston Community Choir, March 13; Southeast Missouri Band Association Festival, March 30; and Sikeston high school choir Palm Sunday concert, April 3.

District Band Claims Seven SHS Players

Seven Sikeston high school band students have been selected to be members of the Southeast Missouri District Band.

This group will play for the opening session of the District Teachers Convention in Cape Girardeau, Thursday morning, March 17.

Students selected are Barbara Cantrell, clarinet; Sylvia Noles, French horn; Dianne Caskey, alto clarinet; Deidre Harber, oboe; Charles Stamp, saxaphone; Mike Hopkins, tympani; and Judy Murchison, flute.

Prof. Robert Restemeyer of Southeast Missouri State College will conduct the band.

Seventy band students were selected from 90 schools over the district for the band.

Practice for the district group will be Saturday, March 12, and Monday, March 15, at the Southeast Missouri State College.

Victory Bell, New Scoreboard Prove Useful

Various merchants and Sikeston citizens have rendered great assistance to the Red Peppers of Sikeston high school this past year.

Potlatch Forest Industry donated hundreds of feet of poster paper to the girls, Barkett's Big Star gave reductions on paper cups for "spirit" water, and Canedy Sign Company lettered the new victory bell. Nunelee's Funeral Home allowed the peppers to use several pieces of artificial grass.

Arthur Ziegenhorn, Raymond Leible, and Bruce Lewis permitted several decoration committees to use their warehouses for decoration and storage purposes.

Hart's Bakery donated bread for the March of Dimes Drive, and Home Materials gave the Red Peppers wood to use for the new scoreboard.

Rex Joyce and Adron Werneck gave of their "spare time" to build various chicken wire objects for the organization.

Gordon "Doc" Shy secured the victory bell, and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bakrett allowed the Red Peppers to use their large cardboard Bulldog for decoration purposes.

Numerous Sikeston citizens loaned their wrought iron chairs to the group for various uses.

"It is evident that without the generosity of these Sikeston residents, the Red Peppers would have been unable to advance as greatly this year," said cayenne Carol Werneck.

Today In U. S. History

Today is Friday, March 4, the 63rd day of 1966. There are 302 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1789, the first federal Congress under the present Constitution met in New York in the hall which stood at the corner of Broad and Wall streets in New York.

On this date

In 1681, William Penn received a grant for lands lying north of Maryland west of the Delaware River which became the State of Pennsylvania.

In 1791, Vermont, the 14th state, entered the union.

In 1933, Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaugurated as president.

In 1943, American forces defeated the Japanese in the Battle of the Bismarck Sea.

In 1908, a school fire in Cleveland, Ohio, claimed the lives of 172 children and teachers.

Ten years ago—Pope Pius XII warned all nations against the lure of what he called insidious peace overtures by the Communist Congress in Moscow.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy announced he had named his brother-in-law, Sargent Shriver, as Peace Corps director.

One year ago — Nearly 2,000 students, mostly Asians, attacked the U.S. Embassy in Moscow in protest against American Viet Nam policy.

Parcel Service In City Grows

ST. LOUIS -- The commercial and residential expansion of Sikeston has experienced in the past year has resulted in growth within United Parcel Service.

"Our development during the past year has had to be rapid to keep pace with the increased needs of new residents and growing businesses," states Robert Marquart, manager of the delivery company's Sikeston operations.

The firm serves a broad area of Missouri from its Sikeston building. Operating out of its new 4,000 square foot facility on East Malone Street, UPS provides a small parcel pick-up and delivery service. It links Missouri firms to their customers and suppliers in all or parts of 14 midwestern states. In this service, packages up to 50 pounds in weight are handled.

In addition to Marquart, other employes are Sam Baker, Frank Bowman, Bob Britton, Gary Davis, Don Latham, Ron Newton, Bob Perry, John Robbins, Tom Roberts, Steve Kappler, and Dennis Johnson.

When United Parcel Service first came to Sikeston in February of 1965 it employed five men. Due to growth, the firm expects to add another employe this year, bringing the total to 13.

Today In U. S. History

Today is Friday, March 4, the 63rd day of 1966. There are 302 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1789, the first federal Congress under the present Constitution met in New York in the hall which stood at the corner of Broad and Wall streets in New York.

On this date

In 1681, William Penn received a grant for lands lying north of Maryland west of the Delaware River which became the State of Pennsylvania.

In 1791, Vermont, the 14th state, entered the union.

In 1933, Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaugurated as president.

In 1943, American forces defeated the Japanese in the Battle of the Bismarck Sea.

In 1908, a school fire in Cleveland, Ohio, claimed the lives of 172 children and teachers.

Ten years ago—Pope Pius XII warned all nations against the lure of what he called insidious peace overtures by the Communist Congress in Moscow.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy announced he had named his brother-in-law, Sargent Shriver, as Peace Corps director.

One year ago — Nearly 2,000 students, mostly Asians, attacked the U.S. Embassy in Moscow in protest against American Viet Nam policy.

Parcel Service In City Grows

ST. LOUIS -- The commercial and residential expansion of Sikeston has experienced in the past year has resulted in growth within United Parcel Service.

"Our development during the past year has had to be rapid to keep pace with the increased needs of new residents and growing businesses," states Robert Marquart, manager of the delivery company's Sikeston operations.

The firm serves a broad area of Missouri from its Sikeston building. Operating out of its new 4,000 square foot facility on East Malone Street, UPS provides a small parcel pick-up and delivery service. It links Missouri firms to their customers and suppliers in all or parts of 14 midwestern states. In this service, packages up to 50 pounds in weight are handled.

In addition to Marquart, other employes are Sam Baker, Frank Bowman, Bob Britton, Gary Davis, Don Latham, Ron Newton, Bob Perry, John Robbins, Tom Roberts, Steve Kappler, and Dennis Johnson.

When United Parcel Service first came to Sikeston in February of 1965 it employed five men. Due to growth, the firm expects to add another employe this year, bringing the total to 13.

A TREASURE OF FOOD

This aging Vietnamese refugee, driven from his village, finds aid, comfort and security along with food at a refugee shelter maintained by the BISHOPS' OVERSEAS RELIEF FUND agency, Catholic Relief Services. Wherever there is hunger, poverty and disease, Catholic Relief Services is providing aid — operating in 80 countries throughout the world, benefiting an estimated 40 million needy persons, entirely without regard to race, religion, politics or color. You can continue this worldwide work of mercy by sending a contribution to the Catholic Bishop's Overseas Relief Fund, Empire State Bldg., New York, N. Y. 10001. (Or the nearest Catholic church.) This year's appeal is being conducted March 13 – March 20.

Associated Press News Reaches 900 Million

NEW YORK AP -- Associated Press news reaches more than 900 million people daily, Wes Gallagher, general manager, said today.

In his annual report to Associated Press members, Gallagher pointed out that even with three million words moving on Associated Press wires every 24 hours it is difficult to cope with the ever increasing flood of news.

"As the world grows more complex and more sophisticated it develops more problems and more news," Gallagher said.

"This explosion of news places the editor in the same position as the college president who must try to compress and design teaching to produce not only the specialist but the well rounded student as well."

Coverage of the world's news is no easy task, said Gallagher, who noted that AP newsmen undergo physical dangers regularly. Two Associated Press photographers lost their lives this past year in Viet Nam.

Other aspects of the general manager's report include: What the AP is doing to step up its coverage of the expanding war in Viet Nam, how AP photographers are beating the problem of cliche pictures, and the technological advances around the world that are speeding news and pictures to more than 900 million people.

Gallagher outlined these actions taken by The AP to meet the challenge of the news explosion:

"A task force of specialists was set up to report, edit and photograph racial developments. These staff men, well-backgrounded in their field, will go into any area where their experience will be helpful for better understanding of the news.

"Another task force of writers was named as a mobile emergency force to be assigned to enterprise projects connected with the spot news.

"Assignment of specialists. The necessity for translating jargon and technical detail into meaningful language for the layman increases. And to the list of science, aerospace, education, religion and other standard areas, we have added in the past year intensified coverage of consumer interests.

"New fields of reporting have been entered ranging from explaining how big government works in a democracy to taking a low-brow look at high-brow society from Cannes to Palm Beach."

Among the technical advances:

Creation of a new communications department under Asst. General Manager Dan De Luce as a planning instrument to explore the potentials in the satellite age and to apply new communications developments as rapidly as possible to the worldwide system of the AP.

Automatic Wirephoto, a fully automatic photo process, was introudced and more than 150 members in the United States, Canada and Europe signed up for it.

A 24-hour leased circuit connecting the cable desk in New York with The AP bureau in Saigon vastly improved communications to and from Viet Nam.

A new technical center, staffed by Associated Press engineering and maintenance specialists, was created in St. Louis, Mo., to work with staff technicians in the field and with newspaper production executives.

The two AP photographers killed in Viet Nam were Bernard J. Kolenberg, on leave from the Albany N. Y., Times-Union, and Huyn Thanh My, a Vietnamese nation who had previously been wounded.

"Their deaths brought to nine the number of Associated Press men killed since the Spanish Civil War. Other correspondents have been killed in the Viet Nam conflict, and other Associated Press men have been wounded there," Gallagher said.

As American forces in Viet Nam were built up, so was the staff of The AP assigned to cover the war. By the end of the year it had grown to 30 newsmen, divided equally between nationals of Viet Nam and Associated Press men assigned from the United States and abroad.

In both news and photo departments, Gallagher said The Associated Press "now has outstanding young men with parallel authority but quite different responsibilities; to direct the day-to-day spot, developing report; to concentrate on enterprise and unusual material. During 1965 the newsphoto staff was reorganized along these lines with Patrick J. McDonald named newsphoto executive and Harold G. Buell appointed director of photography.

"Efforts to get away from routine photo copy also included engaging an outside consultant to point up to Associated Press photographers the ways of avoiding stereotyped pictures in stereotyped situations," he said, "and use of second or third photographers in major news situations assigned specifically to get only the noncliche picture."

Gallagher said The AP had gained 28 newspaper members during 1965 and the Wirephoto network had gained 31 more subscribers. Gains in newspaper membership were the greatest for any year since the end of World War II. The number of new subscribers to Wirephoto represented the largest increase in eight years.

Gallagher said The AP had 2,780 broadcasters as members at the end of 1965, a high and a net increase of 57 stations over 1964.

Last year three AP Newsfeatures special projects offered to readers through member newspapers brought sales of more than 145,000 copies.

In the book field, nearly 100,000 copies of the first AP news annual, "The World in 1964," were distributed through AP member newspapers to their readers. Many members also provided copies for schools and libraries.

Gallagher said a new version, "The World in 1965," is being offered to the public through 450 member newspapers in 1966.

Dizzy Time for U.S. Foreign Policy

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The past year, particularly the past two months, has been as dizzy and confused a time in American foreign affairs as any since the isolationism of the 1930s left the United States docile, unarmed and ill-prepared for the war that came.

Now the divided opinion on the Vietnamese war may well make the North Vietnamese Communists and the Viet Cong believe the American will to fight is splintered and that by continuing the war they may win what they want.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Connecticut Democrat, calls the criticism of the Vietnamese war "the new isolationism." But the criticism is not so clear as that. There is a general unhappiness among the critics but no unity on a solution.

Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat, has denounced President Johnson's Viet Nam policy as "immoral and godless." He said Johnson has no constitutional right to send troops into it without a declaration of war. But there is not even a little sign Congress intends to declare war.

Morse called for arbitration of the war by the United Nations. Johnson made a bid to the United Nations for a negotiated settlement. But the U.N. Security Council shows little stomach for getting involved.

Last spring Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, Johnson's constant war critic, and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called for a halt to the bombing of North Viet Nam as a way to induce the Communihts into a negotiated settlement.

Starting late in December, and for 37 days, Johnson halted the bombings, sent peace emissaries around the world. The North Vietnamese ignored him and Johnson ordered the bombing resumed Jan. 31.

Later Fulbright called for a negotiated settlement with major concessions by both sides, and this week he proposed a settlement by agreement with Red China for neutralization of all Southeast Asia.

But the United States has no regular diplomatic relations with the Chinese, has kept them out of the United Nations. And it is hard to see how China, even if it agreed not to invade its neighbors, could be kept from subverting them, which would have the same effect as invasion.

Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, retired, told Fulbright's committee a large-scale increase of American troops in Viet Nam would involve the risk of war with Red China. Wednesday Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced American combat strength in Viet Nam would be boosted from 215,000 to 235,000 men.

Yet, Gavin insisted American troops should stay in Viet Nam but at the same time said this country should not escalate the war.

And George F. Kennan, one-time head of the State Department's policy planning staff, also had some advice for Fulbright's group: This country should decide what could be securely held in Viet Nam and then dig in and wait for a political solution. But even while he was saying it the Viet Cong held about 75 per cent of South Viet Nam.

Johnson sensitive to criticism and public opinion and anxious to satisfy as many Americans as possible, has been talking of waging a very restrained kind of war, which may or may not be evidence the critics have tied his hands a bit.

BAD TOLZ, GERMANY (AHTNC) -- Sgt. Eddie L. Kellum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kellum, Route 1, Box 38-A, Oran, Mo., was graduated Feb. 25 from the Seventh U.S. Army Noncommissioned Officer Academy in Bad Tolz, Germany.

Sergeant Kellum received four weeks of training in leadership responsibilities, exercise of command, map reading and military teaching methods.

Assigned to Troop F of the 3d Armored Cavalry Regiment's 2d Reconnaissance Squadron near Kaiserslautern, Germany, the sergeant entered the Army in July 1963 and arrived overseas in January 1964.

He is a 1963 graduate of Oran High School.

An ad executive was telling about the trouble he has keeping a secretary. "The last one left," he said, "because we had so many coffee breaks she couldn't sleep nights."

Highway 25 Cause Draws Cash

MALDEN -- Missourians aren't the only ones interested in an improved Highway 25. Joe Brasher, president of the newly formed Highway 25 Association says that each week he receives memberships from out of state residents who are interested in supporting the drive for a new Highway 25.

Last week he received memberships from E. S. VanCleve of Indianola, Miss., and from Lloyd A. Craig of Michigan City, Ind. Both men have relatives in Malden and are well acquainted with the condition of Highway 25.

Brasher said that the Highway 25 Association membership drive is still in progress and all interested persons are urged to send in their dollars to become a member.

DisasterWarnings Will Cut Deaths

WASHINGTON AP -- The Commerce Department said Wednesday its proposed national disaster warning system is expected to reduce by half the number of deaths and by more than $100 million the annual economic loss caused by natural disasters.

"It is taking cover that so markedly improves one's chances of surviving tornadoes, hurricanes, blizzards or most other severe natural disasters," said Dr. J. Herbert Holloman, assistant secretary of commerce for science and technology.

Congress has been asked to appropriate $7 million this year to begin setting up the warning plan which was devised following last year's Palm Sunday tornados in the Midwest.

Natural disasters claim between 500 and 600 lives annually and cause economic losses estimated at between $11 billion and $15 billion a year, the department reported.

The plan ultimately will provide round - the - clock weather service to all 2,900 communities in the nation which have a daily newspaper or radio or television station.

First year efforts, the department said, will be directed mainly at improving radar and teletypewriter warning devices in areas highly susceptible to tornados.

If Congress approves the money, radar installations will be installed at Springfield, Mo.; Grand Island, Neb.; San Antonio and Midland, Tex.; Garden City, Kan.; Nashville and Bristol, Tenn.; and Alma, Ga.

Teletypewriter networks would be established in Alabama, Georgia, Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, and Wisconsin.

Armed Forces

GRAFENWOHR, GERMANY (AHTNC) -- Army Specialist Four Larry L. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Graham, 311 N. Heggie, Charleston, Mo., is participating in the 24th Infantry Division's annual tank gunnery program here which ends March 13.

During the program's two phases, Specialist Graham, a driver with Company B, 1st Battalion of the division's 70th Armor, will first undergo pre-gunnery training which includes bore sighting, zeroing all tank weapons and range finder calibration.

The 19-year-old soldier will then move to the range to be graded on day and night firing in various combat operations.

Specialist Graham entered the Army in July 1964 and was last stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

He attended Charleston High School.

"As the world grows more complex and more sophisticated it develops more problems and more news," Gallagher said.

"This explosion of news places the editor in the same position as the college president who must try to compress and design teaching to produce not only the specialist but the well rounded student as well."

Coverage of the world's news is no easy task, said Gallagher, who noted that AP newsmen undergo physical dangers regularly. Two Associated Press photographers lost their lives this past year in Viet Nam.

Other aspects of the general manager's report include: What the AP is doing to step up its coverage of the expanding war in Viet Nam, how AP photographers are beating the problem of cliche pictures, and the technological advances around the world that are speeding news and pictures to more than 900 million people.

Gallagher outlined these actions taken by The AP to meet the challenge of the news explosion:

"A task force of specialists was set up to report, edit and photograph racial developments. These staff men, well-backgrounded in their field, will go into any area where their experience will be helpful for better understanding of the news.

"Another task force of writers was named as a mobile emergency force to be assigned to enterprise projects connected with the spot news.

"Assignment of specialists. The necessity for translating jargon and technical detail into meaningful language for the layman increases. And to the list of science, aerospace, education, religion and other standard areas, we have added in the past year intensified coverage of consumer interests.

"New fields of reporting have been entered ranging from explaining how big government works in a democracy to taking a low-brow look at high-brow society from Cannes to Palm Beach."

Among the technical advances:

Creation of a new communications department under Asst. General Manager Dan De Luce as a planning instrument to explore the potentials in the satellite age and to apply new communications developments as rapidly as possible to the world-wide system of the AP.

Automatic Wirephoto, a fully automatic photo process, was introudced and more than 150 members in the United States, Canada and Europe signed up for it.

A 24-hour leased circuit connecting the cable desk in New York with The AP bureau in Saigon vastly improved communications to and from Viet Nam.

A new technical center, staffed by Associated Press engineering and maintenance specialists, was created in St. Louis, Mo., to work with staff technicians in the field and with newspaper production executives.

The two AP photographers killed in Viet Nam were Bernard J. Kolenberg, on leave from the Albany N. Y., Times-Union, and Huyn Thanh My, a Vietnamese nation who had previously been wounded.

"Their deaths brought to nine the number of Associated Press men killed since the Spanish Civil War. Other correspondents have been killed in the Viet Nam conflict, and other Associated Press men have been wounded there," Gallagher said.

As American forces in Viet Nam were built up, so was the staff of The AP assigned to cover the war. By the end of the year it had grown to 30 newsmen, divided equally between nationals of Viet Nam and Associated Press men assigned from the United States and abroad.

In both news and photo departments, Gallagher said The Associated Press "now has outstanding young men with parallel authority but quite different responsibilities: to direct the day-to-day spot, developing report; to concentrate on enterprise and unusual material. During 1965 the newsphoto staff was reorganized along these lines with Patrick J. McDonald named newsphoto executive and Harold G. Buell appointed director of photography.

"Efforts to get away from routine photo copy also included engaging an outside consultant to point up to Associated Press photographers the ways of avoiding stereotyped pictures in stereotyped situations," he said, "and use of second or third photographers in major news situations assigned specifically to get only the noncliche picture."

Gallagher said The AP had gained 28 newspaper members during 1965 and the Wirephoto network had gained 31 more subscribers. Gains in newspaper membership were the greatest for any year since the end of World War II. The number of new subscribers to Wirephoto represented the largest increase in eight years.

Gallagher said The AP had 2,780 broadcasters as members at the end of 1965, a high and a net increase of 57 stations over 1964.

Last year three AP Newsfeatures special projects offered to readers through member newspapers brought sales of more than 145,000 copies.

In the book field, nearly 100,000 copies of the first AP news annual, "The World in 1964," were distributed through AP member newspapers to their readers. Many members also provided copies for schools and libraries.

Gallagher said a new version, "The World in 1965," is being offered to the public through 450 member newspapers in 1966.

Disaster Warnings Will Cut Deaths

WASHINGTON AP -- The Commerce Department said Wednesday its proposed national disaster warning system is expected to reduce by half the number of deaths and by more than $100 million the annual economic loss caused by natural disasters.

"It is taking cover that so markedly improves one's chances of surviving tornadoes, hurricanes, blizzards or most other severe natural disasters," said Dr. J. Herbert Holloman, assistant secretary of commerce for science and technology.

Congress has been asked to appropriate $7 million this year to begin setting up the warning plan which was devised following last year's Palm Sunday tornados in the Midwest.

Natural disasters claim between 500 and 600 lives annually and cause economic losses estimated at between $11 billion and $15 billion a year, the department reported.

The plan ultimately will provide round - the - clock weather service to all 2,900 communities in the nation which have a daily newspaper or radio or television station.

First year efforts, the department said, will be directed mainly at improving radar and teletypewriter warning devices in areas highly susceptible to tornados.

If Congress approves the money, radar installations will be installed at Springfield, Mo.; Grand Island, Neb.; San Antonio and Midland, Tex.; Garden City, Kan.; Nashville and Bristol, Tenn.; and Alma, Ga.

Teletypewriter networks would be established in Alabama, Georgia, Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, and Wisconsin.

GRAFENWOHR, GERMANY (AHTNC) -- Army Specialist Four Larry L. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Graham, 311 N. Heggie, Charleston, Mo., is participating in the 24th Infantry Division's annual tank gunnery program here which ends March 13.

During the program's two phases, Specialist Graham, a driver with Company B, 1st Battalion of the division's 70th Armor, will first undergo pre-gunnery training which includes bore sighting, zeroing all tank weapons and range finder calibration.

The 19-year-old soldier will then move to the range to be graded on day and night firing in various combat operations.

Specialist Graham entered the Army in July 1964 and was last stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

He attended Charleston High School.

Dizzy Time for U.S. Foreign Policy

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The past year, particularly the past two months, has been as dizzy and confused a time in American foreign affairs as any since the isolationism of the 1930s left the United States docile, unarmed and ill-prepared for the war that came.

Now the divided opinion on the Vietnamese war may well make the North Vietnamese Communists and the Viet Cong believe the American will to fight is splintered and that by continuing the war they may win what they want.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Connecticut Democrat, calls the criticism of the Vietnamese war "the new isolationism." But the criticism is not so clear as that. There is a general unhappiness among the critics but no unity on a solution.

Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat, has denounced President Johnson's Viet Nam policy as "immoral and godless." He said Johnson has no constitutional right to send troops into it without a declaration of war. But there is not even a little sign Congress intends to declare war.

Morse called for arbitration of the war by the United Nations. Johnson made a bid to the United Nations for a negotiated settlement. But the U.N. Security Council shows little stomach for getting involved.

Last spring Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, Johnson's constant war critic, and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called for a halt to the bombing of North Viet Nam as a way to induce the Communihts into a negotiated settlement.

Starting late in December, and for 37 days, Johnson halted the bombings, sent peace emissaries around the world. The North Vietnamese ignored him and Johnson ordered the bombing resumed Jan. 31.

Later Fulbright called for a negotiated settlement with major concessions by both sides, and this week he proposed a settlement by agreement with Red China for neutralization of all Southeast Asia.

But the United States has no regular diplomatic relations with the Chinese, has kept them out of the United Nations. And it is hard to see how China, even if it agreed not to invade its neighbors, could be kept from subverting them, which would have the same effect as invasion.

Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, retired, told Fulbright's committee a large-scale increase of American troops in Viet Nam would involve the risk of war with Red China. Wednesday Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced American combat strength in Viet Nam would be boosted from 215,000 to 235,000 men.

Yet, Gavin insisted American troops should stay in Viet Nam but at the same time said this country should not escalate the war.

And George F. Kennan, one-time head of the State Department's policy planning staff, also had some advice for Fulbright's group: This country should decide what could be securely held in Viet Nam and then dig in and wait for a political solution. But even while he was saying it the Viet Cong held about 75 per cent of South Viet Nam.

Johnson sensitive to criticism and public opinion and anxious to satisfy as many Americans as possible, has been talking of waging a very restrained kind of war, which may or may not be evidence the critics have tied his hands a bit.

BAD TOLZ, GERMANY (AHTNC) -- Sgt. Eddie L. Kellum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kellum, Route 1, Box 38-A, Oran, Mo., was graduated Feb. 25 from the Seventh U.S. Army Noncommissioned Officer Academy in Bad Tolz, Germany.

Sergeant Kellum received four weeks of training in leadership responsibilities, exercise of command, map reading and military teaching methods.

Assigned to Troop F of the 3d Armored Cavalry Regiment's 2d Reconnaissance Squadron near Kaiserslautern, Germany, the sergeant entered the Army in July 1963 and arrived overseas in January 1964.

He is a 1963 graduate of Oran High School.

An ad executive was telling about the trouble he has keeping a secretary. "The last one left," he said, "because we had so many coffee breaks she couldn't sleep nights."

Highway 25 Cause Draws Cash

MALDEN -- Missourians aren't the only ones interested in an improved Highway 25. Joe Brasher, president of the newly formed Highway 25 Association says that each week he receives memberships from out of state residents who are interested in supporting the drive for a new Highway 25.

Last week he received memberships from E. S. VanCleve of Indianola, Miss., and from Lloyd A. Craig of Michigan City, Ind. Both men have relatives in Malden and are well acquainted with the condition of Highway 25.

Brasher said that the Highway 25 Association membership drive is still in progress and all interested persons are urged to send in their dollars to become a member.
